Senate Upholds Second Housing Bill Veto By Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, cracking the economy whip over Congress anew, Friday vetoed a second billion dollar housing bill. He promptly was upheld by the Senate by a five-vote margin.

Firing off his 145th veto, the President rejected as unsound and inflationary a $1,050,000,000 housing measure which he found little different from the first version he vetoed July 7. He called on Congress to pass a "sound" bill before adjourning.

Shortly afterward, the Senate preserved the President's perfect veto record despite a warning by Chairman John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) of the Senate Housing Subcommittee that he opposed any further efforts to pass housing legislation this year.

SOUTH BACKS IKE

The roll call vote was 58-36 to override, five votes short of the required two - thirds majority. Eight Democrats, mostly southerners, voted with 27 Republicans, to back the President's hand. Six Republicans voted with 52 Democrats to override.

Despite Sparkman's coolness toward any more housing bills, a move was launched by House Democrats for quick passage of a third measure acceptable to the President. One key lawmaker said Congress could not adjourn without passing a bill.

In Senate debate, Democrats angrily accused the President of running wild with his veto power in recent weeks. They were still smarting from their failure earlier this week to override his veto of a big public works money bill.

The House Appropriations Committee struck back at Eisenhower in this area Friday by approving a second public works bill containing all the 67 projects that prompted him to veto the first version. Here again the issue, as the President saw it, was economy in government.

In vetoing the second housing bill, the President found "highly objectionable" provisions which would have provided direct loans to colleges for building classrooms and other facilities, and for direct loans for housing for the elderly.

He said the first provision would

House Sends Labor Curbs Bill To Ike

Final Congress Approval Given By 352-52 Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House ended a bitter two-year struggle Friday by giving overwhelming final congressional approval to a compromise union reform bill designed to stamp out labor racketeering.

The lop - sided 352-52 roll-call vote sent the bill to President Eisenhower, who took a personal hand in the fight for passage. His signature was assured since the bill was in line with his own proposals for ending abuses aired by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The final bill, hammered out by a joint conference committee after the House and Senate passed conflicting versions, provided for the most drastic overhaul of federal labor law since Congress passed the basic Taft-Hartley Law in 1947.

AIMED AT HOFFA

The measure, aimed chiefly at the giant Teamster union and bitterly opposed by organized labor, was designed primarily to enforce democratic practices and end racketeering in labor unions.

It also would impose stiff new curbs on secondary boycotts and organizational picketing and allow the states to assume jurisdiction over the so-called "no man's land" of labor - management disputes. The President made an unusual television speech to demand that these loop-holes be closed.

The Senate passed the compromise bill by a 95-2 vote Thursday night. House approval came swiftly after Democrats and Republicans joined in endorsing the measure and praising the conference committee for drafting it.

But a few die-hard union supporters like Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.) termed the compromise

Storm, Heavy Rains Travel Through Area

Rain, thunder, lightning and gusty winds hopped, skipped and jumped around north Louisiana yesterday afternoon, pelting some areas with heavy downpours and giving a light sprinkle to others.

In Monroe, threatening black clouds unleashed a torrent of rain at 2:40 p.m. By 4 p.m., the rain had stopped, but 2.60 inches had fallen according to the FAA at Selman field.

No serious traffic accidents occurred during the storm, but scattered power failures were reported to the Utilities Commission.

NO FLOODING

Electricity went off at 3 p.m. in the 3900 block of Lee Avenue, but service was restored rapidly.

Wind preceding the deluge blew down a tree limb onto a power line in the 100 block of Roselawn at 2:20 p.m. Crewmen removed it soon afterwards.

The Monroe fire department was summoned to Bell and Grammont Streets at 2:27 p.m., where a hot wire was down. No damage occurred.

Wires caught on fire in a tree in the 4500 block of DeSiard Road at 4 p.m. Power service was suspended for 45 minutes. A transformer failed at 4:40 p.m. in the 600 block of McGuire. Power was back on by 7 p.m.

Senate Rejects Food Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday night beat down 46-41 an effort to tack an experimental domestic food stamp plan onto a 4½-billion-dollar three-year extension of sales of U.S. farm surpluses overseas for foreign currencies.

With this vote, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D — Tex) abandoned efforts to complete action on the bill during the night and the Senate quit until 10 a.m. Saturday.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and a group of senators from both parties sponsored the pilot food stamp proposal which had a 20-million-dollar price tag limit on it.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A Detroit-area couple told police here Friday they were held prisoner in their home by a man who tortured them. Then, they said, they were taken on a rambling ride through southern Oakland County by their assailant on the pretense he was taking them to a hospital.

George Barnes, 48, of Dearborn Township, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital suffering a spear gun wound in his chest. His wife, Eva, 45, told attendants an ammonia cleaner had been thrown in her face.

Held for investigation was Harold G. Bloom, 30, of Detroit, a coworker with Mrs. Barnes at the Gar Wood plant in Dearborn.

Bloom told police he accidentally shot Barnes while showing him a spear gun and then he became flustered and threw a bottle of ammonia in Mrs. Barnes' face to quiet her when she became hysterical.

The couple said Bloom tied them to bed posts and later in the day forced them to accompany him in their car. Barnes shouted for help when Bloom stopped for gasoline at a suburban Pontiac service station.

Hospital attendants said the couple was in satisfactory condition. Mrs. Barnes suffered minor facial burns. Her sight was not impaired.

Sheriff's deputies who took Bloom to the Oakland County prosecuting attorney's office where he made an oral statement, said Bloom was carrying a .22-caliber pistol. They said he attempted to slash his wrists with a small jacknife while they were bringing him downtown.

Long's Race In Doubt As Demos Meet

Vital Decision On Candidacy Is Due Saturday

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Democratic State Central Committee Saturday at 10 a.m. goes into a suspense loaded session to call a Dec. 5 primary to select party nominees for governor and other state offices.

The big unknown quantity in the meeting is Gov. Earl K. Long and an apparently strong move within the committee to stop him from seeking another immediate term.

Long believed until a late hour that he still would be able to carry out his plan to get around a state constitutional tenet that a governor may not return for an immediate term.

NOT WORRIED

"In my opinion, from what I've heard," Long said, "The committee will undoubtedly permit me to run, and they may restrict that I'll have to qualify within 10 days after they meet. This part won't worry me in the least."

By "qualify" Long apparently meant he must resign. The assumption was that he would no longer be governor, a successor would be in his place, and any new term he won would not immediately follow the one he is serving.

The state constitution says that, "Nor shall any person elected governor be eligible as his own immediate successor." Committee rules also specify that a candidate must possess constitutional qualifications for the office he seeks at the time he files.

The move to keep Long from running has both political and legal facets. A group led by committeeman N. B. Carstarphen of Shreveport has drawn up a reso-

Youths Beat, Rob Elderly Man In N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three teen-aged boys beat and robbed a 74-year-old man sleeping on the beach at Coney Island Friday in another vicious outbreak of juvenile violence.

The man was so terrified when brought into the police station to confront the toughs that he refused to give his address for fear of reprisals.

One of the boys, an ex-convict at 16, smirked and patted his pompadoured hair as he was identified as the one who had punched the man in the face while the others held him.

The attack was the latest in a swelling tide of juvenile crime that led Mayor Robert F. Wagner Thursday to order more than 1:-000 men added to the police force. Wagner met Friday afternoon with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to coordinate plans in the crime fight.

The appearance of Hector Bouillerce, 17, before Judge Gerald P. Culkin in General Sessions Court, meanwhile, was in sharp contrast to the usual demeanor of teen-aged gang members.

Polite, soft-spoken and wearing a clean, white shirt, Bouillerce was held in $50,000 bail—for his own protection as a material witness in last Sunday's gang slay-

Lightning Hits Close 4 Times

ROBINSON, N.D. (AP)—Lightning may not strike the same place twice, but it can come awfully close.

A bolt of lightning struck a haystack about 3:30 p.m. Thursday on the Gilbert Wick Jr. farm. While the family was fighting the blaze, a second bolt hit the house, destroying the telephone box.

While the Wicks inspected the damage, a third bolt of lightning struck near the burning haystack and started a grass fire. Neighbors fought the blaze about two hours.

At 5:15 p.m. the fourth and final bolt split a tree near the house, jumped into the Wick home and burned out an electric stove.

Ike, Soviet Visits Given NATO Okay

PARIS (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Friday won formal approval of NATO allies for President Eisenhower's forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev with the understanding the two men would discuss, but not negotiate East-West issues.

Herter then rushed through another hurried series of "cold war" talks rounding out Eisenhower's 10-day European peace mission before flying home Friday night.

TALKS HALF HOUR

He spoke for 30 minutes, stressing that the invitation to Khrushchev reflected Eisenhower's desire to break the ice-jam of stalled East-West negotiations. He assured the council several times that there was no question of the United States "going it alone" of attempting to negotiate behind the backs of its NATO Allies.

Senate To Vote On Bill Monday To Hike Gas Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Senate committees gave rush approval Friday to a House-passed bill calling for a penny a gallon increase in federal gasoline taxes to prevent the superhighway program from bogging down. A final Senate vote was scheduled for Monday.

Senate passage would send the bill to President Eisenhower who was expected to sign it even though it did not meet with his full approval. The legislation is needed to continue construction of the 41,000-mile road network during the current fiscal year.

The Senate Finance and Public Works Committees split up jurisdiction over the bill, passed by the House only Thursday. The Finance Committee approved the gas tax hike and the public works group authorized two billion dollars for the program in fiscal 1960.

Falling Painter Lands In Auto

NEW YORK (AP) — A painter fell five stories from a scaffold in the financial district Friday. He landed in a moving car with two Catholic priests and a 60-year-old woman as hundreds of lunch-hour strollers watched.

The painter, Jack Hubner, 25, of Bayonne, N.J., was taken to Beekman-Downtown Hospital in critical condition.

The driver of the car, the Rev. Daniel Sullivan, assistant pastor of St. Theresa's church, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., escaped injury. Only minor cuts were suffered by his passengers, the Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan, a visitor from Australia, and Father O'Sullivan's aunt, Kate O'Leary of the Bronx.

EX-CONVICT QUIZZED

Missing Trooper Is Feared Slain

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State policemen searched grimly Friday for a missing fellow trooper feared slain after questioning an ex-convict about a $75 robbery.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, personally directing the hunt for Trooper Albert Souden, 29, said a chance that Souden still is alive is very slight.

Alvin W. Knight, 48-year-old ex-convict and a onetime mental patient, was found in a woodland cabin with the missing trooper's gun in his belt. He denied any knowledge of the trooper's whereabouts and said he bought the policeman's service pistol from a hitchhiker for $10.

FIND GUN, SHOVEL

Troopers crashed into Knight's cabin in northern Michigan Friday and seized him as he lay in bed. Knight offered no resistance although officers found another gun in the cabin in addition to Souden's. They also found a shovel they said was "freshly used."

The hunt for Souden was concentrated in Livingston County about 160 miles from the cottage where Knight was seized. The state police car driven by Souden Thursday was found abandoned there on a river bank near Knight's home.

No signs of blood or a struggle were found in the car. Souden's billfold and personal papers were found shortly afterward in a water hole about a quarter mile from the abandoned auto.

Souden last was seen in the car at Knight's house in Howell where he had gone from the Brighton state police post to question

Long Agrees U.S. Is Still Probing Him

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long said Friday Internal Revenue Service agents still are looking into his income and "they'll never quit."

Long was questioned about a Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans statement that Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La) erred in saying the Long income tax probe was halted.

"They haven't halted anything" Long said, just awakened from an afternoon nap, "except they were not going to harrass me or any of my relatives unless they had to until after the election."

Long said the agents started investigating him in 1939, "and they never let up."

Long said agents "bothered me twice during the fiscal session of the Legislature but haven't since."

"They don't have one lead that's worth a damn," Long added. "They are just on a fishing expedition and they are also working on several Democratic governors and not one Republican."

"They'll find less this time than they did before," Long said.

Ellender said earlier this week that he asked IRS officials to stop "harassing" Gov. Long and members of his family. Ellender said at the time that it appeared to him that whenever Long ran for public office his income came under the scrutiny of the Internal

School Is Facing $800,000 Decision

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Pulaski County—Little Rock—Rural School Board is juggling an integration bombshell.

Between now and Tuesday's school opening the board, which administers schools in the Little Rock area, must decide whether to integrate voluntarily a school serving Little Rock Air Force Base personnel or lose up to $800,000 in federal revenue.

Board officials declined comment on the situation.

If the board refuses to integrate the 10 or 12 children of Negro Airmen with 700 children of white airmen it could face condemnation of the school by the Air Force which would then take it over; leading the school to the Air Force or a federal court suit seeking an integration order.

It is about 12 miles from Little Rock, where integration of high schools in 1957 touched off a three-year struggle.

Integration of the Air Force school would be the first breakthrough in the county system.

The school was built with federal funds but stands on county-owned land. It is administered by the county board but was designed specifically for Air Force children.

If the board refuses to integrate the school it could lose $800,000 used by other rural schools. This is because at least 750 of the 1,400 base children must attend county-operated schools in order

Police said the child ran out of the driveway at his home toward his grandparents' home across the road. No charges were filed against the driver.

Doctors cut open the boy's chest and massaged his heart for more than an hour in an attempt to save his life.

Long's Race In Doubt As Demos Meet

Vital Decision On Candidacy Is Due Saturday

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The Democratic State Central Committee Saturday at 10 a.m. goes into a suspense loaded session to call a Dec. 5 primary to select party nominees for governor and other state offices.

The big unknown quantity in the meeting is Gov. Earl K. Long and an apparently strong move within the committee to stop him from seeking another immediate term.

Long believed until a late hour that he still would be able to carry out his plan to get around a state constitutional tenet that a governor may not return for an immediate term.

NOT WORRIED

"In my opinion, from what I've heard," Long said. "The committee will undoubtedly permit me to run, and they may restrict that I'll have to qualify within 10 days after they meet. This part won't worry me in the least."

By "qualify" Long apparently meant he must resign. The assumption was that he would no longer be governor, a successor would be in his place, and any new term he won would not immediately follow the one he is serving.

The state constitution says that, "Nor shall any person elected governor be eligible as his own immediate successor." Committee rules also specify that a candidate must possess constitutional qualifications for the office he seeks at the time he files.

The move to keep Long from running has both political and legal facets. A group led by committeeman N. B. Carstarphen of Shreveport has drawn up a reso-

Youths Beat Rob Elderly Man In N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three teen-aged boys beat and robbed a 74-year-old man sleeping on the beach at Coney Island Friday in another vicious outbreak of juvenile violence.

The man was so terrified when brought into the police station to confront the toughs that he refused to give his address for fear of reprisals.

One of the boys, an ex-convict at 16, smirked and patted his pompadoured hair as he was identified as the one who had punched the man in the face while the others held him.

The attack was the latest in a swelling tide of juvenile crime that led Mayor Robert F. Wagner Thursday to order more than 1;-000 men added to the police force. Wagner met Friday afternoon with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to coordinate plans in the crime fight.

The appearance of Hector Bouilkerce, 17, before Judge Gerald P. Culkin in General Sessions Court, meanwhile, was in sharp contrast to the usual demeanor of teen-aged gang members.

Polite, soft-spoken and wearing a clean, white shirt, Bouillerce was held in $50,000 bail—for his own protection as a material witness in last Sunday's gang slay-

Lightning Hits Close 4 Times

ROBINSON, N.D. (AP)—Lightning may not strike the same place twice, but it can come awfully close.

A bolt of lightning struck a haystack about 3:30 p.m. Thursday on the Gilbert Wick Jr. farm. While the family was fighting the blaze, a second bolt hit the house, destroying the telephone box.

While the Wicks inspected the damage, a third bolt of lightning struck near the burning haystack and started a grass fire. Neighbors fought the blaze about two hours.

At 5:15 p.m. the fourth and final bolt split a tree near the house, jumped into the Wick home and burned out an electric stove.

Ike, Soviet Visits Given NATO Okay

PARIS (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Friday won formal approval of NATO allies for President Eisenhower's forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev with the understanding the two men would discuss, but not negotiate East-West issues.

Herter then rushed through another hurried series of "cold war" talks rounding out Eisenhower's 10-day European peace mission before flying home Friday night.

TALKS HALF HOUR

He spoke for 30 minutes, stressing that the invitation to Khrushchev reflected Eisenhower's desire to break the ice-jam of stalled East-West negotiations. He assured the council several times that there was no question of the United States "going it alone" of attempting to negotiate behind the backs of its NATO Allies.

Senate To Vote On Bill Monday To Hike Gas Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Senate committees gave rush approval Friday to a House-passed bill calling for a penny a gallon increase in federal gasoline taxes to prevent the superhighway program from bogging down. A final Senate vote was scheduled for Monday.

Senate passage would send the bill to President Eisenhower who was expected to sign it even though it did not meet with his full approval. The legislation is needed to continue construction of the 41,000-mile road network during the current fiscal year.

The Senate Finance and Public Works Committees split up jurisdiction over the bill, passed by the House only Thursday. The Finance Committee approved the gas tax hike and the public works group authorized two billion dollars for the program in fiscal 1960.

Falling Painter Lands In Auto

NEW YORK (AP) — A painter fell five stories from a scaffold in the financial district Friday. He landed in a moving car with two Catholic priests and a 60-year-old woman as hundreds of lunch-hour strollers watched.

The painter, Jack Hubner, 25, of Bayonne, N.J., was taken to Beekman-Downtown Hospital in critical condition.

The driver of the car, the Rev. Daniel Sullivan, assistant pastor of St. Theresa's church, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., escaped injury. Only minor cuts were suffered by his passengers, the Rev. Timothy O'Sullivan, a visitor from Australia, and Father O'Sullivan's aunt, Kate O'Leary of the Bronx.

EX-CONVICT QUIZZED

Missing Trooper Is Feared Slain

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State policemen searched grimly Friday for a missing fellow trooper feared slain after questioning an ex-convict about a $75 robbery.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, personally directing the hunt for Trooper Albert Souden, 29, said a chance that Souden still is alive is very slight.

Alvin W. Knight, 48-year-old ex-convict and a onetime mental patient, was found in a woodland cabin with the missing trooper's gun in his belt. He denied any knowledge of the trooper's whereabouts and said he bought the policeman's service pistol from a hitchhiker for $10.

FIND GUN, SHOVEL

Troopers crashed into Knight's cabin in northern Michigan Friday and seized him as he lay in bed. Knight offered no resistance although officers found another gun in the cabin in addition to Souden's. They also found a shovel they said was "freshly used."

The hunt for Souden was concentrated in Livingston County about 160 miles from the cottage where Knight was seized. The state police car driven by Souden Thursday was found abandoned there on a river bank near Knight's home.

No signs of blood or a struggle were found in the car. Souden's billfold and personal papers were found shortly afterward in a water hole about a quarter mile from the abandoned auto.

Souden last was seen in the car at Knight's house in Howell where he had gone from the Brighton state police post to question

Long Agrees U.S. Is Still Probing Him

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long said Friday Internal Revenue Service agents still are looking into his income and "they'll never quit."

Long was questioned about a Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans statement that Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La) erred in saying the Long income tax probe was halted.

"They haven't halted anything" Long said, just awakened from an afternoon nap, "except they were not going to harrass me or any of my relatives unless they had to until after the election."

Long said the agents started investigating him in 1939, "and they never let up."

Long said agents "bothered me twice during the fiscal session of the Legislature but haven't since."

"They don't have one lead that's worth a damn," Long added. "They are just on a fishing expedition and they are also working on several Democratic governors and not one Republican."

"They'll find less this time than they did before," Long said.

Ellender said earlier this week that he asked IRS officials to stop "harassing" Gov. Long and members of his family. Ellender said at the time that it appeared to him that whenever Long ran for public office his income came under the scrutiny of the Internal

IN LITTLE ROCK AREA

School Is Facing $800,000 Decision

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Pulaski County—Little Rock—Rural School Board is juggling an integration bombshell.

Between now and Tuesday's school opening the board, which administers schools in the Little Rock area, must decide whether to integrate voluntarily a school serving Little Rock Air Force Base personnel or lose up to $800,000 in federal revenue.

Board officials declined comment on the situation.

If the board refuses to integrate the 10 or 12 children of Negro Airmen with 700 children of white airmen it could face condemnation of the school by the Air Force which would then take it over; leading the school to the Air Force or a federal court suit seeking an integration order.

It is about 12 miles from Little Rock, where integration of high schools in 1957 touched off a three-year struggle.

Integration of the Air Force school would be the first breakthrough in the county system.

The school was built with federal funds but stands on county-owned land. It is administered by the county board but was designed specifically for Air Force children.

If the board refuses to integrate the school it could lose $800,000 used by other rural schools. This is because at least 750 of the 1,400 base children must attend county-operated schools in order

Laotians Ask Troops Aid Against Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Friday night started setting up a U.N. Security Council session for Sunday or Monday on Lao's request for emergency aid against Communist aggression.

A U.N. Spokesman announced the action a bit over seven hours after Laos officially accused Communist North Viet Nam of aggression and asked for a U.N. force to stop it.

CONTACTS AIDE

He dealt with the 11-nation council through his American executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

The spokesman met correspondents shortly after 5 p.m. and told them: "The secretary general cabled from Rio before his departure instructing his executive assistant, Mr. Cordier, formally to approach the president of the Security Council, suggesting that the president consult with his colleagues on the council with a view to calling a meeting of the council Sunday or Monday."

The council president this month is Ambassador Egidio Ortona of Italy.

"Mr. Cordier talked with Ambassador Ortona a half hour ago on the telephone," the spokesman said, "and is sending him a letter confirming the conversation."

Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya submitted Laos' request to Hammarskjold through the Laotian delegation. He asked "the appropriate procedure against actions of the Ho Chi Minh regime, which is not a U.N. member.

Hammarskjold, visiting Brazil, arranged to fly back to New York overnight. He will arrive late Saturday, 24 hours earlier than the scheduled windup of his two-week South American tour. Meanwhile, he had the Laotian letter circulated to all 82 U.N. members.

Southeast Asia Envoys Huddle On Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats representing Southeast Asia Treaty Organization countries met at the State Department Friday night for a study of the Laos crisis.

The diplomats conferred with Acting Secretary of State Douglas Dillon for half an hour. Press officer Lincoln White described the meeting as a "general exchange of views of the situation."

It was understood there was no substantial discussion of intervention by SEATO itself.

The eight-member organization, which includes the United States, has a defense system for Southeast Asia.

Laos — while coming within SEATO's sphere of interest—is not a member of the organization and has made its appeal for troops to the United Nations.

Laos' move in the U.N. sent U.S. officials into huddles to say what further steps the United States might take.

White declined to say what position the United States would take at the U.N. Security Council meeting which was being arranged for Sunday or Monday to consider the Laotian request.

SEATO is composed of the United States, France, Britain,

No Contest Plea Entered By Man To Mail Fraud

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Clyde Belin, whose self-styled university at Chillicothe, Mo., ran into financial troubles, Friday pleaded nolo contendere—no contest to six counts of mail fraud.

The Phoenix, Ariz., man was accused in a federal indictment with inducing persons to enroll in the Belin Memorial University, misrepresenting courses and the school's financial condition to bond purchasers.

Belin established the school at the ontime Chillicothe Business College in 1956 but the institution closed in January 1958 after running into financial difficulities. In June of the same year its assets were sold for $120,000 at a federal bankruptcy sale.

The 100 students at the school when it closed, some from foreign nations, were transferred to other colleges.

Rushed to Conway Memorial Hospital was Hezikiah Baker, 86. He suffered a laceration of the head and leg injuries.

Driver of the auto, Eli Webb, 31, Negro, 3900 Barlow St., was quoted by police as saying Baker ran across the street from behind a passing car. Webb added he was unable to stop to avoid the accident.

Officers View Holiday With Caution Here

The three-day Labor Day weekend is being viewed with a cautious eye by authorities in the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana.

A 15-day dove season, which begins today and is expected to bring a record number of sportsmen to the outdoors by district biologist, coupled with rainy weather which began yesterday afternoon signaled the alert for possible violence in the fields and on the highways.

Several minor wrecks were reported in the Twin Cities area as the rains began, and firemen were called out on a standby basis when two "hot wires" were being repaired.

Although no extra men were being added for the holidays, both Monroe and West Monroe Police Departments can delve into their highly workable auxillary units if the need arises.

Mrs. Stevens was injured in an auto accident at South Second and Coleman Sts. in West Monroe.

Mrs. Stevens was rushed to St. Francis Hospital where it was found she sustained cuts and bruises. She was to remain overnight in the hospital for observation.

Mrs. Stevens' vehicle collided with a car driven by Donald I. Williams, 21, West Monroe. Both drivers were charged with reckless driving.

Another accident in West Monroe earlier in the day resulted in a reckless driving arrest. Miss Ruth Elizabeth Bradley, 18, 701 52nd St., was charged after the auto she was driving collied with a car driven by Billy E. Johnston, 25, 111 Filhiol, West Monroe.

Levee District Probe Is Asked Of Expenditures

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Francis Dugas of Lafourche Parish declared Friday that he had requested an investigation of expenditures by the Board of Commissioners of the Lafourche Basin Levee District.

Dugas told a New Orleans States-Item newsman that at his request J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of public funds, had sent a copy of a state audit to Dist. Atty. Aubert Talbot of Ascension Parish.

Dugas said he tried unsuccessfully in the 1957 Legislature for a crackdown on operations of the board in regard to bid operations.

The States-Item said examination of the records showed wasteful expenditures on conventions, meetings and luncheons.

Three members of the board were removed by Gov. Earl K. Long preceding release of the audit last month.

"I have asked Dist. Atty. Talbot to prosecute on information based in the audit," Dugas said Friday. "Particularly I have asked for prosecution on the sworn statement of Mr. (Emile A.) Landry that he was forced to pay back a portion of his salary to a member of the commission."

Landry had been appointed to a job to inspect levees at $10 a day.

CRAWFORD ROSE

East Carroll County Agent To Get Honor

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)— The National Association of County Agricultural Agents will honor East Carroll parish county agent Crawford Rose at its Sept. 6-10 Kansas City annual meeting.

He will receive the Distinguished Service Award, the highest the association can bestow on a member, it was announced yesterday by F. M. Roberts, chairman of the recognitions and awards committee of the Louisiana County Agents Association.

He pointed out that because of the agent's recent illness, actual presentation of the award will be made at a later date.

The Distinguished Service Award is given only to agents with long, outstanding service to the agricultural development of their parishes, continued Roberts. In nominating Rose for this honor the Louisiana County Agents Association pointed out that he has served East Carroll Parish for the past 29 years, and that he has led the farmers of his parish from man and mule power to complete mechanization.

He was instrumental in the development of supplemental cash crops to cotton in East Carroll. These include rice, soybeans, beef cattle, small grains, corn, and swine.

A current example of his leadership is the corn contest now being conducted in his parish. This contest was instigated to show that yields of 100-bushel or more of corn could be made on a commercial basis. Hundreds of dollars of prize money is awarded to the winning contestants by local business concerns.

Rose has taken the lead in encouraging his farmers to adopt complete mechanization practices, complete chemical weed control, and a complete cotton insect control program.

Livestock has become a major source of income to farmers of East Carroll under the leadership and sponsorship of County Agent Rose. He advised farmers on planning and improving pastures, and increasing not only the number but the quality of livestock.

Rose has made full use of local leaders and local people in his agricultural extension program. Through the use of the advisory committee he adapted his program to meet the needs and wishes of the local people.

County Agent Rose has 30 years of service with the Agricultural Extension Service. Before coming to East Carroll Parish twenty-nine years ago, he was an extension worker in North Carolina and South Carolina. He has a B. S. degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute and M. S. degree from North Carolina State College. He is a graduate of Abbeville High School.

He and Mrs. Rose have two children. They are Crawford, Jr., who is presently in military service, and Mrs. Mary Ann Bernard of Lafayette.

Other agents in Louisiana scheduled to receive the Distinguished Service Award are Gilbert Martin of Jeff Davis Parish, and Dannie Magee, of West Feliciana Parish.

No Contest Plea Entered By Man To Mail Fraud

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Clyde Belin, whose self-styled university at Chillicothe, Mo., ran into financial troubles, Friday pleaded nolo contendere—no contest to six counts of mail fraud.

The Phoenix, Ariz., man was accused in a federal indictment with inducing persons to enroll in the Belin Memorial University, misrepresenting courses and the school's financial condition to bond purchasers.

Belin established the school at the ontime Chillicothe Business College in 1956 but the institution closed in January 1958 after running into financial difficulities. In June of the same year its assets were sold for $120,000 at a federal bankruptcy sale.

The 100 students at the school when it closed, some from foreign nations, were transferred to other colleges.

Officers View Holiday With Caution Here

The three-day Labor Day weekend is being viewed with a cautious eye by authorities in the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana.

A 15-day dove season, which begins today and is expected to bring a record number of sportsmen to the outdoors by district biologist, coupled with rainy weather which began yesterday afternoon signaled the alert for possible violence in the fields and on the highways.

Several minor wrecks were reported in the Twin Cities area as the rains began, and firemen were called out on a standby basis when two "hot wires" were being repaired.

Although no extra men were being added for the holidays, both Monroe and West Monroe Police Departments can delve into their highly workable auxillary units if the need arises.

Mrs. Stevens was injured in an auto accident at South Second and Coleman Sts. in West Monroe.

Mrs. Stevens was rushed to St. Francis Hospital where it was found she sustained cuts and bruises. She was to remain overnight in the hospital for observation.

Mrs. Stevens' vehicle collided with a car driven by Donald I. Williams, 21, West Monroe. Both drivers were charged with reckless driving.

Another accident in West Monroe earlier in the day resulted in a reckless driving arrest. Miss Ruth Elizabeth Bradley, 18, 701 52nd St., was charged after the auto she was driving collied with a car driven by Billy E. Johnston, 25, 111 Filhiol, West Monroe.

Levee District Probe Is Asked Of Expenditures

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Francis Dugas of Lafourche Parish declared Friday that he had requested an investigation of expenditures by the Board of Commissioners of the Lafourche Basin Levee District.

Dugas told a New Orleans States-Item newsman that at his request J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of public funds, had sent a copy of a state audit to Dist. Atty. Aubert Talbot of Ascension Parish.

Dugas said he tried unsuccessfully in the 1957 Legislature for a crackdown on operations of the board in regard to bid operations.

The States-Item said examination of the records showed wasteful expenditures on conventions, meetings and luncheons.

Three members of the board were removed by Gov. Earl K. Long preceding release of the audit last month.

"I have asked Dist. Atty. Talbot to prosecute on information based in the audit," Dugas said Friday. "Particularly I have asked for prosecution on the sworn statement of Mr. (Emile A.) Landry that he was forced to pay back a portion of his salary to a member of the commission."

Landry had been appointed to a job to inspect levees at $10 a day.

CRAWFORD ROSE

East Carroll County Agent To Get Honor

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)—The National Association of County Agricultural Agents will honor East Carroll parish county agent Crawford Rose at its Sept. 6-10 Kansas City annual meeting.

He will receive the Distinguished Service Award, the highest the association can bestow on a member, it was announced yesterday by F. M. Roberts, chairman of the recognitions and awards committee of the Louisiana County Agents Association.

He pointed out that because of the agent's recent illness, actual presentation of the award will be made at a later date.

The Distinguished Service Award is given only to agents with long, outstanding service to the agricultural development of their parishes, continued Roberts. In nominating Rose for this honor the Louisiana County Agents Association pointed out that he has served East Carroll Parish for the past 29 years, and that he has led the farmers of his parish from man and mule power to complete mechanization.

He was instrumental in the development of supplemental cash crops to cotton in East Carroll. These include rice, soybeans, beef cattle, small grains, corn, and swine.

A current example of his leadership is the corn contest now being conducted in his parish. This contest was instigated to show that yields of 100-bushel or more of corn could be made on a commercial basis. Hundreds of dollars of prize money is awarded to the winning contestants by local business concerns.

Rose has taken the lead in encouraging his farmers to adopt complete mechanization practices, complete chemical weed control, and a complete cotton insect control program.

Livestock has become a major source of income to farmers of East Carroll under the leadership and sponsorship of County Agent Rose. He advised farmers on planning and improving pastures, and increasing not only the number but the quality of livestock.

Rose has made full use of local leaders and local people in his agricultural extension program. Through the use of the advisory committee he adapted his program to meet the needs and wishes of the local people.

County Agent Rose has 30 years of service with the Agricultural Extension Service. Before coming to East Carroll Parish twenty-nine years ago, he was an extension worker in North Carolina and South Carolina. He has a B. S. degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute and M. S. degree from North Carolina State College. He is a graduate of Abbeville High School.

He and Mrs. Rose have two children. They are Crawford, Jr., who is presently in military service, and Mrs. Mary Ann Bernard of Lafayette.

Other agents in Louisiana scheduled to receive the Distinguished Service Award are Gilbert Martin of Jeff Davis Parish, and Dannie Magee, of West Feliciana Parish.

Demo Favors U.N. Control Over Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) called Friday for United Nations control of both East and West Berlin as part of a new approach to East-West negotiations over the German capital.

The Montana Democrat expressed concern because the West so far has negotiated with Russia only in terms of West Berlin. He said it was "time for a change in all Berlin."

Mansfield proposed internationalizing the entire city, rather than just West Berlin as proposed by the Soviets, "until it is once again the capital of a unified Germany." This, he said, "might be a valid quid pro quo."

In a 28-page foreign policy speech, praised by both Republican and Democrats, Mansfield also told the Senate he did not think the West should reject "out of hand" any Soviet proposal to replace U.S. forres in West Berlin with West Germans.

"If West Germans can replace other Western forces in Berlin and if Soviet troops are withdrawn from the city, at least the rudiments of an all-German administration of Berlin will exist," he said.

In discussing his proposal to internationalize the two Berlins under U.N. auspices, Mansfield said the West must be guaranteed free access to the Communist-encircled city.

Mansfield also said he was concerned over the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). But he said this country should learn to live with the changes which have "reduced the influence of the United States and heightened that of the Europeans themselves in European affairs."

OF LAST SURVIVING REB

No Proof Offered To Disprove Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) said Friday only overwhelming evidence could refute the claim that Walter Williams of Houston, Tex., is the last surviving Civil War veteran.

Lowell K. Bridwell, writer for Scripps - Howard Newspapers, Thursday questioned whether Williams ever served in the Confederate forces.

National honors are planned for Williams on his birthday, Nov. 14, when he figures he will be 117, and a state funeral is planned after his death.

Eastland sponsored the resolution Congress has passed calling for a period of national mourning when the ailing, enfeebled Williams dies. The senator said he plans no investigation of the questions raised by Bridwell.

At the White House, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton responded with a "no comment" when asked whether the executive offices planned any investigation.

In Houston, Williams' daughter said he is too feeble to answer questions about the challenge to his service records.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which handled the Williams resolution, issued a statement saying: "In the absence of overwhelming evidence to the contrary, full faith and credit should be given to the official records of the State of Texas (Texas pension rolls list Williams as veteran).

'This is in conformity with all the laws of comity as affects relations between the states and the federal government."

Eastland's office said the American Legion originated the idea of the national mourning for the last surviving veteran of the Civil War regardless of whether he served in Union or Confederate forces.

At legion headquarters here, spokesmen said the organization's executive committee meeting in Indianapolis in 1956 adopted a resolution proposing the period of mourning. Several veterans from both North and South were alive at the time.

There stands on the books this resolution passed by Congress Aug. 18: "The president of the United States is authorized and requested to issue, on the occasion of the death of the last surviving veteran of the War Between the States, a proclamation calling for the flag of the United States to be flown at half staff for such period of time as the president deems appropriate, in commemoration of the death of all veterans of the War Between the States."

Khrushchev will speak Sept. 16 at a National Press Club luncheon, then make an afternoon automobile tour of points of interest in the Washington area.

Butler Plan Denounced By Southerners

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern Democrats Friday denounced the proposal of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that the 1960 Democratic convention re-adopt its 1956 compromise "loyalty" rule.

But there were indications the southern fire was aimed at Butler personally rather than the rule. Under it, delegates promised that residents of their states would get a chance to vote for the party's national nominees.

The Democratic National Committee will consider the proposal, along with others suggested by Butler, at a meeting here Sept. 16. Some Southerners feared Butler also would urge an end to the arrangement whereby Southern states receive a "bonus" allotment of delegates.

Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) said the Democratic Party would "benefit greatly" if Butler would be ousted from the chairmanship "as quickly as possible." Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D - Ga.) said he would stand on the similar statement he made in the past.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), a Southern liberal, told a reporter the trouble is that since 1956, Butler "repeatedly" has been quoted as saying he would "like to see the South out of the Democratic Party."

"It's pretty hard to cooperate with someone who wants to kick you out of the party all the time," Sparkman added.

Alabama Democratic Chairman Sam Englehardt noted that the Alabama state Supreme Court had ruled that his state's electors are "free agents."

Englehardt said "Butler ought to be thrown out." He insisted there will "never be unity in our party until we get a new chairman." He called the proposed loyalty rule "another kick in the teeth from Butler."

But Florida State Democratic Chairman James E. Milligan said he "certainly" hoped the compromise rule would be re-adopted.

"We had a more harmonious national convention in 1956 and the best relations than in any national presidential convention I ever attended," he said.

OF LAST SURVIVING REB

No Proof Offered To Disprove Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) said Friday only overwhelming evidence could refute the claim that Walter Williams of Houston, Tex., is the last surviving Civil War veteran.

Lowell K. Bridwell, writer for Scripps - Howard Newspapers, Thursday questioned whether Williams ever served in the Confederate forces.

National honors are planned for Williams on his birthday, Nov. 14, when he figures he will be 117, and a state funeral is planned after his death.

Eastland sponsored the resolution Congress has passed calling for a period of national mourning when the ailing, enfeebled Williams dies. The senator said he plans no investigation of the questions raised by Bridwell.

At the White House, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton responded with a "no comment" when asked whether the executive offices planned any investigation.

In Houston, Williams' daughter said he is too feeble to answer questions about the challenge to his service records.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which handled the Williams resolution, issued a statement saying: "In the absence of overwhelming evidence to the contrary, full faith and credit should be given to the official records of the State of Texas (Texas pension rolls list Williams as veteran).

'This is in conformity with all the laws of comity as affects relations between the states and the federal government."

Eastland's office said the American Legion originated the idea of the national mourning for the last surviving veteran of the Civil War regardless of whether he served in Union or Confederate forces.

At legion headquarters here, spokesmen said the organization's executive committee meeting in Indianapolis in 1956 adopted a resolution proposing the period of mourning. Several veterans from both North and South were alive at the time.

There stands on the books this resolution passed by Congress Aug. 18: "The president of the United States is authorized and requested to issue, on the occasion of the death of the last surviving veteran of the War Between the States, a proclamation calling for the flag of the United States to be flown at half staff for such period of time as the president deems appropriate, in commemoration of the death of all veterans of the War Between the States."

Ike, Khrushchev To Confer First At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will hold their first conference Sept. 15 at the White House, five hours after the Soviet leader arrives for his 13-day visit.

The White House disclosed this Friday in making public further details of Khrushchev's itinerary. The details cover the first two days which will be spent in the Washington area.

The program, still labeled tentative, includes a dinner at the White House the night of Sept. 15 which the Eisenhowers' will give for Khrushchev and his wife. The next morning Khrushchev is to go to the government's agricultural experiment station at suburban Beltsville, Md.

Khrushchev will speak Sept. 16 at a National Press Club luncheon, then make an afternoon automobile tour of points of interest in the Washington area.

Khrushchev and his wife will give a return dinner for the Eisenhowers Sept. 16 at the Soviet Embassy.

Butler Plan Denounced By Southerners

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern Democrats Friday denounced the proposal of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that the 1960 Democratic convention re-adopt its 1956 compromise "loyalty" rule.

But there were indications the southern fire was aimed at Butler personally rather than the rule. Under it, delegates promised that residents of their states would get a chance to vote for the party's national nominees.

The Democratic National Committee will consider the proposal, along with others suggested by Butler, at a meeting here Sept. 16. Some Southerners feared Butler also would urge an end to the arrangement whereby Southern states receive a "bonus" allotment of delegates.

Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) said the Democratic Party would "benefit greatly" if Butler would be ousted from the chairmanship "as quickly as possible." Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D - Ga.) said he would stand on the similar statement he made in the past.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), a Southern liberal, told a reporter the trouble is that since 1956, Butler "repeatedly" has been quoted as saying he would "like to see the South out of the Democratic Party."

"It's pretty hard to cooperate with someone who wants to kick you out of the party all the time," Sparkman added.

Alabama Democratic Chairman Sam Englehardt noted that the Alabama state Supreme Court had ruled that his state's electors are "free agents."

Englehardt said "Butler ought to be thrown out." He insisted there will "never be unity in our party until we get a new chairman." He called the proposed loyalty rule "another kick in the teeth from Butler."

But Florida State Democratic Chairman James E. Milligan said he "certainly" hoped the compromise rule would be re-adopted.

"We had a more harmonious national convention in 1956 and the best relations than in any national presidential convention I ever attended," he said.

British Deport Pole

LONDON (UPI)—Polish student Jersz J. Florcyzykowski has been deported as an "undesirable," the Home Office reported Friday. There was no further official comment on the case but the Daily Express said the Pole was a "trained spy." Florcyzykowski, who spent two years at London University, was deported over protests of his father, a British resident who fought with the British 8th Army in World War II.

Demo Favors U.N. Control Over Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) called Friday for United Nations control of both East and West Berlin as part of a new approach to East-West negotiations over the German capital.

The Montana Democrat expressed concern because the West so far has negotiated with Russia only in terms of West Berlin. He said it was "time for a change in all Berlin."

Mansfield proposed internationalizing the entire city, rather than just West Berlin as proposed by the Soviets, "until it is once again the capital of a unified Germany." This, he said, "might be a valid quid pro quo."

In a 28-page foreign policy speech, praised by both Republican and Democrats, Mansfield also told the Senate he did not think the West should reject "out of hand" any Soviet proposal to replace U.S. forres in West Berlin with West Germans.

"If West Germans can replace other Western forces in Berlin and if Soviet troops are withdrawn from the city, at least the rudiments of an all-German administration of Berlin will exist," he said.

In discussing his proposal to internationalize the two Berlins under U.N. auspices, Mansfield said the West must be guaranteed free access to the Communist-encircled city.

Mansfield also said he was concerned over the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). But he said this country should learn to live with the changes which have "reduced the influence of the United States and heightened that of the Europeans themselves in European affairs."

Malls Gaining Favor

"Either the motor car will drive us all out of our cities or the city will drive out the motor car."

That statement, made by Lewis Mumford, noted city planner and writer, seems to be finding acceptance in a good many cities, particularly on the part of downtown merchants who have seen their customers switching in droves to suburban shopping centers. Apparently it has reached a point at which the cars must be ousted from some areas if the customers are to be retained.

At a convention of city planners, grass growing in the main streets of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Toledo, Ohio, was the hottest subject on the agenda.

Cities throughout the nation are watching the Kalamazoo and Toledo formulas for keeping automobiles out of their downtown shopping areas so the shoppers can get in.

Other cities from New York to Waco, Tex., and Allegan, Mich., were studying plans to turn their main streets into shopping malls —pleasantly landscaped thoroughfares for pedestrians only.

Behind almost all the drawing board projects was the hope of luring customers back downtown from fast-growing suburban shopping centers.

For years, main street merchants have seen their old customers taking their trade to new, easily accessible shopping centers on the edges of town. Housewives have found it far easier and more pleasant to park the family car in the shopping center lot than to fight downtown traffic and parking problems.

Under the new setup in a number of cities, plans are being made to provide easily-accessible parking near the downtown areas and to keep automobile traffic entirely off some of the main streets, so the customers can walk around leisurely from store to store on both sides of the street without having to look out for autos. The downtown stores might thus enjoy some advantage over the suburban centers, since it is still necessary to watch for cars at those places.

To compete with suburban centers, downtown stores eventually will provide the same spaciousness, both inside and outside, that is to be found in the areas on the edges of town. When that happens, downtown shopping is expected to do more than regain its old vigor.

There has been a good deal of discussion on whether or not it would be advantageous to establish a shopping mall on at least a part of DeSiard street in Monroe.

Wider sidewalks and a grass-covered boulevard in the middle of the street and with automobiles banished to adjacent areas and spacious nearby parking lots would bring a pleasant end to the crowding and rushing which now prevails on this street.

Some progress toward bringing customers near the downtown shopping area has already been made by providing additional parking lots.

At a cost of $60,000, Kalamazoo opened the first permanent downtown shopping mall in the nation. It was an almost instant success.

Toledo had already blocked off four of its downtown area blocks on a 45-day experimental basis. The period ends in September but the mall has caught on so well that Toledo will probably make it a permanent fixture.

Other cities speeded up plans to follow the Kalamazoo-Toledo example.

Detroit Mayor Louis C. Iriani approved an experimental mall, including fountains, statues and sidewalk restaurants in the motor city's Grand Circus park area.

Convenience, space and safety are among the big problems influencing shopping. Malls may help provide the answer.

Polio, Tuberculosis

State and national health departments are conducting drives to wipe out two diseases in particular. They are polio and tuberculosis.

There can be no doubt that the public has become too complacent in regard to both diseases and that this is a principal deterrent in each of the eradication campaigns. More cooperation and diligence on the part of the people is being called for by the Louisiana state board of health.

Great advances have been made in recent years in the treatment of tuberculosis and this has caused the people to let down their guard. There has been far more publicity toward the control of infantile paralysis than tuberculosis and there may be many who think that now, with improved treatment, polio is a more serious threat than tuberculosis.

On the contrary, the number of deaths and even the number of cases of paralysis resulting from polio is minor compared to the tuberculosis fatalities.

The weekly morbidity report issued by the state board of health showed that tuberculosis, the slow-killing disease, caused 48 deaths last week in this state. During the same period, two paralytic and two non-paralytic cases of polio were reported. There were no deaths. This gives some idea of the continued seriousness of tuberculosis.

According to public health statistics, there were 848 deaths caused by tuberculosis in 1958 and during the first eight months of this year there were 825 deaths, an increase over the same period last year.

"We can eradicate tuberculosis if we find all individuals infected with the tubercle bacillus, motivate them to want to protect themselves and also others, educate them about tuberculosis and provide them with readily available facilities for periodic evaluation," the health board said. "The best way to find every person infected with the tubercle baccilus is by the test."

Apparently, complete eradication of tuberculosis might be easier than the elimination of polio, since it seems to be taken only by contact, while the ways in which polio may be transmitted have not been fully determined. Yet, the number of tuberculosis deaths remains comparatively high.

It behooves the public to cooperate in every way toward the eradication of this ailment.

China's Borders Vague

The Manchus, a Tatar race, came through the Great Wall into China in 1644 and conquered the country. They continued their conquests until they reached their apogee during the reign of the Emperor Chien Lung. At that time, the indefinite Chinese boundaries "included" such areas as Manchuria, Mongolia, Turkestan, Tibet and some parts of what are now Burma and India.

I put the word, included, in quotation marks because the Manchus never ruled any part of China. They reigned but did not rule. They conquered some areas by military force, but they employed Chinese to govern and they employed mostly Chinese troops to fight for them. They accepted tribute and sold tax rights, but the government of peoples was always in the hands of those directly concerned with localities. So when it is claimed that such areas as Bhutan, Sikkim and Nepal and parts of Kashmir were once Chinese territory and are included in China on a map prepared by the Communists, it is meaningless phraseology. At one time or another many Asiatic countries sent tribute to the Chinese throne, but such tribute was not evidence of ownership of the territory by China.

In fact, it has always been difficult to define the term, China. The Chinese themselves referred to their country as "The Middle Kingdom," that is the center of the universe, and all lands on the periphery of "The Middle Kingdom," were either tributaries or barbarians. When the Ta-Ching Dynasty collapsed and China became a republic, the five-barred Chinese flag was adopted and the variegated racial character of the country was recognized, each bar representing a distinct race. The Kuomintang, when it took over the government of China under Chiang Kai-shek, gave up the five-barred flag, denying, in effect, the racial differences and distinctions among the Chinese people. The number of distinct races in China is greater than the flag represented, including many aboriginal pre-Chinese peoples.

The Kuomintang adopted the principle of nationalism, a principle which had never existed in China before and was not understood by the Chinese people. They had believed in the principle of local self-government, "difan chui," which had stood them in good stead for centuries. The significance of this in the present quarrel with India is that the term, China, is geographical and has never been political in the sense of a national state because no government before ruled over the entire extent of the territory that at any time appeared on the map as China. Arnold Toynbee, in his study, makes a distinction between Sinic and Chinese in order to explain the very complex distinction which I am attempting to explain here.

In effect, China has historically been a civilization rather than a country; a way of life rather than a government. Whether the Chinese Communists can alter varying traditions; create a single tongue out of more than a hundred languages and dialects; break down countless variations of traditional habits—all this is yet to be seen. Present indications are that they are not succeeding as rapidly as they had expected.

Such countries as Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim lie in the Himalayas on the borders of two civilizations, the Chinese and the Hindu. In such countries, the variations of religions and traditional and linguistic experience become mixed. The influences of Hinduism (Brahmanism), Buddhism and Confucianism are strongly intermingled and produce blooms that are different and variegated. The peoples are blended, as all border peoples are mixed everywhere in the world. In Asia, where plural marriage has been usual, centuries of intermixture of races and peoples have produced new races and new peoples in each generation with a sturdy peasantry that represents a basic stock.

Red China, by moving into Bhutan and Sikkim, serves notice on India and the world that its immediate territorial designs reach to the Chien Lung line which will also include some territory in Kashmir. This can produce a war with India that could, and probably will if it happens, involve Great Britain as a member of the Commonwealth, and the United States as a SEATO power. Nehru is, however, not one to make war readily. Whether it is cowardice or an Asiatic brand of pacifism, he prefers to talk rather than to fight. The Communists are breathing down his neck and he cannot talk much.

Is this a pleasant introduction to Khrushchev's visit to this country?

SYLVIA PORTER

Hard Cash Begins

Federal Reserve System Will Test Breaking Boom

A cycle of the tightest, hardest-to-get and most expensive money in a generation — since before the Bank Holiday of 1933 — has just begun.

A credit squeeze of a magnitude that will dwarf the pinch of pre - recession 1957 and which will be beyond anything ever known by the majority of Americans is in the making as you read this.

A climactic test of the ability of the Federal Reserve System to brake the boom without breaking it through strict credit controls will be seen in this country this fall.

The financial institutions of the United States are facing a severe strain. The lid is being clamped on credit at a time when demands for the credit are soaring on every side to unprecedented peaks.

This past week saw the unmistakable signal of a new turn in the credit screws. Here's what's going on:

(1) America's top - grade, world - respected corporations have just been formally notified by their banks that from now on they must pay 5 per cent for short - term loans. Simultaneously, their bank lenders are requiring them to maintain a specified percentage of the amount they borrow on deposit.

This requirement means the corporations won't have the full use of the cash for which they are paying 5 per cent and it will raise the real cost of their loans to 6 per cent or more. (In technical jargon, what I've just described is the increase this past Tuesday of the so-called bank "prime rate" from 4½ per cent to a 28-year high of 5 per cent and the stiffening of the banks' rules on compensatory balances.)

(2) Any day now, the nation's thousands of banks, giants and smalls, will be forced to pay 4 per cent for whatever temporary cash they borrow from the Federal Reserve System to fill loan demands of their customers. At the same time, the Federal Reserve will screen banks applying for temporary loans with mounting care.

This will mean that even banks willing to pay the 4 per cent rate won't be able to borrow large amounts for any length of time. (Again, in technical jargon, what I'm forecasting is a near - term hike in the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Banks from 3½ to 4 per cent and a stiffening of the Central Bank's attitude toward any member bank which tries to make free use of "the discount window" to get cash.)

(3) Mortgage rates are climbing to and through the 6 per cent mark around the country, and in some areas they'll reach 7 to 8 per cent even on sound conventional mortgages.

More effective than the steep rate in flattening the upswing in housing will be the increasing scarcity of mortgage money.

(4) Installment loan rates will zoom to all time highs too, although the costs often will be "hidden" in the totals of the monthly payments asked. A definite factor in the price of new cars to millions of buyers this winter will be the rising cost of financing the cars.

(5) More and more states and cities will have to postpone major public works projects because they are prohibited from paying more than a certain interest rate for loans. In this period, the rates demanded on their loans will be above what they are allowed to pay.

(6) Many speculators, small and marginal business firms will be pushed out of the money markets. With money so tight, lenders will be rationing credit — and they'll tend to favor old customers over new ones, a large, established borrower over a small, risky one.

(7) The U. S. Treasury itself will be paying 4 per cent or more for three - month loans, 4½ per cent or more for six-month money. There's no telling what it may have to pay for one-year.

Other nations have known this sort of credit clampdown in modern times but our nation hasn't. We have moved into an historic money squeeze!

Coffee Imports Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Imports of green coffee into the United States in the first seven months of 1959 rose 9 per cent above the like 1958 period, the Commerce Department reported. The January-July total was 1,654,000,000 pounds. July imports of 166 million pounds were valued at $61 million.

In Dilemma

Child Telling Fibs Causes Mother Nervous Upset

Mrs. X., of Washington, D. C., is in a dilemma. She writes:

"I am nervous because I have a problem I don't know how to cope with. I have an only child of seven. She has started telling fibs. Yesterday she was playing in a mud puddle and fell. Went on to school and stayed all afternoon with her clothes all wet and muddy.

"When she came home she told me a boy pushed her in the mud and stuck with that story until today.

"Her father is very strict and punishes her for telling fibs. So, in turn, I cover up for her, just never saying I found out the truth. My husband says I'm the one to blame for her telling fibs because I love her so much I can't punish her.

"I know I'm in the wrong but I guess I need someone else to tell me. Would you please let me know how you feel about it, Dr. Steincrohn? What shall I do? My lovely little child fibs and the truth comes out later. Shall I keep covering up?"

ANSWER: I am a softie just like you. Perhaps, therefore, my advice is not unprejudiced and wise. Nevertheless, I suggest that you continue to "cover up" for a little, frightened, only child who seems to be employing the only defense she knows to protect her from an overly strict father.

If she can't depend upon you to stand behind her, where's she going to look for help?

MENIERE'S A PROBLEM

Mrs. B. T. of Kansas City, Missouri, is a victim of Meniere's Disease.

"I have been to two ear specialists, two neurologists, and now I am going to a well - known internist. I've had all the X-rays, EEG's etc., that ruled out brain tumor.

"Sometimes I get dizzy spells that last for weeks. Then I'll be fine for a while — then knocked out again so I can't work. This has been going on for three years. Seems there isn't a pill or anything to take to shorten the attack.

"I'm now on a low salt diet and take some medicine in pill form twice a day. I am unhappy and depressed. For fear of getting dizzy I spend most of my days in the house. I'm afraid to go shopping and won't even walk to the corner alone.

"Can you offer any suggestion?"

ANSWER: Chances are that your doctors have already tried this: Injections intravenously of a drug called histamine. If not, it's certainly worth a try before you consider surgery.

PLASTIC SURGERY ON NOSE

Mrs. M. F. of Chicago would like to get some information on plastic nose surgery. She writes: "I have heard that it is a very painful type of operation. Is this true? Also that there is quite a bit of discoloration of the face and eyes immediately after the operation.

"Is it expensive? How does one find the best doctor to do the job? I am 47 years old and am wondering if I am too old for this operation."

ANSWER: The operation is painful, but the doctors give the patient medicine to lessen the discomfort. I don't see why temporary discoloration (black eyes) should be an important factor.

Don't go to just anyone to do the work. Ask your nose and throat specialist or your medical society to recommend the names of a few well known plastic surgeons.

As for age — I recall a number of patients who had "new noses" after 50. Their universal complaint: "It is so wonderful! Should have had it done years ago."

BASCOM TIMMONS

Chief Of Staff

One Man Expected To Replace Muli-Headed Approach

Inevitably some day this country will end the multiheaded approach to the solution of our defense problems. Inevitably there will some day be a single chief of staff instead of the ineffective joint chiefs of staff.

Some day there will be a real unification of the services and a reorganization of the civilian quagmire of agencies connected with the services. For the security of the nation as well as for economic reasons that some day cannot be too long postponed. That is why the speech by Senator Clair Engle of California in the senate the other day may well constitute a landmark.

Senator Engle proposed a functional system instead of our present Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force setup. He did not minimize the difficulties and the opposition that would be presented to such a change over. He recognized also that it will perhaps be as difficult to reorganize the hodgepodge of decision - making civilian agencies as to recast the fighting forces.

In the services a great deal of pride and tradition is involved. As an illustration of the reaction to Senator Engle's proposal that there be a single chief of staff, a Marine general said: "I would resign if that ever happened. I would not be part of any organization that gave such power to one man."

An admiral said:

"Why do you think I went to Annapolis? It was because I wanted to be in the Navy. I still want to be in the Navy, not some big undefinable group of military men run by some all - powerful chief of staff."

But in support of centralized planning, programming, budgeting and implementing consider the testimony of Vice Admiral John T. Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations of development, that if he had a program he wanted carried out, he would have to clear it at 10 places, any one of which would veto it.

And in backing Engle's unification proposal, Senator John C. Stennis of Mississippi, one of the ablest and most clear - thinking members of the senate said:

"There is no solution, as I see it, to our present military problems within the framework of our present organization, because the problem is different, the conditions to be met are different, and the solution will require a different system."

And Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri said:

"Changes in the nature of possible war in the last 15 years have been greater than in the previous thousand years yet we are now operating our defense on the basis of tradition, instead of reorganizing them in recognition of present conditions."

Present conditions were never better stated than by President Eisenhower in a message to congress on April 3, 1958:

"Separate ground, sea, and air warfare is gone forever," the president said. "If ever again we should be involved in war, we will fight it in all elements, with all services, as one single concentrated effort. Peacetime preparatory and organizational activity must conform to this."

What will take its place as a great disappointment of his administration is that the president did not employ his great prestige as a military man to bring about that unification. Just a little more than a year of his administration remains yet we have, as Senator Engle pointed out, the Army to fight the ground wars, the Navy to fight the sea wars, and the Air Force to fight the air wars.

"Why," asked the California senator, do we not change our organization to meet the new kind of war that must be fought? "This will call for a complete reorganization of the department of defense along the lines of functions and missions, rather than the outmoded Army and Navy and Air Force organizational setup."

A great deal of the service opposition is due to the bruising effects it would have on them personally, such, for instance, as would come from the consolidation of four separate promotion lists:

"How could you ever get an equitable promotion list if the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force, were integrated into one?" asked an Army general.

Senator Engle himself told the senate that unification if attempted all at once could tear the military organiation to pieces which the country cannot afford at the present critical period. But the various phases can be worked out in a logical sequence.

Daily Devotional

And Jesus said unto them, I am the Bread of Life: he that cometh to Me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst. — John 6:35.

Food is necessary to the physical man. It restores his depleted energies, soothes his ruffled disposition and makes him human and companionable once again. This is because the energy of the food passes into his body. In like manner, the Spirit of Christ is food for the soul. This Spirit feeds, sustains and restores that which has become depleted and exhausted. We need the Savious to keep our soul nourished and alive.

Almighty God, our Father, nourish us with the Bread of Life that we may be energetic and strong in Thy work. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

Malls Gaining Favor

"Either the motor car will drive us all out of our cities or the city will drive out the motor car."

That statement, made by Lewis Mumford, noted city planner and writer, seems to be finding acceptance in a good many cities, particularly on the part of downtown merchants who have seen their customers switching in droves to suburban shopping centers. Apparently it has reached a point at which the cars must be ousted from some areas if the customers are to be retained.

At a convention of city planners, grass growing in the main streets of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Toledo, Ohio, was the hottest subject on the agenda.

Cities throughout the nation are watching the Kalamazoo and Toledo formulas for keeping automobiles out of their downtown shopping areas so the shoppers can get in.

Other cities from New York to Waco, Tex., and Allegan, Mich., were studying plans to turn their main streets into shopping malls —pleasantly landscaped thoroughfares for pedestrians only.

Behind almost all the drawing board projects was the hope of luring customers back downtown from fast-growing suburban shopping centers.

For years, main street merchants have seen their old customers taking their trade to new, easily accessible shopping centers on the edges of town. Housewives have found it far easier and more pleasant to park the family car in the shopping center lot than to fight downtown traffic and parking problems.

Under the new setup in a number of cities, plans are being made to provide easily-accessible parking near the downtown areas and to keep automobile traffic entirely off some of the main streets, so the customers can walk around leisurely from store to store on both sides of the street without having to look out for autos. The downtown stores might thus enjoy some advantage over the suburban centers, since it is still necessary to watch for cars at those places.

To compete with suburban centers, downtown stores eventually will provide the same spaciousness, both inside and outside, that is to be found in the areas on the edges of town. When that happens, downtown shopping is expected to do more than regain its old vigor.

There has been a good deal of discussion on whether or not it would be advantageous to establish a shopping mall on at least a part of DeSiard street in Monroe.

Wider sidewalks and a grass-covered boulevard in the middle of the street and with automobiles banished to adjacent areas and spacious nearby parking lots would bring a pleasant end to the crowding and rushing which now prevails on this street.

Some progress toward bringing customers near the downtown shopping area has already been made by providing additional parking lots.

At a cost of $60,000, Kalamazoo opened the first permanent downtown shopping mall in the nation. It was an almost instant success.

Toledo had already blocked off four of its downtown area blocks on a 45-day experimental basis. The period ends in September but the mall has caught on so well that Toledo will probably make it a permanent fixture.

Other cities speeded up plans to follow the Kalamazoo-Toledo example.

Detroit Mayor Louis C. Iriani approved an experimental mall, including fountains, statues and sidewalk restaurants in the motor city's Grand Circus park area.

Convenience, space and safety are among the big problems influencing shopping. Malls may help provide the answer.

Polio, Tuberculosis

State and national health departments are conducting drives to wipe out two diseases in particular. They are polio and tuberculosis.

There can be no doubt that the public has become too complacent in regard to both diseases and that this is a principal deterrent in each of the eradication campaigns. More cooperation and diligence on the part of the people is being called for by the Louisiana state board of health.

Great advances have been made in recent years in the treatment of tuberculosis and this has caused the people to let down their guard. There has been far more publicity toward the control of infantile paralysis than tuberculosis and there may be many who think that now, with improved treatment, polio is a more serious threat than tuberculosis.

On the contrary, the number of deaths and even the number of cases of paralysis resulting from polio is minor compared to the tuberculosis fatalities.

The weekly morbidity report issued by the state board of health showed that tuberculosis, the slow-killing disease, caused 48 deaths last week in this state. During the same period, two paralytic and two non-paralytic cases of polio were reported. There were no deaths. This gives some idea of the continued seriousness of tuberculosis.

According to public health statistics, there were 848 deaths caused by tuberculosis in 1958 and during the first eight months of this year there were 825 deaths, an increase over the same period last year.

"We can eradicate tuberculosis if we find all individuals infected with the tubercle bacillus, motivate them to want to protect themselves and also others, educate them about tuberculosis and provide them with readily available facilities for periodic evaluation," the health board said. "The best way to find every person infected with the tubercle baccilus is by the test."

Apparently, complete eradication of tuberculosis might be easier than the elimination of polio, since it seems to be taken only by contact, while the ways in which polio may be transmitted have not been fully determined. Yet, the number of tuberculosis deaths remains comparatively high.

It behooves the public to cooperate in every way toward the eradication of this ailment.

China's Borders Vague

The Manchus, a Tatar race, came through the Great Wall into China in 1644 and conquered the country. They continued their conquests until they reached their apogee during the reign of the Emperor Chien Lung. At that time, the indefinite Chinese boundaries "included" such areas as Manchuria, Mongolia, Turkestan, Tibet and some parts of what are now Burma and India.

I put the word, included, in quotation marks because the Manchus never ruled any part of China. They reigned but did not rule. They conquered some areas by military force, but they employed Chinese to govern and they employed mostly Chinese troops to fight for them. They accepted tribute and sold tax rights, but the government of peoples was always in the hands of those directly concerned with localities. So when it is claimed that such areas as Bhutan, Sikkim and Nepal and parts of Kashmir were once Chinese territory and are included in China on a map prepared by the Communists, it is meaningless phraseology. At one time or another many Asiatic countries sent tribute to the Chinese throne, but such tribute was not evidence of ownership of the territory by China.

In fact, it has always been difficult to define the term, China. The Chinese themselves referred to their country as "The Middle Kingdom," that is the center of the universe, and all lands on the periphery of "The Middle Kingdom," were either tributaries or barbarians. When the Ta-Ching Dynasty collapsed and China became a republic, the five-barred Chinese flag was adopted and the variegated racial character of the country was recognized, each bar representing a distinct race. The Kuomintang, when it took over the government of China under Chiang Kai-shek, gave up the five-barred flag, denying, in effect, the racial differences and distinctions among the Chinese people. The number of distinct races in China is greater than the flag represented, including many aboriginal pre-Chinese peoples.

The Kuomintang adopted the principle of nationalism, a principle which had never existed in China before and was not understood by the Chinese people. They had believed in the principle of local self-government, "difan chui," which had stood them in good stead for centuries. The significance of this in the present quarrel with India is that the term, China, is geographical and has never been political in the sense of a national state because no government before ruled over the entire extent of the territory that at any time appeared on the map as China. Arnold Toynbee, in his study, makes a distinction between Sinic and Chinese in order to explain the very complex distinction which I am attempting to explain here.

In effect, China has historically been a civilization rather than a country; a way of life rather than a government. Whether the Chinese Communists can alter varying traditions; create a single tongue out of more than a hundred languages and dialects; break down countless variations of traditional habits—all this is yet to be seen. Present indications are that they are not succeeding as rapidly as they had expected.

Such countries as Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim lie in the Himalayas on the borders of two civilizations, the Chinese and the Hindu. In such countries, the variations of religions and traditional and linguistic experience become mixed. The influences of Hinduism (Brahmanism), Buddhism and Confucianism are strongly intermingled and produce blooms that are different and variegated. The peoples are blended, as all border peoples are mixed everywhere in the world. In Asia, where plural marriage has been usual, centuries of intermixture of races and peoples have produced new races and new peoples in each generation with a sturdy peasantry that represents a basic stock.

Red China, by moving into Bhutan and Sikkim, serves notice on India and the world that its immediate territorial designs reach to the Chien Lung line which will also include some territory in Kashmir. This can produce a war with India that could, and probably will if it happens, involve Great Britain as a member of the Commonwealth, and the United States as a SEATO power. Nehru is, however, not one to make war readily. Whether it is cowardice or an Asiatic brand of pacifism, he prefers to talk rather than to fight. The Communists are breathing down his neck and he cannot talk much.

Is this a pleasant introduction to Khrushchev's visit to this country?

Hard Cash Begins

Federal Reserve System Will Test Breaking Boom

A cycle of the tightest, hardest-to-get and most expensive money in a generation — since before the Bank Holiday of 1933 — has just begun.

A credit squeeze of a magnitude that will dwarf the pinch of pre - recession 1957 and which will be beyond anything ever known by the majority of Americans is in the making as you read this.

A climactic test of the ability of the Federal Reserve System to brake the boom without breaking it through strict credit controls will be seen in this country this fall.

The financial institutions of the United States are facing a severe strain. The lid is being clamped on credit at a time when demands for the credit are soaring on every side to unprecedented peaks.

This past week saw the unmistakable signal of a new turn in the credit screws. Here's what's going on:

(1) America's top - grade, world - respected corporations have just been formally notified by their banks that from now on they must pay 5 per cent for short - term loans. Simultaneously, their bank lenders are requiring them to maintain a specified percentage of the amount they borrow on deposit.

This requirement means the corporations won't have the full use of the cash for which they are paying 5 per cent and it will raise the real cost of their loans to 6 per cent or more. (In technical jargon, what I've just described is the increase this past Tuesday of the so-called bank "prime rate" from 4½ per cent to a 28-year high of 5 per cent and the stiffening of the banks' rules on compensatory balances.)

(2) Any day now, the nation's thousands of banks, giants and smalls, will be forced to pay 4 per cent for whatever temporary cash they borrow from the Federal Reserve System to fill loan demands of their customers. At the same time, the Federal Reserve will screen banks applying for temporary loans with mounting care.

This will mean that even banks willing to pay the 4 per cent rate won't be able to borrow large amounts for any length of time. (Again, in technical jargon, what I'm forecasting is a near - term hike in the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Banks from 3½ to 4 per cent and a stiffening of the Central Bank's attitude toward any member bank which tries to make free use of "the discount window" to get cash.)

(3) Mortgage rates are climbing to and through the 6 per cent mark around the country, and in some areas they'll reach 7 to 8 per cent even on sound conventional mortgages.

More effective than the steep rate in flattening the upswing in housing will be the increasing scarcity of mortgage money.

(4) Installment loan rates will zoom to all time highs too, although the costs often will be "hidden" in the totals of the monthly payments asked. A definite factor in the price of new cars to millions of buyers this winter will be the rising cost of financing the cars.

(5) More and more states and cities will have to postpone major public works projects because they are prohibited from paying more than a certain interest rate for loans. In this period, the rates demanded on their loans will be above what they are allowed to pay.

(6) Many speculators, small and marginal business firms will be pushed out of the money markets. With money so tight, lenders will be rationing credit — and they'll tend to favor old customers over new ones, a large, established borrower over a small, risky one.

(7) The U. S. Treasury itself will be paying 4 per cent or more for three - month loans, 4½ per cent or more for six-month money. There's no telling what it may have to pay for one-year.

Other nations have known this sort of credit clampdown in modern times but our nation hasn't. We have moved into an historic money squeeze!

Coffee Imports Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Imports of green coffee into the United States in the first seven months of 1959 rose 9 per cent above the like 1958 period, the Commerce Department reported. The January-July total was 1,654,000,000 pounds. July imports of 166 million pounds were valued at $61 million.

In Dilemma

Child Telling Fibs Causes Mother Nervous Upset

Mrs. X., of Washington, D. C., is in a dilemma. She writes:

"I am nervous because I have a problem I don't know how to cope with. I have an only child of seven. She has started telling fibs. Yesterday she was playing in a mud puddle and fell. Went on to school and stayed all afternoon with her clothes all wet and muddy.

"When she came home she told me a boy pushed her in the mud and stuck with that story until today.

"Her father is very strict and punishes her for telling fibs. So, in turn, I cover up for her, just never saying I found out the truth. My husband says I'm the one to blame for her telling fibs because I love her so much I can't punish her.

"I know I'm in the wrong but I guess I need someone else to tell me. Would you please let me know how you feel about it, Dr. Steincrohn? What shall I do? My lovely little child fibs and the truth comes out later. Shall I keep covering up?"

ANSWER: I am a softie just like you. Perhaps, therefore, my advice is not unprejudiced and wise. Nevertheless, I suggest that you continue to "cover up" for a little, frightened, only child who seems to be employing the only defense she knows to protect her from an overly strict father.

If she can't depend upon you to stand behind her, where's she going to look for help?

MENIERE'S A PROBLEM

Mrs. B. T. of Kansas City, Missouri, is a victim of Meniere's Disease.

"I have been to two ear specialists, two neurologists, and now I am going to a well - known internist. I've had all the X-rays, EEG's etc., that ruled out brain tumor.

"Sometimes I get dizzy spells that last for weeks. Then I'll be fine for a while — then knocked out again so I can't work. This has been going on for three years. Seems there isn't a pill or anything to take to shorten the attack.

"I'm now on a low salt diet and take some medicine in pill form twice a day. I am unhappy and depressed. For fear of getting dizzy I spend most of my days in the house. I'm afraid to go shopping and won't even walk to the corner alone.

"Can you offer any suggestion?"

ANSWER: Chances are that your doctors have already tried this: Injections intravenously of a drug called histamine. If not, it's certainly worth a try before you consider surgery.

PLASTIC SURGERY ON NOSE

Mrs. M. F. of Chicago would like to get some information on plastic nose surgery. She writes: "I have heard that it is a very painful type of operation. Is this true? Also that there is quite a bit of discoloration of the face and eyes immediately after the operation.

"Is it expensive? How does one find the best doctor to do the job? I am 47 years old and am wondering if I am too old for this operation."

ANSWER: The operation is painful, but the doctors give the patient medicine to lessen the discomfort. I don't see why temporary discoloration (black eyes) should be an important factor.

Don't go to just anyone to do the work. Ask your nose and throat specialist or your medical society to recommend the names of a few well known plastic surgeons.

As for age — I recall a number of patients who had "new noses" after 50. Their universal complaint: "It is so wonderful! Should have had it done years ago."

BASCOM TIMMONS

Chief Of Staff

One Man Expected To Replace Muli-Headed Approach

Inevitably some day this country will end the multiheaded approach to the solution of our defense problems. Inevitably there will some day be a single chief of staff instead of the ineffective joint chiefs of staff.

Some day there will be a real unification of the services and a reorganization of the civilian quagmire of agencies connected with the services. For the security of the nation as well as for economic reasons that some day cannot be too long postponed. That is why the speech by Senator Clair Engle of California in the senate the other day may well constitute a landmark.

Senator Engle proposed a functional system instead of our present Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force setup. He did not minimize the difficulties and the opposition that would be presented to such a change over. He recognized also that it will perhaps be as difficult to reorganize the hodgepodge of decision - making civilian agencies as to recast the fighting forces.

In the services a great deal of pride and tradition is involved. As an illustration of the reaction to Senator Engle's proposal that there be a single chief of staff, a Marine general said: "I would resign if that ever happened. I would not be part of any organization that gave such power to one man."

An admiral said:

"Why do you think I went to Annapolis? It was because I wanted to be in the Navy. I still want to be in the Navy, not some big undefinable group of military men run by some all - powerful chief of staff."

But in support of centralized planning, programming, budgeting and implementing consider the testimony of Vice Admiral John T. Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations of development, that if he had a program he wanted carried out, he would have to clear it at 10 places, any one of which would veto it.

And in backing Engle's unification proposal, Senator John C. Stennis of Mississippi, one of the ablest and most clear - thinking members of the senate said:

"There is no solution, as I see it, to our present military problems within the framework of our present organization, because the problem is different, the conditions to be met are different, and the solution will require a different system."

And Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri said:

"Changes in the nature of possible war in the last 15 years have been greater than in the previous thousand years yet we are now operating our defense on the basis of tradition, instead of reorganizing them in recognition of present conditions."

Present conditions were never better stated than by President Eisenhower in a message to congress on April 3, 1958:

"Separate ground, sea, and air warfare is gone forever," the president said. "If ever again we should be involved in war, we will fight it in all elements, with all services, as one single concentrated effort. Peacetime preparatory and organizational activity must conform to this."

What will take its place as a great disappointment of his administration is that the president did not employ his great prestige as a military man to bring about that unification. Just a little more than a year of his administration remains yet we have, as Senator Engle pointed out, the Army to fight the ground wars, the Navy to fight the sea wars, and the Air Force to fight the air wars.

"Why," asked the California senator, do we not change our organization to meet the new kind of war that must be fought? "This will call for a complete reorganization of the department of defense along the lines of functions and missions, rather than the outmoded Army and Navy and Air Force organizational setup."

A great deal of the service opposition is due to the bruising effects it would have on them personally, such, for instance, as would come from the consolidation of four separate promotion lists:

"How could you ever get an equitable promotion list if the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force, were integrated into one?" asked an Army general.

Senator Engle himself told the senate that unification if attempted all at once could tear the military organiation to pieces which the country cannot afford at the present critical period. But the various phases can be worked out in a logical sequence.

How To Keep Well

POLITICS FOR OLDSTERS

Eighty years seems a long time yet most octogenarians will admit that life goes too fast. The majority never expected to reach that age bracket. Many are active and continue to work, which may be one of the secrets of their longevity.

Politicians often live to a ripe old age despite difficult campaigns, smoke filled rooms, and heated debates. Furthermore, they pass legislation relative to retirement at a certain age for others but not for themselves. They usually die with their boots on, provided they continue to be re-elected.

There are many facets to their way of life, however, that are compatible with a ripe old age, especially when these lawmakers are dedicated to service and not to dictatorship. Emotional satisfaction accompanies helping others and being appreciated.

"I will be 80 this year and I have been in local politics for 60 years. An 84 year old friend started a little late; he has been in politics only about 50 years. We find voters friendly and are able to help many. We give them the informationthey need, even those who vote against their own party. They are friendly and always glad to meet us. We are not dead yet."

This letter demonstrates why work of this type often is rewarding to an elderly person. It is an excellent way to remain active and in contact with others. There is no better tonic than the satisfaction derived from serving others and a job well done. Everyone, regardless of age, wants to be appreciated by his fellow man.

More oldsters should enter politics and serve their community. Their experience is invaluable. They are more likely to be honest because they have no ambition to go higher in the political field. Moreover, these men are unwilling to spoil their fine reputation through practicing graft.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

DON'T BE ANXIOUS

P. Z. writes: If a person is constipated only on the days when he is under stress but not when he is relaxed, would it be better to take a nerve medicine rather than a laxative?

Why take either? Being constipated for a few days never killed anyone. It is better to wait for the calm and a spontaneous movement rather than upset the intestine with a laxative. Meanwhile, take your stress in stride and do not lean on a crutch such as a nerve medicine.

SURGERY DESPITE EPILEPSY

M. T. writes: Can an epileptic be operated on if he needs surgery?

REPLY

Yes. Most epileptics keep the convulsions under control with medication and the drugs are administered before and after the operation. Should a convulsion develop after surgery, the nurses and physicians will be on hand.

FLABBY AFTER REDUCING

Mrs. G. writes: Since taking off weight the skin on my arms and legs is flabby. Will massaging with alcohol do any good?

Massage may help a bit but it will take time for the skin to regain its tone. Exercise may be of some value. Plastic surgery will be needed to get rid of large aprons of skin.

Solons Risk New Public Works Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee struck back at President Eisenhower Friday by approving a second-round public works money bill containing all the 67 projects that prompted him to veto the first version.

It also chopped 2½ per cent from funds for projects the President wants, enabling the committee to come up with a bill that calls for less spending than he originally requested. But it dared Eisenhower to veto the new measure by once again calling for "starts" on the 67 projects.

The committee okayed the bill on a 19-17 vote and sent it to the House floor for a vote tentativvely scheduled for Tuesday. House passage appeared certain, but the fate of the bill and its various projects in the Senate was uncertain.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), who offered the motion to send the disputed bill to the floor, said he did not believe the President would veto the second measure. But he conceded Eisenhower could sign the bill and then "freeze" funds for the 67 projects.

"The President may do that," he said, "but I hope he doesn't."

In vetoing the first bill, the President said the government was not in fiscal shape to start work on the new flood control and reclamation projects. He said work would be started on some of them when conditions warranted.

The committee did nothing to meet the President's objections. The only difference between the vetoed measure and the new bill is that total funds in the second version were cut across the board by 2½ per cent, or $30,336,945.

This reduced the bill's total to $1,185,140,863, or $265,396 less than the amount proposed in the President's January budget. The vetoed bill called for spending $1,215,447,808. The veto was upheld by the House Wednesday by only one vote.

Democrats have charged the administration was able to line up almost solid GOP support for the veto by secretly promising Republicans their projects would be included in next year's budget.

The President prefers that private interests develop the project. But he indicated he would go along with federal construction if that was the only course Congress would agree to.

Decision Of The Moment

INVITES DE GAULLE TO U.S.

Ike Tests Famed Scotland Links

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—President Eisenhower went golfing in Scotland Friday after renewing an invitation to French President Charles de Gaulle to visit the United States "before too long."

The invitation was contained in a letter Eisenhower wrote just before he left Paris to fly to Scotland in the morning.

In a gesture of extreme warmth toward De Gaulle, Eisenhower followed up the letter with a message radioed from his jet plane saying: "We in the U.S. government will deem it a great privilege to maintain close contact with you and your government."

Texts of the letter and radio message were disclosed by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty in Scotland.

While Hagerty was holding a news conference in Ayr, the President was finishing his first 18 holes of golf at the Ailsa course in Turnberry.

The President shot an 89, 18 over par. It was the first time he had seen the tough championship course laid out along the edge of the Scottish coast.

The President flew to Scotland, and another big welcome from the people for three days of rest and golf after a strenuous set of conferences in West Germany, Britain, and France. The talks were a prelude to his coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He moved into a 16-room apartment at Culzean Castle, lavish rooms which were given to him for life by the Scottish people for his leadership in World War II.

Hagerty said the President plans to start the return flight to Washington Monday morning.

In his letter to De Gaulle, Eisenhower spoke of the "warmth of the welcome I have received in France, the hospitality you yourself have extended to me and my party."

The talks with De Gaulle, he wrote, "form a memory that I assure you will remain always in my mind."

He expressed appreciation for the opportunity to learn the Frenchman's views "on the great problems that lie before both of us."

He closed the letter by saying, "I only hope, Mr. President, that before too long you will find it possible to visit the United States and receive the welcome that awaits you there."

The message radioed from the plane en route to Scotland contained much the same sentiment.

He said he hopes close contact between the U.S. and French governments will be maintained.

"Again I salute the renewed health and vigor of France," Eisenhower radioed in closing. "With lasting personal regards."

Correspondents asked Hagerty why the President sent two somewhat similar messages to De Gaulle. Hagerty replied he did not consider it necessary for him to explain the President's action.

He disclosed that message of similar character also went to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and to Prime Minister Harold Macmillen after talks in Bonn and London.

The President lost little time in getting to the golf course after his arrival at Culzean Castle. He neither looked nor acted tired after nine days of conferences—some of them long and arduous—and traveling through three European countries.

He was in high spirits on the flight from Paris.

He landed in clear, bright sunshine and motored past waving and cheering vacationers to the castle where he was greeted by the Marquess of Ailsa. The 33-year old nobleman is head of the family which gave the castle to the National Foundation, a government agency.

First Powered Flight Of X-15 Delayed Again

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Fuel-line difficulties forced the cancellation Friday of the first powered flight of the experimental manned rocket ship X-15 after it was carried aloft by a jet bomber.

The snub-nosed research plane, designed for speeds up to 4,000 miles an hour, was lifted into the sky beneath the wing of a B-52 bomber at 10:14 a.m. e.d.t.

Before the mother ship reached the scheduled "drop" position, test pilot Scott Crossfield notified the bomber crew he was having trouble with the fuel line.

Cross field decided to return to the Edwards ase still attached to the bomber rather than jettison the fuel and glide to earth.

Rebel Bands Clash With Laos Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Guerrilla fighting is flaring over a wide area in northern Laos where pro-Communist forces threaten the mountain-rimmed stronghold of Sam Neua.

Government spokesman Sisouk Na Champassak said at least 15 armed rebel fighters were killed and five government troops were missing in clashes Thursday in the northern jungles.

Brig. Gen. Amkha Soukhavong, commander in the north, said rebel forces were probing ever closer to Sam Neua. He declared a force of 4,500 was grouping for an onslaught on that provincial capital.

Sisouk said small clashes were reported at Nong Khang on the western end of the government's defensive perimeter 18 miles from Sam Neua.

Two government soldiers were reported wounded at Muong Poue in fighting in Sam Neua province.

Skirmishes broke out at Muong Khoua and Muong Ngoi on the south border of Phong Saly province, north of Sam Neua, Sisouk said. Some refugees fled the town to escape surrounding rebel forces.

Guerrillas also struck at Muong Phang in Xiengkhouang province south of Sam Neua, Sisouk added.

He said government troops were mopping up rebel remnants around Muong Son, a key post recaptured this week west of Sam Neua.

The attacks were by Pathet Lao rebel units which Laos charges are supported by North Vietnamese Communist regulars. Sisouk said Vietnamese cadres were operating with each rebel group.

Soukhavong has warned that an attack on Sam Neua would be "an international political "move" to re-establish the Communist Pathet Lao movement in it's old domain. The Pathet Lao once controlled Sam Neua and Phong Saly provinces until integration with the government in 1957.

King Saud Ends Nasser Parley

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia ended a four-day visit Friday in general agreement with President Gamal Abden Nasser to step up a drive against communism in the Arab world.

Saud's visit was the first time the two Arab leaders had met since 1957. The visit seemed completely to heal the breach of a year ago when Nasser accused Saud of trying to have him assassinated—a charge which Saud denied.

NEHRU PLANS REPORT

Red China Calls India Aggressor

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Red China has countered India's charge of border aggression by calling India the aggressor. Indian patrols, it declared, have entered Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru disclosed this Friday and said, "There is a big argument over it."

He told Parliament his government will issue within the next week a White Paper — an official report — on the tense border situation, including correspondence with the Chinese. He said the countercharge was made in a fairly long note that arrived from Peiping Thursday.

"They accuse us of aggression against their — Tibetan — border," he said. "Obviously their version does not tally with ours. They have given the names of some places where they said the aggression took place and we are looking into it."

He said he fails to understand the Chinese border attacks.

"I don't know whether it is local aggressiveness to show us our place or something deeper," he said.

He described as a reprehensible affront Peiping's action in circulating maps claiming for China broad sections of Ladakh province, Assam, the Northeast Frontier Agency and other Indian regions.

Among other developments:

1. A rightist political leader of Nepal, Rana Mrigendra, charged that Red Chinese agents are infiltrating that neighboring kingdom by posing as Tibetan refugees. He said their assignment is to distribute Communist literature and combat the sympathy of Nepalese tribesmen for Tibetans, whose spring uprising was crushed by the Chinese. On the other hand, Nepal's government said it is satisfied with behavior of the refugees. It reported 750 have entered so far.

2. Kushak Bakul, Indian Kashmir's minister for the affairs of Ladakh province, declared in Srinagar that the Chinese Communists have fixed November "for their advance on Ladakh." It is a frontier area first invaded by Chinese patrols in 1957. Bakul said the Chinese now occupy the northeast portions and have laid a road there linking Tibet and Sinkiang province of northwest China.

3. From Leh, the Ladakh province capital, came a report that the Chinese are building bases, including airports, at the Tibetan towns of Rudolk and Gartok.

India's charge of aggression was based on intrusions by Red China's units 1,000 miles apart in the Himalayas — into Ladakh and the Northeast Frontier Agency.

Nehru told Parliament he still feels "these two great nations of Asia — India and China — must have friendly relations."

"It would be a tragedy for Asia and the whole world if they should develop some permanent condition of hostility," he said.

He made the points that:

India will not allow itself to be bullied, but is quite willing to submit the border disputes to arbitration by anyone agreed to by both parties.

India has no wish to push things to the point where there is no recourse but to arms.

India will persevere in attempts to retain the friendship of Peiping "even though it sometimes is hard to feel friendly when we see our people not being treated courteously and when we get communications singularly lacking in courtesy."

"What eartly good would come of a debate for anybody?" Nehru asked. "It would be an acrimonious discussion after the cold war fashion—nothing more.

"Nobody is going to send an army to Tibet. If they couldn't send an army go Hungary—where the Russians crushed a revolt in 1956—in the heart of Europe, how on earth could anyone think they would send an army to Tibet?"

The Prime Minister had a report also on his conference at the New Delhi airport Tuesday with Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan, president of Pakistan. India and Pakistan are rivals for possession of Kashmir, and have had other persistent differences.

"President Ayub Khan said all outstanding problems, even Kashmir, were capable of settlement and I agreed," Nehru said.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

POLITICS FOR OLDSTERS

Eighty years seems a long time yet most octogenarians will admit that life goes too fast. The majority never expected to reach that age bracket. Many are active and continue to work, which may be one of the secrets of their longevity.

Politicians often live to a ripe old age despite difficult campaigns, smoke filled rooms, and heated debates. Furthermore, they pass legislation relative to retirement at a certain age for others but not for themselves. They usually die with their boots on, provided they continue to be re-elected.

There are many facets to their way of life, however, that are compatible with a ripe old age, especially when these lawmakers are dedicated to service and not to dictatorship. Emotional satisfaction accompanies helping others and being appreciated.

"I will be 80 this year and I have been in local politics for 60 years. An 84 year old friend started a little late; he has been in politics only about 50 years. We find voters friendly and are able to help many. We give them the informationthey need, even those who vote against their own party. They are friendly and always glad to meet us. We are not dead yet."

This letter demonstrates why work of this type often is rewarding to an elderly person. It is an excellent way to remain active and in contact with others. There is no better tonic than the satisfaction derived from serving others and a job well done. Everyone, regardless of age, wants to be appreciated by his fellow man.

More oldsters should enter politics and serve their community. Their experience is invaluable. They are more likely to be honest because they have no ambition to go higher in the political field. Moreover, these men are unwilling to spoil their fine reputation through practicing graft.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

DON'T BE ANXIOUS

P. Z. writes: If a person is constipated only on the days when he is under stress but not when he is relaxed, would it be better to take a nerve medicine rather than a laxative?

Why take either? Being constipated for a few days never killed anyone. It is better to wait for the calm and a spontaneous movement rather than upset the intestine with a laxative. Meanwhile, take your stress in stride and do not lean on a crutch such as a nerve medicine.

SURGERY DESPITE EPILEPSY

M. T. writes: Can an epileptic be operated on if he needs surgery?

REPLY

Yes. Most epileptics keep the convulsions under control with medication and the drugs are administered before and after the operation. Should a convulsion develop after surgery, the nurses and physicians will be on hand.

FLABBY AFTER REDUCING

Mrs. G. writes: Since taking off weight the skin on my arms and legs is flabby. Will massaging with alcohol do any good?

Massage may help a bit but it will take time for the skin to regain its tone. Exercise may be of some value. Plastic surgery will be needed to get rid of large aprons of skin.

Solons Risk New Public Works Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee struck back at President Eisenhower Friday by approving a second-round public works money bill containing all the 67 projects that prompted him to veto the first version.

It also chopped 2½ per cent from funds for projects the President wants, enabling the committee to come up with a bill that calls for less spending than he originally requested. But it dared Eisenhower to veto the new measure by once again calling for "starts" on the 67 projects.

The committee okayed the bill on a 19-17 vote and sent it to the House floor for a vote tentativvely scheduled for Tuesday. House passage appeared certain, but the fate of the bill and its various projects in the Senate was uncertain.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), who offered the motion to send the disputed bill to the floor, said he did not believe the President would veto the second measure. But he conceded Eisenhower could sign the bill and then "freeze" funds for the 67 projects.

"The President may do that," he said, "but I hope he doesn't."

In vetoing the first bill, the President said the government was not in fiscal shape to start work on the new flood control and reclamation projects. He said work would be started on some of them when conditions warranted.

The committee did nothing to meet the President's objections. The only difference between the vetoed measure and the new bill is that total funds in the second version were cut across the board by 2½ per cent, or $30,336,945.

This reduced the bill's total to $1,185,140,863, or $265,396 less than the amount proposed in the President's January budget. The vetoed bill called for spending $1,215,447,808. The veto was upheld by the House Wednesday by only one vote.

Democrats have charged the administration was able to line up almost solid GOP support for the veto by secretly promising Republicans their projects would be included in next year's budget.

The President prefers that private interests develop the project. But he indicated he would go along with federal construction if that was the only course Congress would agree to.

Decision Of The Moment

Ike Tests Famed Scotland Links

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)— President Eisenhower went golfing in Scotland Friday after renewing an invitation to French President Charles de Gaulle to visit the United States "before too long."

The invitation was contained in a letter Eisenhower wrote just before he left Paris to fly to Scotland in the morning.

In a gesture of extreme warmth toward De Gaulle, Eisenhower followed up the letter with a message radioed from his jet plane saying: "We in the U.S. government will deem it a great privilege to maintain close contact with you and your government."

Texts of the letter and radio message were disclosed by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty in Scotland.

While Hagerty was holding a news conference in Ayr, the President was finishing his first 18 holes of golf at the Ailsa course in Turnberry.

The President shot an 89, 18 over par. It was the first time he had seen the tough championship course laid out along the edge of the Scottish coast.

The President flew to Scotland, and another big welcome from the people for three days of rest and golf after a strenuous set of conferences in West Germany, Britain, and France. The talks were a prelude to his coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He moved into a 16-room apartment at Culzean Castle, lavish rooms which were given to him for life by the Scottish people for his leadership in World War II.

Hagerty said the President plans to start the return flight to Washington Monday morning.

In his letter to De Gaulle, Eisenhower spoke of the "warmth of the welcome I have received in France, the hospitality you yourself have extended to me and my party."

The talks with De Gaulle, he wrote, "form a memory that I assure you will remain always in my mind."

He expressed appreciation for the opportunity to learn the Frenchman's views "on the great problems that lie before both of us."

He closed the letter by saying, "I only hope, Mr. President, th before too long you will find it possible to visit the United States and receive the welcome that awaits you there."

The message radioed from the plane en route to Scotland contained much the same sentiment.

He said he hopes close contact between the U.S. and French governments will be maintained.

"Again I salute the renewed health and vigor of France," Eisenhower radioed in closing. "With lasting personal regards."

Correspondents asked Hagerty why the President sent two somewhat similar messages to De Gaulle. Hagerty replied he did not consider it necessary for him to explain the President's action.

He disclosed that message of similar character also went to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after talks in Bonn and London.

The President lost little time in getting to the golf course after his arrival at Culzean Castle. He neither looked nor acted tired after nine days of conferences—some of them long and arduous—and traveling through three European countries.

He was in high spirits on the flight from Paris.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Bulletin Board

Debra Paget's current romance is the revival of an old flame, and her mother is reportedly quite upset about the turn of events. The gentleman in question is supposed to be seriously involved with another beauty . . . NBC is planning a television program to honor Eleanor Roosevelt that ought to make history, so many great show business names are eager to perform for the former First Lady. The tribute is scheduled for late October, with Firestone probably sponsoring it, Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye among the stars doing turns, and even the possibility of Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly doing a dance duet for Mrs. FDR . . . Friends still are hopeful that Glenn Ford and Eleanor Powell will reconcile, but they say Eleanor is finding it hard to forget Glenn's infatuation with Debbie Reynolds . . . Van Cliburn has been doing his bit to foster happy relations between the U. S. and Russia — hosting delegations of visiting theatrical figures (all unofficial, of course) to various Broadway shows and taking them backstage afterwards to meet the actors.

A touching tribute to the latent Puritanism in the much - publicized Hollywood "Rat Pack" is to be found in the current Look magazine profile on Shirley MacLaine. The author quite seriously notes that "During the many months when it has not been possible for Parker (her husband) to be with her, Shirley has gone to parties with various people. Most widely publicized has been her friendship with Frank Sinatra and the Dean Martins. With them and other Sinatra-Martin friends, she has attended dozens of parties in Las Vegas, Palm Springs and Beverly Hills. "But," explains Martin, "we all respect her as a married woman and that's it. We kid around and hug her real close, but that's it!"

Golly, it's enough to bring tears to Pat Boone's eyes. And Billy Graham will be enormously encouraged, too. Looks as if the fight with the Devil has been won, there isn't a man in the world who wouldn't be proud to know that Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin were hugging his wife "real close."

The English newspapers are squawking because the government - controlled BBC television network is paying comedian Alan King $13,000 for one appearance on a spectacular. That's a giant sum in the eyes of British performers — and obviously, even more staggering to the journalists . . . Producer - agent Vic Orsatti frequently is linked with glamor girls, but intimates believe he's carrying a torch for his estranged wife, former New York model Pat Van Iver . . . Susan Strasberg's most important beau at the moment is H. Ridgely Bullock, Jr., billed as not only attentive but a millionaire . . . The film colony anticipates a revival of active censorship groups. Recent flickers have so successfully flaunted the former rules about acceptable scenes and dialogue that it began to look as though the blue-pencillers had taken a vacation, but they're coming back with a vengeance, inspired by pressure from civic and religious groups.

Poignant note anent Dr. Tom Dooley, the scientist stricken with cancer: When his secretary called him at the hospital the other day and asked for Dr. Dooley, he came on the telephone and said, "I'm not Dr. Dooley, I'm just plain Tom — and I'm scared" . . . Ernest Borgnine hopes to be able to remain in Mexico until he marries Katy Jurado and adopts her two children. He shrinks from further "embarrassment" from his embittered ex - wife if he strays back into her territory . . . The most recent and assertedly "final parting of the Vic Damones has a special interest for actor Yale Wexler. He seemed to flip over Pier Anglei when she was fancy free during the first rift.

Postal officials just might be secretly testing New York's mail delivery system. There've been numerous complaints that mail from one local area to another sometimes takes as long as three days . . . Paul Anka, the rock 'n' roll writer and recorder, is writing an original song for Marty Allen and Steve Rossi. They'll wax it as their first effort for Columbia . . . Much funniness involved in David Wayne's appearance in the Theatre Guild's tryout of "Marcus in the High Grass" at the Westport, Conn., playhouse. Official Westport sources report that he's "captivated" by the script and "is trying to free himself of other commitments" so he can do the play on Broadway, but the author, William Gunn, is under the impression that Wayne definitely has rejected other offers in order to clear his schedule for the Gunn vehicle.

Reds Slay Refugees

MACAO (UPI)—A Chinese Communist gunboat Friday night riddled a sampan trying to reach refuge in Portuguese Macao and then machine - gunned its helpless occupants as they thrashed about in the water. Six pedsons, including a woman, two 3-year-old girls and three men were killed by the Red gunfire or drowned, according to reports.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

Broadway Bulletin Board

Debra Paget's current romance is the revival of an old flame, and her mother is reportedly quite upset about the turn of events. The gentleman in question is supposed to be seriously involved with another beauty . . . NBC is planning a television program to honor Eleanor Roosevelt that ought to make history, so many great show business names are eager to perform for the former First Lady. The tribute is scheduled for late October, with Firestone probably sponsoring it, Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye among the stars doing turns, and even the possibility of Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly doing a dance duet for Mrs. FDR . . . Friends still are hopeful that Glenn Ford and Eleanor Powell will reconcile, but they say Eleanor is finding it hard to forget Glenn's infatuation with Debbie Reynolds . . . Van Cliburn has been doing his bit to foster happy relations between the U. S. and Russia — hosting delegations of visiting theatrical figures (all unofficial, of course) to various Broadway shows and taking them backstage afterwards to meet the actors.

A touching tribute to the latent Puritanism in the much-publicized Hollywood "Rat Pack" is to be found in the current Look magazine profile on Shirley MacLaine. The author quite seriously notes that "During the many months when it has not been possible for Parker (her husband) to be with her, Shirley has gone to parties with various people. Most widely publicized has been her friendship with Frank Sinatra and the Dean Martins. With them and other Sinatra-Martin friends, she has attended dozens of parties in Las Vegas, Palm Springs and Beverly Hills. "But," explains Martin, "we all respect her as a married woman and that's it. We kid around and hug her real close, but that's it!"

Golly, it's enough to bring tears to Pat Boone's eyes. And Billy Graham will be enormously encouraged, too. Looks as if the fight with the Devil has been won, there isn't a man in the world who wouldn't be proud to know that Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin were hugging his wife "real close."

The English newspapers are squawking because the government - controlled BBC television network is paying comedian Alan King $13,000 for one appearance on a spectacular. That's a giant sum in the eyes of British performers — and obviously, even more staggering to the journalists . . . Producer - agent Vic Orsatti frequently is linked with glamor girls, but intimates believe he's carrying a torch for his estranged wife, former New York model Pat Van Iver . . . Susan Strasberg's most important beau at the moment is H. Ridgely Bullock, Jr., billed as not only attentive but a millionaire . . . The film colony anticipates a revival of active censorship groups. Recent flickers have so successfully flaunted the former rules about acceptable scenes and dialogue that it began to look as though the blue-pencillers had taken a vacation, but they're coming back with a vengeance, inspired by pressure from civic and religious groups.

Poignant note anent Dr. Tom Dooley, the scientist stricken with cancer; When his secretary called him at the hospital the other day and asked for Dr. Dooley, he came on the telephone and said, "I'm not Dr. Dooley, I'm just plain Tom — and I'm scared" . . . Ernest Borgnine hopes to be able to remain in Mexico until he marries Katy Jurado and adopts her two children. He shrinks from further "embarrassment" from his embittered ex - wife if he strays back into her territory . . . The most recent and assertedly "final parting of the Vic Damones has a special interest for actor Yale Wexler. He seemed to flip over Pier Anglei when she was fancy free during the first rift.

Postal officials just might be secretly testing New York's mail delivery system. There've been numerous complaints that mail from one local area to another sometimes takes as long as three days . . . Paul Anka, the rock 'n' roll writer and recorder, is writing an original song for Marty Allen and Steve Rossi. They'll wax it as their first effort for Columbia . . . Much funniness involved in David Wayne's appearance in the Theatre Guild's tryout of "Marcus in the High Grass" at the Westport, Conn., playhouse. Official Westport sources report that he's "captivated" by the script and "is trying to free himself of other commitments" so he can do the play on Broadway, but the author, William Gunn, is under the impression that Wayne definitely has rejected other offers in order to clear his schedule for the Gunn vehicle.

Reds Slay Refugees

MACAO (UPI)—A Chinese Communist gunboat Friday night riddled a sampan trying to reach refuge in Portuguese Macao and then machine - gunned its helpless occupants as they thrashed about in the water. Six pedsons, including a woman, two 3-year-old girls and three men were killed by the Red gunfire or drowned, according to reports.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Election Plans To Be Discussed By Republicans

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—The Republican State Central Committee, promising "a full slate of candidates" in the December primary, meets here Saturday to select a national committee and initiate election plans.

The top choices to succeed Dr. Virgil Jackson of New Orleans as national committeeman are two New Orleans lawyers, George W. Blue and George W. Reece Jr.

The state committee has an authorized strength of 101 members, but there are presently 15 of 20 vacancies. There was no indication if a move would be made Saturday to fill the vacancies.

The committee will also set Dec. 5 as the date for the primary election, the same day as the Democratic primary. Former state police Supt. Francis Grevemberg, who ran fifth in the Democratic election in 1956, reportedly will be the Republican candidate for governor.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My wife says after Labor Day I should pack away my lightweight cord suits, open weave shirts and ventilated shoes. She's a firm believer in going by the calendar. I contend that the thermometer should be the guide and don't intend to discard my comfortable clothing while it's hot. Who's right?

Bob H.

As a rule the calendar and the temperature aren't too far apart. It's only a matter of degrees! I recommend that even though Labor Day may traditionally signal the end of summer, temper your attire with the temperature. Of course, you don't want to overlook your looks, but comfort is a basic requisite of whatever you wear.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Do you think using a cigarette holder is effeminate? My girl friend threatens to quit seeing me since I started sporting one because of this peculiar notion. If you'd say something about its having a masculine appearance it might convince her she's wrong.

A Worried Suitor

You might point out that many men of the virlie type use them. You also can play up the fact they're debonair looking and make you feel a bit sophisticated. But, if you're like the rest of us males when it comes to a difference of opinion with a woman, you might decide to "compromise" by giving this piece of smoking equipment the air and keeping your girl friend.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: All the publicity given the new continental model has thoroughly confused our son who is getting ready to go back tocollege. Now he's not sure whether he should buy the traditional Ivy model as he's afraid this new style will replace it. Will you please tell us just what model is best for university wear?

Mrs. T. E. F.

No need being confused. Both the natural shoulder (what you call Ivy) model and the continental look will be popular. He can get a combination of the two if he likes. The semi-peak lapel, cut away front, and side vents, continental features, are being shown quite extensively in natural shoulder models. He'll see a lot of this style on campus.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Please tell me if I'm right or wrong? Every time we go out in the evening, unless I wear a white shirt I get a big argument from my wife who says I shouldn't wear anything else. A yes or no answer from you would help end a lot of family bickering on this question.

Al

For the more formal type affairs such as dinner parties or theatre, I'll have to go along with your wife — a white shirt is in order. For visiting friends, the movies or for other more informal evenings, wear colored or patterned shirts if you like. You wanted a yes or no answer. You got both. Let the particular occasion be the deciding factor.

TIP FOR THE DAY

An Important Subject Matter

One course we'd like to see given all college men is in the Art of Good Appearance. This would stress that a man is judged by his appearance and poise, as well as by his academic record, regardless of the career or profession chosen. We'll gladly advise any college desirous of instituting such a course.

Mr. Juster will be glad to answer your questions. He also has a booklet, "Guide to Better Dress" which includes a color chart, physical proportions chart, and many tips for improving appearance. The booklet is available free. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope to Harry Juster in care of Monroe Morning World.

Auto Insurance Head Gets Five Years For Fraud

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Raymond Nelson Standefer, whose automobile insurance firm is estimated to have bilked persons in this area of more than one million dollars, Friday was sentenced to serve five years in prison.

The 45-year-old ex-convict pleaded guilty last week to a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Standefer operated the Union Automobile Club here for 10 years and had 30 branch offices in seven Midwestern states. The government said his salesmen operated among low-income customers and made claims that the policies included collision and liability coverage, which they did not. The government said Standefer was aware of the misrepresentation.

He closed his operations here in 1957, operated for a short time in New Orleans and then opened the American Motorists Assn. in Chicago.

Records showed he had served a previous sentence for mail fraud.

Crowd Heckles India's Defense Minister Menon

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Demonstrators waved black flags and shouted, "Resign! Resign!" when Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon spoke at a meeting in Bombay Friday.

Menon has been involved recently in disagreements with Indian armed service chiefs over military administrative matters.

Police managed to prevent most of the demonstrators—largely extreme right-wing Hindu elements—from reaching the meeting.

But some got through to the new social service center Menon was opening and heckled him. Police grappled with the intruders and finally threw them out.

Gets Big Order

Temco's announcement followed a formal statement by Boeing that the Wichita division has received a formal go-ahead from the Air Force for b-52H production.

Negroes Protest Plans For White Store In Area

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — White storekeeper W. J. Garrett staked out a site for his new home in a Negro section of Jackson Friday despite protests from 82 Negro residents.

"We believe that the races should be segregated as far as possible," the Negro group said in its petition to the county board of supervisors.

Garrett, 62-year-old father of three daughters, charged Negro storekeepers in the area were unhappy and are behind the move.

The Negro petitioners said Garrett had three teenage daughters and "there are a lot of young colored boys in this area. We do not want anything to happen which would cause any trouble."

Garrett said he had been operating stores catering to Negro trade at nearby Flora and Raymond before moving here two years ago.

"Nothing has ever happened," he said.

Previous operations have been in a combined store-residence. He plans a separate house and store here, with an adjoining service station.

The Negroes charged that they felt white neighborhoods would react the same way if a Negro sought to move in.

Garrett said no one could stop him because he already had a building permit, but the county board of supervisors passed the Negroes' petition on to building and permits director G. H. Harris for study.

Two Crane Eggs Are Hatched In Milwaukee Zoo

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Two East African crowned crane eggs have been hatched at the Washington Park Zoo, an accomplishment which zoo Director George Speidel described Friday as a very rare occurrence.

The chicks, brownish with specks of black, are about the size of a full-grown quail. The parent cranes have been at the zoo for nearly 35 years, adding to the rarity of the births. The average life span of a crowned crane is 40 years.

Speidel said the chicks were the third and fourth cranes known to have been born in a United States zoo and the second and third here. The first here was hatched in September 1955 and grew to maturity but died about six months ago of an unknown cause. The only other crowned crane known to have been hatched in captivity in this country was at the San Antonio, Tex., Zoo several years ago.

Girl, 10, Saves Life Of Infant By Respiration

St. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A girl, 10, applied mouth-to-mouth respiration to save the life of her baby sister hursday night.

Joyce Gibson, 2, ill with a high fever, stopped breathing and became limp following a convulsion. Her sister, Linda Kay, breathed into the tot's mouth for five to 10 minutes.

"Once in a while she'd gasp a little and then stop breathing again so I kept it up," Linda Kay said. "I was crying a little bit but I kept telling myself, 'Joyce is the only little sister you've got.' "

Mrs. Eugene Gibson, the girls' mother, meanwhile was on the phone calling police and a doctor. By the time help arrived, Joyce was breathing regularly.

"The policeman said I did good," Linda Kay recalled.

Election Plans To Be Discussed By Republicans

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—The Republican State Central Committee, promising "a full slate of candidates" in the December primary, meets here Saturday to select a national committee and initiate election plans.

The state committee has an authorized strength of 101 members, but there are presently 15 of 20 vacancies. There was no indication if a move would be made Saturday to fill the vacancies.

The committee will also set Dec. 5 as the date for the primary election, the same day as the Democratic primary. Former state police Supt. Francis Grevemberg, who ran fifth in the Democratic election in 1956, reportedly will be the Republican candidate for governor.

Speidel said the chicks were the third and fourth cranes known to have been born in a United States zoo and the second and third here. The first here was hatched in September 1955 and grew to maturity but died about six months ago of an unknown cause. The only other crowned crane known to have been hatched in captivity in this country was at the San Antonio, Tex., Zoo several years ago.

Girl, 10, Saves Life Of Infant By Respiration

St. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A girl, 10, applied mouth-to-mouth respiration to save the life of her baby sister hursday night.

Joyce Gibson, 2, ill with a high fever, stopped breathing and became limp following a convulsion. Her sister, Linda Kay, breathed into the tot's mouth for five to 10 minutes.

"Once in a while she'd gasp a little and then stop breathing again so I kept it up," Linda Kay said. "I was crying a little bit but I kept telling myself, 'Joyce is the only little sister you've got.' "

Mrs. Eugene Gibson, the girls' mother, meanwhile was on the phone calling police and a doctor. By the time help arrived, Joyce was breathing regularly.

"The policeman said I did good," Linda Kay recalled.

Other features the President found objectionable would have authorized 37,000 new public housing units and would have authorized 650 million dollars in federal grants to cities for urban renewal projects.

The President called instead for a bill that would remove the ceiling on Federal Housing Authority mortgage insurance; extend the FHA home improvement program; authorize lower urban renewal grants and college housing loans; adjust interest rates on college housing loans; extend the voluntary home mortgage credit program; and adjust the interest rate ceilings on FHA-insured mortgages for rental and cooperative housing.

The second housing bill called for slightly less spending than the first. But Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) said it called for starting "snowballing programs" that would have been costly in the future.

speculated the Security Council would be called to meet early next week.

If the Soviet Union should veto Council action, the General Assembly could be called into emergency session within 24 hours by a vote of any seven of the 11 Council members.

The Assembly is empowered to recommend that member countries use armed force to maintain or restore international peace.

Thephathay Vilaihongs, of the Laotian delegation handed his foreign minister's letter to Hammarskjold's American executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

It said that since July 16, foreign troops with "reinforcements from outside in personnel and in supplies of food and ammunition" have been fighting royal Laotian army garrisons on the northeastern frontier, forcing them to abandon many posts.

"On the 30th of August," it went on, "a new attack surpassing in violence those previously encountered was launched against the posts of Muong Het and Xieng Kho with the participation of elements coming from the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam and supported by artillery fire based on the other side of the frontier.

"In the face of this characterized aggression, for which the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam bears full responsibility, Laos requests the assistance of the United Nations organization of which it is a member.

"In particular, the royal government requests the sending in the shortest possible time of an emergency force in order to stop the aggression and prevent it from spreading."

The U.S. delegation here said it is conferring with the State Department, "which is giving the matter urgent study."

A State Department press officer at Washington commented: "Our support for the Laotian government is clearly evidenced, but I can not say what form it will take at this time."

The United States is now giving Laos light military equipment and helping train Laotian troops.

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said Britain is not prepared to discuss what attitude it will take when the matter comes up in the U.N.

Hammarskjold has authority under the U.N. Charter to put before the Security Council "any matter which in his opinion may threaten the maintenance of international peace and security."

Laos did not ask specifically that either the Security Council or the General Assembly take up its request.

But it cited a Charter provision empowering the 82-nation Assembly to discuss any questions on maintenance of international peace brought before it by any U.N. member or the Security Council.

The Assembly must refer "any such question on which action is necessary" to the Council before or after its own discussion.

Only the Council is authorized by the Charter to send forces or call on member countries to send them for use against aggression.

But the Assembly is empowered in a 1950 resolution to recommend that members send forces for that purpose, whenever the big-power veto has kept the Council from acting.

Under this so-called "uniting for peace" resolution, when any such veto occurs, the Council by a vote of seven of its 11 members may call the Assembly into emergency session within 24 hours. Otherwise, a majority of the U.N.'s members may call such a session.

The U.N. has no standing army of its own. The U.N. Command in Korea—actually, U.S. officers—has charge of troops of member countries that they sent in 1950 when the Council ruled that Communist North Korea was guilty of aggression on South Korea.

The U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East consists of troops lent to the U.N. by members and sent out in 1956 to oversee withdrawal of Israeli, British and French invasion forces and thereafter guard the Egypt-Israel line.

"It was something I would have done for any citizen," he said at the time.

The crime commission issued a statement Friday saying it "deplores the implication by Sen. Ellender that he used his position as a legislator to obstruct the work of an executive branch of the federal government.

"We further considered his statement," the crime commission said, "to be an unjust condemnation of federal internal revenue officials and agents in Louisiana, since the inference was created that they have been restrained from performing their duty as it applies to Gov. Long. . ."

"Information received from persons who have been currently interrogated by revenue agents," the statement concluded, "in connection with the investigation gives reason to believe that Sen. Ellender is inaccurate in his statement that the probe of Gov. Long's tax returns has been stopped."

Carstarphen's group also plans to go to the courts if the committee approves Long's candidacy. On the other hand, Long has promised to go to the courts if the committee turns him down.

A committee source said an additional resolution may be offered to the session to stop Long's qualification.

The source said the resolution would name Long and list reasons why the governor should be rejected as a candidate.

Unless the Long political issue is settled, the committee session probably will be routine. The original purpose of the session was to issue a call for the primary election and take care of such mechanics as setting the qualification fee.

Chairman Rufus Hayes, bracing for a hassle, named an expert on parliamentary law to interpret the rules in crucial disputes. Hayes gave the job to Dr. Giles W. Gray, a speech professor and teacher of parliamentary law at Louisiana State University more than 20 years.

Hayes said he is a candidate for reelection on gubernatorial ticket of Jimmie Davis "and I feel there should not be any question in the minds of the public and the committee whether the meeting is conducted properly."

Hayes said he intends to accept the advice of Dr. Gray in making chair decisions.

Hayes, elected state insurance commissioner on Long's ticket, has joined the Jimmie Davis faction. It is the insurance post he seeks to regain.

Long's opponents also may resort to an established legal procedure for objecting to his candidacy. This way, a protest would be filed with the committee within five days after the Sept. 15 deadline for qualifications. Any voter, committee member or candidate can protest by filing written, detailed reasons.

Long denied a report Friday that he had "just about" decided not to run for re-election and was searching frantically for a man to endorse as a candidate for governor.

He called the report "a lot of bunk." Still, rumors of every imaginable brand seeped about the capitol. Many had Long running for a lesser office.

Reports said Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, Senate president S. J. Cleveland of Crowley state Racing Commissioner J. M. (Pete) Menefee ad Public Works Director Lorris Wimberly each had turned down requests to run.

Long has taken a "let them wonder" attitude while keeping everyone guessing. He may wait until just before the 5 p.m., Sept. 15, deadline to make his move.

Any challenge to the governor could come as late as Sept. 20. Long then would have another 48 hours to reply and the committee would have still another 72 hours to consider the dispute.

Camille Gravel Jr., of Alexandria, Democratic national committeeman and a member of the state committee, said Long's qualification will be challenged if he tries to run. Gravel also said Davis or someone acting for him probably will do the challenging.

Papers already are drawn up and ready for the governor's signature should he decide to resign. The plan for resignation would follow the precedent set in 1939 by former Gov. Richard Leche, a move which gave Long his first term as governor.

Leche used proclamations in submitting his resignation to himself and accepting it in the name of the people. The Leche resignation never was challenged.

Several other declared gubernatorial candidates are looking with interest on the committee meeting and the long dispute.

They include Davis, State Sen. William Rainach, state comptroller William J. Dodd, Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans, Rep. J. Marshall Brown of Orleans Parish, Roswell Thompson, New Orleans taxicab driver, Walter R. Krousel Jr., Baton Rouge attorney.

Khrushchev To Visit Red China Capital

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed Friday night he is going to Peiping Sept. 29, the day after he returns from his visit to the United States.

Khrushchev told of his plans for the trip, without discussing the purpose, in a chat with Poland's Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz and other officials at a reception opening the Polish industrial exhibition in Moscow.

This will be his second visit to Peiping in little more than a year. His four-day conference with Mao Tze-tung there last summer was followed by a switch in Soviet tactics toward a summit conference.

Khrushchev had accepted a Western proposal for a meeting of government chieftains within the framework of the U.N. Security Council on the 1958 Mideast crisis. He appeared ready to go to New York for such a meeting.

After his return from Peiping the Soviet Union unceremoniously shifted ground to put the crisis in the hands of the U.N. General Assembly. Western diplomats regarded this as a major retreat and Khrushchev's first serious public setback.

They said they saw in it a strengthening of the position of those in Peiping and within the Kremlin who advocated a tougher line toward the West.

It was generally accepted here that Khrushchev changed his mind about a summit meeting within the Security Council as a result of his visit to Peiping.

General rains in the surrounding area affected the cotton crop, and the comment was that, "we've had two bad years, one more will just about finish us."

At Delhi, also in Richland parish, rain fell from 3 to 6 p.m., causing brief flooding in streets and drainage ditches. Farmers were "unhappy" about the damaging rainfall.

Further to the east, in Oak Grove (West Carroll), "just a sprinkle or two, not enough to settle the dust" fell.

Light rain fell in Lake Providence (East Carroll parish) and extended to the southern and northern edges of the parish. Rice farmers near the Arkansas line said that the daily rainfall this week is hurting their crop.

Southeast of Monroe, in Franklin parish, "quite an electrical storm" took place. Winnsboro had showers and wind. The power to parts of town was off some during the afternoon. No accidents occurred.

Beyond Franklin parish, heavier rains hit Concordia parish, a Mississippi River parish. Ferriday had a heavy rain at 4 p.m., with about two inches of rain falling in 20 minutes.

However, no flooding occurred. Cotton already open was damaged. Jonesboro experienced a hard rainstorm. Heavy black clouds hovered over Vidalia and thunder and lightning crashed, but no rain fell.

North of Monroe, at Bastrop in Morehouse parish rain began at noon, with an electrical storm mixed in during the afternoon. No wind damage or flooding was reported.

At Tallulah in Madison parish, heavy rain fell at 5 p.m., and was accompanied by lightning. Power was cut off south of town toward the Sharkey community. Several limbs were blown down by strong wind.

West of Monroe, in Lincoln parish, showers fell until 3:30 p.m., but no power failures or accidents resulted.

And in Winn parish, southwest of Ouachita, the sun shone and skies were fair.

The forecast for the Twin Cities area today is partly cloudy, with widely scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms. The rest of the state and Arkansas can expect the same weather.

Yesterday's high temperature was 90, low was 64. Thursday, the temperature rose to 92, dropped to 69.

an anti-labor bill and the first step in a drive "to throttle free labor."

On the final showdown, however, 214 Democrats joined 138 Republicans in voting for the compromise. Opposed were 51 Democrats and one lone Republican—Rep. Paul A. Fino of New York.

The Senate passed a relatively mild labor reform bill last year only to see it die in the House during the rush toward adjournment.

The Senate then passed a similar bill earlier this year. But the House, under heavy public pressure apparently whipped up by the President, passed a much tougher bill sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.).

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee, a member of the conference group, told the House during the hour-long debate that the task of resolving the difference in the two versions was "the roughest assignment I've had in my many years" in Congress.

He predicted that unions "eventually will applaud" the compromise. He and other conferees assured the House that nothing in the bill will jeopardize legitimate union activities.

Neighbors said Souden emerged from the house with Knight after a few minutes. They said Knight got into a blue Cadillac and drove off, followed by Souden in the state police car.

Knight told police that after he talked to Souden he drove off to a nearby post office while the officer went his own way. He said he picked up the hitchhiker from whom he claims to have purchased the gun while returning home from the post office.

Officers said he would tell them no more than this.

The Cadillac was registered in the name of Carl Wollner of Detroit, Knight's stepfather. Wollner surrendered voluntarily Friday. He was taken to East Lansing for questioning. No charges have been placed against either man.

Knight, who has a police record dating back to 1930, has served at least five prison sentences in Michigan and Ohio on charges ranging from housebreaking to armed robbery. He also was confined at one time in an Ohio mental institution. He last was discharged from parole Sept. 26, 1958.

Souden joined the state police in 1954. He was an Air Force veteran.

He was reported missing by his wife, Clara, 23, when he failed to come home on time Thursday night.

"Yesterday everything was fine," Mrs. Souden said as she cuddled her 7-month-old, son, Edward. "Have you ever had icicles around your heart? If you haven't you don't know how I feel."

Pakistan, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

A meeting of SEATO foreign ministers here has already been scheduled for late this month.

There clearly was a friendly disposition in Washington toward the small Southeast Asian kingdom, already getting American aid against the Communist threat.

But the U.S. government lacked data on just how extensive the Red military drive is—and thus what should be done about it.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Alexander Wiley (Wis), senior committee Republican, and other legislators urged that a U.N. investigating team be sent to Laos for a closer assessment of the situation.

Press officer White, in declining to say what position the United States would take on Laos' request to the U.N., added: "Our support for the Laotian government is clearly evident, but I cannot say what form it will take at this time."

Long's Race In Doubt As Demos Meet

lution aimed at re-stating the requirement that candidates must be qualified when they file.

Carstarphen's group also plans to go to the courts if the committee approves Long's candidacy. On the other hand, Long has promised to go to the courts if the committee turns him down.

A committee source said an additional resolution may be offered to the session to stop Long's qualification.

The source said the resolution would name Long and list reasons why the governor should be rejected as a candidate.

Unless the Long political issue is settled, the committee session probably will be routine. The original purpose of the session was to issue a call for the primary election and take care of such mechanics as setting the qualification fee.

Chairman Rufus Hayes, bracing for a hassle, named an expert on parliamentary law to interpret the rules in crucial disputes. Hayes gave the job to Dr. Giles W. Gray, a speech professor and teacher of parliamentary law at Louisiana State University more than 20 years.

Hayes said he is a candidate for reelection on gubernatorial ticket of Jimmie Davis "and I feel there should not be any question in the minds of the public and the committee whether the meeting is conducted properly."

Hayes said he intends to accept the advice of Dr. Gray in making chair decisions.

Hayes, elected state insurance commissioner on Long's ticket, has joined the Jimmie Davis faction. It is the insurance post he seeks to regain.

Long's opponents also may resort to an established legal procedure for objecting to his candidacy. This way, a protest would be filed with the committee within five days after the Sept. 15 deadline for qualifications. Any voter, committee member or candidate can protest by filing written, detailed reasons.

Long denied a report Friday that he had "just about" decided not to run for re-election and was searching frantically for a man to endorse as a candidate for governor.

He called the report "a lot of bunk." Still, rumors of every imaginable brand seeped about the capitol. Many had Long running for a lesser office.

Reports said Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, Senate president S. J. Cleveland of Crowley state Racing Commissioner J. M. (Pete) Menefee ad Public Works Director Lorris Wimberly each had turned down requests to run.

Long has taken a "let them wonder" attitude while keeping everyone guessing. He may wait until just before the 5 p.m., Sept. 15, deadline to make his move.

Any challenge to the governor could come as late as Sept. 20. Long then would have another 48 hours to reply and the committee would have still another 72 hours to consider the dispute.

Camille Gravel Jr., of Alexandria, Democratic national committeeman and a member of the state committee, said Long's qualification will be challenged if he tries to run. Gravel also said Davis or someone acting for him probably will do the challenging.

Papers already are drawn up and ready for the governor's signature should he decide to resign. The plan for resignation would follow the precedent set in 1939 by former Gov. Richard Leche, a move which gave Long his first term as governor.

Leche used proclamations in submitting his resignation to himself and accepting it in the name of the people. The Leche resignation never was challenged.

Several other declared gubernatorial candidates are looking with interest on the committee meeting and the long dispute.

They include Davis, State Sen. William Rainach, state comptroller William J. Dodd, Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans, Rep. J. Marshall Brown of Orleans Parish, Roswell Thompson, New Orleans taxicab driver, Walter R. Krousel Jr., Baton Rouge attorney.

Khrushchev To Visit Red China Capital

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed Friday night he is going to Peiping Sept. 29, the day after he returns from his visit to the United States.

Khrushchev told of his plans for the trip, without discussing the purpose, in a chat with Poland's Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz and other officials at a reception opening the Polish industrial exhibition in Moscow.

This will be his second visit to Peiping in little more than a year. His four-day conference with Mao Tze-tung there last summer was followed by a switch in Soviet tactics toward a summit conference.

Khrushchev had accepted a Western proposal for a meeting of government chieftains within the framework of the U.N. Security Council on the 1958 Mideast crisis. He appeared ready to go to New York for such a meeting.

After his return from Peiping the Soviet Union unceremoniously shifted ground to put the crisis in the hands of the U.N. General Assembly. Western diplomats regarded this as a major retreat and Khrushchev's first serious public setback.

They said they saw in it a strengthening of the position of those in Peiping and within the Kremlin who advocated a tougher line toward the West.

It was generally accepted here that Khrushchev changed his mind about a summit meeting within the Security Council as a result of his visit to Peiping.

Nationalist China holds a seat in the 11-nation Council and the Chinese Communists were believed to have objected to a summit meeting in which President Chiang Kai-shek, Mao's sworn enemy, or one of his representatives would participate.

Storm, Heavy Rains Travel Through Area

at 1½ inches, but no flooding occurred.

General rains in the surrounding area affected the cotton crop, and the comment was that, "we've had two bad years, one more will just about finish us."

At Delhi, also in Richland parish, rain fell from 3 to 6 p.m., causing brief flooding in streets and drainage ditches. Farmers were "unhappy" about the damaging rainfall.

Further to the east, in Oak Grove (West Carroll), "just a sprinkle or two, not enough to settle the dust" fell.

Light rain fell in Lake Providence (East Carroll parish) and extended to the southern and northern edges of the parish. Rice farmers near the Arkansas line said that the daily rainfall this week is hurting their crop.

Southeast of Monroe, in Franklin parish, "quite an electrical storm" took place. Winnsboro had showers and wind. The power to parts of town was off some during the afternoon. No accidents occurred.

Beyond Franklin parish, heavier rains hit Concordia parish, a Mississippi River parish. Ferriday had a heavy rain at 4 p.m., with about two inches of rain falling in 20 minutes.

However, no flooding occurred. Cotton already open was damaged. Jonesboro experienced a hard rainstorm. Heavy black clouds hovered over Vidalia and thunder and lightning crashed, but no rain fell.

North of Monroe, at Bastrop in Morehouse parish rain began at noon, with an electrical storm mixed in during the afternoon. No wind damage or flooding was reported.

At Tallulah in Madison parish, heavy rain fell at 5 p.m., and was accompanied by lightning. Power was cut off south of town toward the Sharkey community. Several limbs were blown down by strong wind.

West of Monroe, in Lincoln parish, showers fell until 3:30 p.m., but no power failures or accidents resulted.

And in Winn parish, southwest of Ouachita, the sun shone and skies were fair.

The forecast for the Twin Cities area today is partly cloudy, with widely scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms. The rest of the state and Arkansas can expect the same weather.

Yesterday's high temperature was 90, low was 64. Thursday, the temperature rose to 92, dropped to 69.

House Sends Labor Curbs Bill To Ike

an anti-labor bill and the first step in a drive "to throttle free labor."

On the final showdown, however, 214 Democrats joined 138 Republicans in voting for the compromise. Opposed were 51 Democrats and one lone Republican—Rep. Paul A. Fino of New York.

The Senate passed a relatively mild labor reform bill last year only to see it die in the House during the rush toward adjournment.

The Senate then passed a similar bill earlier this year. But the House, under heavy public pressure apparently whipped up by the President, passed a much tougher bill sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.).

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee, a member of the conference group, told the House during the hour-long debate that the task of resolving the difference in the two versions was "the roughest assignment I've had in my many years" in Congress.

He predicted that unions "eventually will applaud" the compromise. He and other conferees assured the House that nothing in the bill will jeopardize legitimate union activities.

Utility Revenue Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nation's privately owned electric utilities realized operating revenues of $10,194,819,000 in 1958, an increase of 5.4 per cent from 1957, the Federal Power Commission reported Friday. Net income rose 7.5 per cent to $1,518,823,000.

Knight about a $75 tool company burglary.

Neighbors said Souden emerged from the house with Knight after a few minutes. They said Knight got into a blue Cadillac and drove off, followed by Souden in the state police car.

Knight told police that after he talked to Souden he drove off to a nearby post office while the officer went his own way. He said he picked up the hitchhiker from whom he claims to have purchased the gun while returning home from the post office.

Officers said he would tell them no more than this.

The Cadillac was registered in the name of Carl Wollner of Detroit, Knight's stepfather. Wollner surrendered voluntarily Friday. He was taken to East Lansing for questioning. No charges have been placed against either man.

Knight, who has a police record dating back to 1930, has served at least five prison sentences in Michigan and Ohio on charges ranging from housebreaking to armed robbery. He also was confined at one time in an Ohio mental institution. He last was discharged from parole Sept. 26, 1958.

Souden joined the state police in 1954. He was an Air Force veteran.

He was reported missing by his wife, Clara, 23, when he failed to come home on time Thursday night.

"Yesterday everything was fine," Mrs. Souden said as she cuddled her 7-month-old, son, Edward. "Have you ever had icicles around your heart? If you haven't you don't know how I feel."

Southeast Asia Envoys Huddle On Laos Crisis

A meeting of SEATO foreign ministers here has already been scheduled for late this month.

There clearly was a friendly disposition in Washington toward the small Southeast Asian kingdom, already getting American aid against the Communist threat.

But the U.S. government lacked data on just how extensive the Red military drive is—and thus what should be done about it.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Alexander Wiley (Wis), senior committee Republican, and other legislators urged that a U.N. investigating team be sent to Laos for a closer assessment of the situation.

Press officer White, in declining to say what position the United States would take on Laos' request to the U.N., added: "Our support for the Laotian government is clearly evident, but I cannot say what form it will take at this time."

Rebels Down Oak Grove, 19-0, In Gridiron Jamboree

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

West Monroe's Rebels, giving fans a sneak preview of the coming season, unleashed a powerful ground attack to trounce outmanned Oak Grove, 19-0, here last night in the feature game of the annual Rebel Football Jamboree.

Columbia's Crimson Tide edged Bernice, 6-0, and Southside nipped the West Monroe "B" squad, 13-12, in the last minute of the preceding contests of the abbreviated three-game card.

The Rebels, who finished last year with a 5-5-1 record, unveiled a pair of hard - running backs to put the final contest out of reach in the first ten - minute half. Halfback John Moses, a returnee from last year's squad, sprinted 36 yards the first time he got his hands on the ball to give the Johnny Rebs a quick margin.

Buck Fox, the top ground gainer of the game, ripped off the second tally on a seven-yard jaunt just before the first half ended and Leon Miletello added a third marker on a 23-yard dash in the second half.

Fox ground out 66 yards in 7 carries for individual honors, while Moses, handling the pigskin only twice, relled off 51 yards.

Dwain Johnston, counted on to be a major cog in the West Monroe offense this season, didn't carry the ball but booted a conversion after the first touchdown.

Modell O'Neil, G. W. Martin and Roger Hutson handled the bulk of the Oak Grove offense but the Tigers were held to three first downs by the Confederate defensive unit.

The Rebels chalked up seven first downs and totaled 177 yards gained, all of which came on the ground.

A freak fumble play gave Columbia the narrow victory over Bernice. With time running out in the first half, Bernice halted a Tide drive on its own four yard line. On the first play from scrimmage quarterback Freddie Marsh fumbled and tackle Bert Hodge, the biggest man on the field, picked up the ball and ran it over the lone score. Dennis Danehl's attempt to convert failed.

Halfback Butchie Darden and Glen Haddox were the big gainers for Columbia, which registered five first downs. Sammy Johnson accounted for the only Bernice counter with a 23-yard romp just before the game ended.

A pass play and a lateral covering 58 yards with only 54 seconds left in the game gave Southside the victory over the Rebel second - stringers. Quarterback Gentry heaved to Taylor who lateralled to Valega on the 20 and he ran over for the touchdown.

West Monroe struck first in the initial half when David Martin went 32 yards to break the ice. Togo Green's attempted run for the point failed.

Gentry knotted the score for Southside in the second half with a 45 yard burst and Green came back to put West Monroe ahead temporarily with a four - yard plunge.

Cubs Win To Cut Giant Lead To 2

By ALAN CLINE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCOSCO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs' Glen Hobbie slowed San Francisco's pennant drive Friday night with a 2-1 victory that cut the Giants' National League lead to two games.

Two fifth inning errors by Giant third baseman Jackie Brandt and Al Dark's long double off the left field screen provided the Cubs' runs. Both runs, off Giant starter Jack Sanford, were unearned.

Giants' Daryl Spencer and pinch hitter Felipe Alou singled in the ninth but pinch hitter Jim Davenport grounded out to end the game.

Hobbie also was in trouble in the seventh when Spencer and pinch hitter Dusty Rhodes walked. Brandt ended that threat by flying out to short left.

Willie McCovey, hitting safely in his 17th straight game, got the Giants off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning. He tripled off the scoreboard at the 402-foot mark and scored on Orlando Cepeda's bounce single to Hobbie. Hobbie threw the ball into the Giant dugout. Cepeda's hit was his first of three straight singles.

Giant starter Jack Sanford gave up only five hits in the seven innings he pitched. He struck out five and walked five.

The Cubs loaded the bases in the sixth on two walks and Taylor's second single but Hobbie lined to Brandt to end the threat.

Unitas Leads Colts To 30-21 Win Over Pitt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Unitas hit Lenny Moore with three touchdown passes Friday night and the world champion Baltimore Colts whipped the Pittsburgh Steelers 30-21 for their third straight National Football League exhibition victory.

Unitas connected with Moore twice for 57 and 15 yards in the first quarter and Steve Myhra booted a 36-yard field goal as the Colts smashed to a 17-0 margin.

Then, after Bobby Layne's passes had brought Pittsburgh back into contention at 17-14, Unitas put on the clincher with another aerial to Moore that covered 58 yards.

Layne, badly rushed by the huge Colt linemen, gave a great passing performance under handicap. His passes to Gary Glick, Dick Lucas and Dewey Bohling set up both of the Steeler touchdowns in the second period. Layne passed a yard to Ray Matthews for one and Bohling plunged two yards for the other.

Pittsburgh, trailing 30-14, drove 72 yards for a touchdown which was scored on a 1-yard run by Larry Krutko as time ran out.

Tallulah Grid Jamboree Set Back By Rain

TALLULAH, La. (Special)— Heavy rains yesterday afternoon forced postponement of the Tallulah Football Jamboree, scheduled for Friday night, until tonight (Saturday).

The jamboree, featuring teams from Tallulah, Winnsboro, Newellton, and Lake Providence will be played tonight beginning at 8 o'clock.

Rain which began about 5:10 p.m. yesterday flooded the field with about a inch of water, prompting officials to postpone the event.

The Chicago White Sox, now leading by 6½ games, have an 83-50 won-lost record after beating second place Cleveland 2-1.

Sixth-place Boston, beaten 4-3 by Washington, has a 62-73 record with only 19 games remaining. Seventh-place Kansas City, a 9-2 loser at Detroit, is 59-72 with 23 games left. Last-place Washington was eliminated last weekend.

Medal Play To Decide Cotton States Crown

Rain Erases All Qualifying Marks

By PAUL MARTIN
Executive Sports Editor

A thunderstorm upset the scheduled plans for the eleventh annual Cotton State Invitation Golf Tournament here yesterday, turning the usually match play event into a 54-hole medal play show that will pair contenders for 18 holes of golf on each of the three tournament days beginning this morning and ending Monday evening.

Most of the field for yesterday's intended qualifying round was in when Bobby Oliver, tournament chairman, announced the tournament committee's decision to erase the day's activity. But many of those who had finished did so under severe weather conditions and scores that should have been lower began to soar.

Gene Dahlbender, Atlanta, Ga., the Cotton States' only two-time winner and back for an attempt to make it three, had an even par 70 for yesterday's lowest score and he was already being considered the medal winner when the day's work was cancelled.

Thus, today's 18 holes will determine the tourney's medal winner and also decide the "flights" for the next two days. The best 32 scores will comprise the championship flight until Sunday's round when the top 16 will continue as championship contenders while the second best 16 will fall into the first flight. Other flights will be determined by today's round and players will continue in those flights for the remainder of their 54 holes.

Tommy Wulff, New Orleans, is here to defend his title.

Among some expected top contenders are ex-champions H. P. Childress, Chicagp and Bill Jones, Monroe. There's also former runners - up Dickie Touchstone, Monroe; Bob Travis, Jackson, Miss.; and M. C. Methvin, Little Rock, Ark.

There are 52 contenders in the senior division in which Kenneth Holt, West Monroe, will be defending the championship he won when he entered the division for the first time last September.

Today's play is scheduled to go out in foursomes with starter Don Richards getting his players away at 8:32 o'clock this morning.

REGULAR TOURNAMENT

Cook, McKoin Win In Bastrop Fights

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Clarence Cook decked Al Boudreaux in the fifth round and took a decision in 10 and Johnny McKoin scored a fifth round TKO over Gypsy Gomez in the two main events on the Gene Ramer Benefit Boxing Card here last night.

Bastrop policeman Cook (147) downed Boudreaux (147), formerly of Westwego and now fighting out of Midland, Tex., with a right cross for a nine count in the fifth round of their bout, the last of the evening.

McKoin (142), also of Bastrop, opened a cut over the left eye of Gomez (147), the New Orleans vagabond, in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. After the ringsiide doctor took a look at the cut, he advised referee Son Parker to call a halt. It went as a TKO after 1:15 of the round.

Garris put Hart down for a nine count before sening the Bastrop boxer down for the full 10.

In the night's first bout, Willie B. Tucker, Willie Lee Ware, Joe Dorsey and Nelson Montgomery drew in a battle royal, receiving a good hand from the estimated 475 fans who viewed the card at the Bastrop American Legion Home.

The bouts, with proceeds after expenses going toward purchase of special equipment for Gene Ramer, paralyzed Bastrop youth, were originally scheduled for Thursday night but postponed because of rain.

After the fight card, Gomez entertained the crowd with impersonations, a comedy bit that was well-received.

Lorino Gives Up Canadian Pro Football

Lorino, whose top playing weight was around 165, once led the nation in rushing yardage and made the All-Southeastern Conference team.

He signed on with Edmonton of the Canadian League but said he lost two front teeth and suffered a torn ligament in his knee during pre-season work.

"I thought I had things made," he commented, "but I was getting beat up so bad that I got out while I still could."

He said pro football is "the craziest football I've ever seen.... not even like real football.

"Everything's wide open. There's not much blocking and you can get hurt easy.

"It's bush league football. Most of the guys up there don't have any pride in themselves or their football like I'd gotten used to down here.

BUT PREDICTS SUCCESS

Frick Cautions Enthusiasts Of New Baseball League

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)— Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Friday cautioned third league enthusiasts against expecting vernight miracles. He said it may take five years for the new Continental League to rate with the present majors.

Frick, while predicting ultimate success for a third league, was so bearish about its immediate future that Rep. Emanuel Celler (D'NY)commented , "It may well die aborning."

Celler heads the House antitrust subcommittee which heard Frick declared several legal curbs on baseball would handicap development of the recently created Continental.

After Frick testified, the subcommittee adjourned its hearings on sports legislation—probably until next year. In that situation prospects for Congress to enact sports bill this session are a remote as for the faded New York Yankees to win the American League pennant.

The Senate's antimonopoly subcommittee has approved a measure to protect the player draft, contract rights and other noncommerical practices of pro football, basketball and ice hockey. This must still clear the full Judiciary Committee before it reaches the floor. Even if passed by the Senate this month, it normally would be channeled next to Celler's group.

Prior to adjourning, the House subcommittee learned that:

1. Frick reacted favoriable to a change by Rep. William E. Miller (R-NY) in legislation proposing a blackout of big league telecasts in minor league areas.

Intended to pick up sagging gate receipts, the bill would banish major league games from TV outlets within 75 miles of a minor league park on the day of a minor league game.

Miller recommended excluding from the blackout TV stations in cities whose team is away. Thus in his own district, Buffalo channels could show a big league contest when Buffalo's International League team is out of town even though, within the 75-mile radius. Batavia's club in the Class D New York-Penn eague is playing at home.

"That would prevent a complete blackout of any city," Frick said, "and heaven knows baseball doesn't want that."

2. Television industry officials brushed off a suggestion by Frick to shift network telecasts of major league games from Sunday to a week day or night. Sunday attendance is precious to the minors. Frick said he got this from his TV contacts:

"They said, no. They weren't interested because it would interfere with the soap operas . . .The soap operas make a lot of money."

Frick said founders of the Continental League likely would take over minor league franchises and look for talent through baseball's draft, the release of players by existing big league clubs and the possibility of buying established players.

Medal Play To Decide Cotton States Crown

Rain Erases All Qualifying Marks

By PAUL MARTIN
Executive Sports Editor

A thunderstorm upset the scheduled plans for the eleventh annual Cotton State Invitation Golf Tournament here yesterday, turning the usually match play event into a 54-hole medal play show that will pair contenders for 18 holes of golf on each of the three tournament days beginning this morning and ending Monday evening.

Most of the field for yesterday's intended qualifying round was in when Bobby Oliver, tournament chairman, announced the tournament committee's decision to erase the day's activity. But many of those who had finished did so under severe weather conditions and scores that should have been lower began to soar.

Gene Dahlbender, Atlanta, Ga., the Cotton States' only two-time winner and back for an attempt to make it three, had an even par 70 for yesterday's lowest score and he was already being considered the medal winner when the day's work was cancelled.

Thus, today's 18 holes will determine the tourney's medal winner and also decide the "flights" for the next two days. The best 32 scores will comprise the championship flight until Sunday's round when the top 16 will continue as championship contenders while the second best 16 will fall into the first flight. Other flights will be determined by today's round and players will continue in those flights for the remainder of their 54 holes.

Tommy Wulff, New Orleans, is here to defend his title.

Among some expected top contenders are ex-champions H. P. Childress, Chicagp and Bill Jones, Monroe. There's also former runners - up Dickie Touchstone, Monroe; Bob Travis, Jackson, Miss.; and M. C. Methvin, Little Rock, Ark.

There are 52 contenders in the senior division in which Kenneth Holt, West Monroe, will be defending the championship he won when he entered the division for the first time last September.

Today's play is scheduled to go out in foursomes with starter Don Richards getting his players away at 8:32 o'clock this morning.

Starting times for the foursomes were announced as follows:

SOUTHSIDE, COLUMBIA WIN

Rebels Down Oak Grove, 19-0, In Gridiron Jamboree

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

West Monroe's Rebels, giving fans a sneak preview of the coming season, unleashed a powerful ground attack to trounce outmanned Oak Grove, 19-0, here last night in the feature game of the annual Rebel Football Jamboree.

Columbia's Crimson Tide edged Bernice, 6-0, and Southside nipped the West Monroe "B" squad, 13-12, in the last minute of the preceding contests of the abbreviated three-game card.

The Rebels, who finished last year with a 5-5-1 record, unveiled a pair of hard - running backs to put the final contest out of reach in the first ten - minute half. Halfback John Moses, a returnee from last year's squad, sprinted 36 yards the first time he got his hands on the ball to give the Johnny Rebs a quick margin.

Buck Fox, the top ground gainer of the game, ripped off the second tally on a seven-yard jaunt just before the first half ended and Leon Miletello added a third marker on a 23-yard dash in the second half.

Fox ground out 66 yards in 7 carries for individual honors, while Moses, handling the pigskin only twice, relled off 51 yards.

Dwain Johnston, counted on to be a major cog in the West Monroe offense this season, didn't carry the ball but booted a conversion after the first touchdown.

Modell O'Neil, G. W. Martin and Roger Hutson handled the bulk of the Oak Grove offense but the Tigers were held to three first downs by the Confederate defensive unit.

The Rebels chalked up seven first downs and totaled 177 yards gained, all of which came on the ground.

A freak fumble play gave Columbia the narrow victory over Bernice. With time running out in the first half, Bernice halted a Tide drive on its own four yard line. On the first play from scrimmage quarterback Freddie Marsh fumbled and tackle Bert Hodge, the biggest man on the field, picked up the ball and ran it over the lone score. Dennis Danehl's attempt to convert failed.

Halfback Butchie Darden and Glen Haddox were the big gainers for Columbia, which registered five first downs. Sammy Johnson accounted for the only Bernice counter with a 23-yard romp just before the game ended.

A pass play and a lateral covering 58 yards with only 54 seconds left in the game gave Southside the victory over the Rebel second - stringers. Quarterback Gentry heaved to Taylor who lateralled to Valega on the 20 and he ran over for the touchdown.

The marker knotted the score at 12-12 and Taylor's grab of another aerial for the extra point provided the winning margin.

West Monroe struck first in the initial half when David Martin went 32 yards to break the ice. Togo Green's attempted run for the point failed.

Gentry knotted the score for Southside in the second half with a 45 yard burst and Green came back to put West Monroe ahead temporarily with a four - yard plunge.

Cubs Win To Cut Giant Lead To 2

By ALAN CLINE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCOSCO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs' Glen Hobbie slowed San Francisco's pennant drive Friday night with a 2-1 victory that cut the Giants' National League lead to two games.

Two fifth inning errors by Giant third baseman Jackie Brandt and Al Dark's long double off the left field screen provided the Cubs' runs. Both runs, off Giant starter Jack Sanford, were unearned.

Giants' Daryl Spencer and pinch hitter Felipe Alou singled in the ninth but pinch hitter Jim Davenport grounded out to end the game.

Hobbie also was in trouble in the seventh when Spencer and pinch hitter Dusty Rhodes walked. Brandt ended that threat by flying out to short left.

Willie McCovey, hitting safely in his 17th straight game, got the Giants off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning. He tripled off the scoreboard at the 402-foot mark and scored on Orlando Cepeda's bounce single to Hobbie. Hobbie threw the ball into the Giant dugout. Cepeda's hit was his first of three straight singles.

Giant starter Jack Sanford gave up only five hits in the seven innings he pitched. He struck out five and walked five.

The Cubs loaded the bases in the sixth on two walks and Taylor's second single but Hobbie lined to Brandt to end the threat.

Sam Jones, pitching the final two innings, retired six Cubs in order. Manager Bill Rigney used his ace starter-reliever for the second time in three days.

Greenie Squad In Good Shape

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane head football coach Andy Pilney, on Friday, the fourth day of preseason practice, put his grid charges through punting, passing and defensive and offensive blocking assignments. The session ended with a spot scrimmage and timing of play.

Unitas Leads Colts To 30-21 Win Over Pitt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Unitas hit Lenny Moore with three touchdown passes Friday night and the world champion Baltimore Colts whipped the Pittsburgh Steelers 30-21 for their third straight National Football League exhibition victory.

Unitas connected with Moore twice for 57 and 15 yards in the first quarter and Steve Myhra booted a 36-yard field goal as the Colts smashed to a 17-0 margin.

Then, after Bobby Layne's passes had brought Pittsburgh back into contention at 17-14, Unitas put on the clincher with another aerial to Moore that covered 58 yards.

Layne, badly rushed by the huge Colt linemen, gave a great passing performance under handicap. His passes to Gary Glick, Dick Lucas and Dewey Bohling set up both of the Steeler touchdowns in the second period. Layne passed a yard to Ray Matthews for one and Bohling plunged two yards for the other.

Pittsburgh, trailing 30-14, drove 72 yards for a touchdown which was scored on a 1-yard run by Larry Krutko as time ran out.

Tallulah Grid Jamboree Set Back By Rain

TALLULAH, La. (Special)—Heavy rains yesterday afternoon forced postponement of the Tallulah Football Jamboree, scheduled for Friday night, until tonight (Saturday).

The jamboree, featuring teams from Tallulah, Winnsboro, Newellton, and Lake Providence will be played tonight beginning at 8 o'clock.

Rain which began about 5:10 p.m. yesterday flooded the field with about a inch of water, prompting officials to postpone the event.

Eliminated From American Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Two more clubs—Boston and Kansas City—were eliminated officially Friday night from the American League pennant race.

The Chicago White Sox, now leading by 6½ games, have an 83-50 won-lost record after beating second place Cleveland 2-1.

Sixth-place Boston, beaten 4-3 by Washington, has a 62-73 record with only 19 games remaining. Seventh-place Kansas City, a 9-2 loser at Detroit, is 59-72 with 23 games left. Last-place Washington was eliminated last weekend.

GARRIS BY KO

Cook, McKoin Win In Bastrop Fights

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Clarence Cook decked Al Boudreaux in the fifth round and took a decision in 10 and Johnny McKoin scored a fifth round TKO over Gypsy Gomez in the two main events on the Gene Ramer Benefit Boxing Card here last night.

Bastrop policeman Cook (147) downed Boudreaux (147), formerly of Westwego and now fighting out of Midland, Tex., with a right cross for a nine count in the fifth round of their bout, the last of the evening.

McKoin (142), also of Bastrop, opened a cut over the left eye of Gomez (147), the New Orleans vagabond, in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. After the ringsiide doctor took a look at the cut, he advised referee Son Parker to call a halt. It went as a TKO after 1:15 of the round.

Garris put Hart down for a nine count before sening the Bastrop boxer down for the full 10.

In the night's first bout, Willie B. Tucker, Willie Lee Ware, Joe Dorsey and Nelson Montgomery drew in a battle royal, receiving a good hand from the estimated 475 fans who viewed the card at the Bastrop American Legion Home.

The bouts, with proceeds after expenses going toward purchase of special equipment for Gene Ramer, paralyzed Bastrop youth, were originally scheduled for Thursday night but postponed because of rain.

After the fight card, Gomez entertained the crowd with impersonations, a comedy bit that was well-received.

Matthews Beats Rolando Morales To Snap String

ATLANTIC CITY N. . (UPI) — Len Mattnews, young Philadelphia lightweight contender, beat Rolando (Chico) Morales of Cuba Friday night with a savage combination attack to body and head for a lop-sided referee's decision that snapped Morales' winning string at 16 straight.

Nineteen - year - old Morales, brown-haired and busy as a buzzsaw, amazed the 1,900 who witnessed the nationally-televised 10-rounder by not only lasting the distance but by trying to fight back in every round.

BUT PREDICTS SUCCESS

Frick Cautions Enthusiasts Of New Baseball League

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)— Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Friday cautioned third league enthusiasts against expecting vernight miracles. He said it may take five years for the new Continental League to rate with the present majors.

Frick, while predicting ultimate success for a third league, was so bearish about its immediate future that Rep. Emanuel Celler (D'NY)commented , "It may well die aborning."

Celler heads the House antitrust subcommittee which heard Frick declared several legal curbs on baseball would handicap development of the recently created Continental.

After Frick testified, the subcommittee adjourned its hearings on sports legislation—probably until next year. In that situation prospects for Congress to enact sports bill this session are a remote as for the faded New York Yankees to win the American League pennant.

The Senate's antimonopoly subcommittee has approved a measure to protect the player draft, contract rights and other noncommerical practices of pro football, basketball and ice hockey. This must still clear the full Judiciary Committee before it reaches the floor. Even if passed by the Senate this month, it normally would be channeled next to Celler's group.

Prior to adjourning, the House subcommittee learned that:

1. Frick reacted favoriable to a change by Rep. William E. Miller (R-NY) in legislation proposing a blackout of big league telecasts in minor league areas.

Intended to pick up sagging gate receipts, the bill would banish major league games from TV outlets within 75 miles of a minor league park on the day of a minor league game.

Miller recommended excluding from the blackout TV stations in cities whose team is away. Thus in his own district, Buffalo channels could show a big league contest when Buffalo's International League team is out of town even though, within the 75-mile radius, Batavia's club in the Class D New York-Penn eague is playing at home.

"That would prevent a complete blackout of any city," Frick said, "and heaven knows baseball doesn't want that."

2. Television industry officials brushed off a suggestion by Frick to shift network telecasts of major league games from Sunday to a week day or night. Sunday attendance is precious to the minors. Frick said he got this from his TV contacts:

"They said, no. They weren't interested because it would interfere with the soap operas . . .The soap operas make a lot of money."

Frick said founders of the Continental League likely would take over minor league franchises and look for talent through baseball's draft, the release of players by existing big league clubs and the possibility of buying established players.

ADD NINE GOLD MEDALS

Yankees Widen Pan-Am Margin

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States captured five more gold medals in swimming Friday in the Pan-American Games, added two in yachting, and picked up an unexpected pair in shooting to draw farther ahead of the 24 nation field.

At the end of daytime competition the United States had 67 gold medals, 43 silver, and 33 bronze. Its nearest rival was Argentina with 5 gold, 9 silver and 3 bronze.

The swimming victories were spectacular. The United States has now won all 12 of the finals contested, and in 10 of these scored one-two-three sweeps.

Fifteen-year-old Chris von Saltza of Saratoga, Calif., picked up her second gold medal on the way to what she hopes will be five when she won the 100-meter free-style finals in 1:03.8, a Games record.

Mrs. Laura Myers Pope of Los Angeles won the platform diving crown, also for a second gold medal.

Becky Collins, 15, of Indianapolis, edged Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., in 1:09.5, which is under the listed world record time of 1:09.6, but slower than Miss Ramey's 1:09.1 made in a heat.

Dave Gillanders of Royal Oak, Mich., won the 200-meter butterfly finals in 2:18, and Alan Somers of Indianapolis took the 1,500-meter free style in 17:53.2—both Games records.

In yachting, the United States won the Flying Dutchman and 5.5 meter classes.

Unexpected medals were showered down in shooting when the committee decided to bestow gold, silver, and bronze medals for the three positions in Thursday's small bore rifle competition—as well as medals for individual and team.

As a result, James Carter of Columbus, Ga., was given firsts in the kneeling and standing positions. Gerald Ouelette of Canada received first prize for the prone position.

At the same time, the appeals committee of shooting called for a shoot-off in Wednesday's center-fire pistol event where the gold medal originally went to Aubrey E. Smith of Columbus, Ga. Oscar H. Cervo of Argentina protested, claiming his score equaled Smith's 569, and the two were directed to shoot it off.

In rowing, the United States qualified five of its shells for Sunday's finals, Argentina placed three, and Uruguay and Canada one apiece.

The defeated boats will have a second chance in what are known as repechages Saturday.

Arentina clinched at least a tie for the soccer title by beating Cuba 5-0. Since Argentina has scored 19 goals and its defense allowed only three, the championship is virtually a certainty.

The United States and Mexico played to a 5-5 tie in baseball at Wrigley Field and the game was called in the eighth because of darkness.

The game, for a playoff berth in the Pan-Am championship round, will be replayed Saturday. Wrigley Field has no lights.

DODGERS' DRYSDALE

Hurler Threatens To Sue Ump, NL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Friday's installment of "Don Drysdale faces life" might easily end with these questions:

Will Drysdale—the Dodgers' big side-armer—be fined for hitting the St. Louis Cardinals' Joe Cunningham on the arm with a pitched ball?

If he's fined, will Drysdale, as he threatens, sue the National h thratens, sue the National League and Umpire Stan Landes?

The imbroglio erupted in the third inning when Drysdale's inside pitch severely bruised Cunningham's right forearm. The Cards went on to blast Drysdale out of the box and win the game, 5-3, dropping Los Angeles 2½ games back of first-place San Francisco.

Hemus raced onto the Coliseum field after home plate Umpire Landes went to the box to discuss the pitch with Drysdale. Hemus was hopping mad Thursday night—and he still was Friday. In San Francisco, he said:

"Cunningham was hitting well. He hit a home run. And next time he (Drysdale) just hit him."

The only matter of some agreement in the dispute came over the brandished Hemus fist, which some observers thought was (theoretically) menacing Drysdale. (Drysdale is 6-6, 220 pounds; Hemus 5-9, 175.)

"He's too small," said Drysdale. He said he thought Hemus cocked his arm while walking toward the umpire. Hemus said, "I could see Drysdale over the rest of the players"—two of whom he said were between them.

Landes also talked to the Cards' winning pitcher, Bob Miller, after Wally Moon jumped out of the way of one of Miller's pitches when the Dodgers came to bat in the third. If his talks with the pitchers constitute "official warnings," each will be fined $50.

Landes said it was up to the National League office. In Chicago, National League President Warren Giles said he'd have to wait until Landes' report gets to him to decide about the matter.

Drysdale was fined $50 after he was warned for hitting Willie Mays at San Francisco May 8. He also got some publicity recently when he accused an unnamed party in his own dougout for "second guessing him." He's now on a losing streak (15-11), and some teammates say it hasn't improved his temper.

Friday Hemus found that Cunningham—batting .350, second best in the league—may be lost in the Cards' series with the Giants. It didn't help Hemus' temper, either.

Phillies Deal Pirate Hopes Crucial Blow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The last-place Philadelphia Phillies dealt the fading pennant hopes of Pittsburgh another crucial blow Friday night, capitalizing on shortstop Dick Groat's error for a 3-0 victory over the Pirates.

The tired-looking Pirates, still shaky from a double loss to Cincinnati Wednesday night, were checked by right-hander Jim Owens on six hits. It was Owens' first major league shout, fourth triumph in his last six starts and brought his record to 11-11.

Three of the Pirates' hits were by Don Hoak.

It was a tight pitching duel between Owens and left-hander Harvey Haddix (11-10) until the sixth when Groat bobbled leadoff batter Richie Ashburn's grounder.

The Phillies chased reliever Roy Face, who was making his 52nd appearance this year, in the eighth after he gave up a run on Bouchee's single, a walk to Post and Harry Anderson's single.

Four Frosh Move Up At Southwestern

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — Four freshmen with outstanding high school grid records were graduated with ease late this week into the Southwestern Louisiana Institute varsity squad.

They are: two-time All-State halfback, Dave Cavalier of Morgan City; Johnny Bernard, Cathedral of Lafayette's most valuable player of 1958, a guard; Howard McCann, outstanding guard on last year's LaGrange High team of Lake Charles; and Lawson King, former star halfback of Jacksonville, Florida.

Head football coach, Jim "Red" Hoggatt, said a little more time will be reqired to evaluate the other freshmen. Three or four additional freshmen are expected to be graded up to the varsity squad within the next few days, Hoggatt said.

Two-a-day workouts this week have been devoted to basic fundamentals, conditioning exercises, and separate sessions to evaluate the freshmen.

"As a whole, the boys didn't show up in quite the condition I had hoped for," Hoggatt revealed. "However, I think we'll have them in good shape shortly."

After the culling out and evaluating process is completed, the SLI Bulldogs will get down to business for their opening game on September 18 against Southeastern in Hammond.

No Looking Back Now

Bengals Have One Kick--- They Don't Have Kicker

By JACK OWENS

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Coach Paul Dietzel's national champions at Louisiana State have only one big kick this season — they don't have a big kicker.

There aren't many shortcomings among the 31 lettermen LSU has returning from last year's squad that swept through unbeaten and capped the year with a 7-0 victory over Clemson in the Sugar Bowl.

All-America Billy Cannon is back to torment the opposition with his blinding speed and power running. All Southeastern Conference quarterback Warren Rabb—the guy who makes LSU go, says Dietzel—also returns and Max Fugler, who narrowly missed making the All - America first team—will again anchor the forward wall.

So what's the trouble? A trio like this, plus 28 seasoned lettermen who know the taste of a national championship would start any coach's season off right. But there is a dark cloud on Dietzel's horizon.

"We lost one of the finest punters in the nation in Tommy Davis," Dietzel said. Davis is now playing in the National Football League. "You don't replace a guy like Davis easily."

Cannon, LSU's jack-of-many-trades, might be the heir apparent to the kicking game. As a sophomore in 1957, Cannon averaged 37.1 yards per kick but his toe got rusty last season with Davis handling all the fourth down chores.

"Cannon could be a great kicker," Dietzel mused, "but we'll just have to see how it develops as the season wears on."

The Tigers' may have a tough schedule with Rice, Texas Christian and Baylor the first three teams on tap, then Miami and six Southeastern Conference opponents. But LSU looks like it could go all the way.

The 6-1, 190-pound Rabb completed 45 of 90 passes last year to give the Tigers a highly effective air arm to go with their powerful running game. Among his 45 completions were eight for touchdowns and his running in spots prompted Dietzel to term him "a real clutch ball player."

Max Fugler, an aggressive 210-pound center, anchors the LSU line. Fugler's play, particularly in the vital game with then unbeaten Mississippi last year, earned him a spot on the AP All-America second team and he's a top candidate for first line All-America this year.

In tackle Charles "Bo" Strange and end Mickey Mangham the Tigers have two other worthies who can make life miserable for the opposition. The natural conclusion is that Dietzel has little to worry about in the line, although he must find a replacement for the graduated guard Larry Kahlden.

Merle Schexnaidre and Donnie Daye will battle for the starting fullback post vacated by J. W. Brodnax in a situation that is Dietzel's only cause for concern in the backfield.

LSU may have a real find in halfback Wendall Harris who was only short of sensational at Baton Rouge High School. Dietzel was reluctant to call the 185-pound sophomore another Cannon and declined to compare him with the LSU All-America. But Dietzel conceded that LSU expects great things from Harris.

Dietzel isn't pessimistic, although he isn't predicting anything like last season's performance.

"We'll play them one at a time," he said. "Remember, everyone on our schedule is taking dead aim on us. But it's awful nice to be there at the top."

AT KANSAS CITY

Goetz Shoots 65 To Lead Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Blunt-talking young Bobby Goetz of Tulsa, Okla., mixed sharp putting with a good iron game for a 7-under-par 65 and the first round lead n the $20,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament Friday.

Goetz, who graduated from Oklahoma State University last year, used 20-foot putts to put him in good shape the only times he was in trouble, on the 12th and 18th holes. A lag putt fell for a birdie on the 13th and he holed an uphill stroke on the 18th. He didn't miss a green, and was a turn of the ball short of an eagle on the par five 11th.

A stroke behind Goetz were Jerry Pittman, a 22-year-old ex-Southern Methodist University shooter from Tulsa who has not made a dime in his three tournaments since turning professional and Mason Rudolph, a promising newcomer from Clarksville, Tenn.

Fifty of the 125 starters were par or better.

There were six players with 68s and seven with 69s. The latter category included Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., Johnny Potts, Shreveport, La. and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

Pappas Stops New York On Six Hits, 3-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Milt Pappas blanked New York on six hits, all singles, Friday night as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Yankees 3-0.

Pappas, 20, a right-hander, struck out seven and walked just one for a 14-7 record and his fourth shutout. Yogi Berra and Elston Howard each had two of the Yankee hits.

The Birds beat right-hander Ralph Terry (4-11) with two runs in the first inning on singles by Billy Klaus, Barry Shetrone, Gene Woodling and Bob Boyd, who had three of their eight hits. Two singles, an error and Joe Ginsberg's sacrifice fly got the other run home in the fourth.

Holy Cross Rated Favorite In N.O. Catholic District

By N. CHARLES WICKER
Sports Writer,
New Orleans Times-Picayune
Written for The Associated Press

Defending champion Jesuit, De La Salle, St. Aloysius and Redemptorist all figure close behind and any one of them could take it all should the Tigers stumble along the way.

John Kalbacher, starting his second year as head coach is going to have a pretty good first eleven, but his big problem is going to be replacement. The Bengals have 18 returning letter and nine returning squadmen from last year.

Passing, the Bengals will be on a par with last year's team. Speed in the backfield and the line should be better than in '58.

Backfield lettermen are headed by Harry Nunes, halfback, William Johnston, who will be at quarterback, George Cortez, halfback and Kenneth Rappold, fullback. Other backs include Floyd Hinderland, Hebert Monie, and Drew Vitter.

This year the Christian Brothers school will be guided by a new coach. William V. (Buck) Seeber. A newcomer to the head coaching rank at De La Salle, Seeber is no Stranger to Louisiana prep football. He served 10 years at Terrebonne High at Houma. Prior to moving to Houma Seeber, served as head coach at Fortier—where he gave that school its first championship, Nicholls and was assistant at Warren Easton under Johnny Brechtel and at Holy Cross.

Seeber will concentrate on an offensive and defensive unit. Not knowing who lettered or who didn't—the new Cavalier mentor started from scratch.

Heading the De La Salle line unit will be the Richard brothers, Dennis at center and Jimmy at guard. Walter Johnson, will be the other guard. John Staples, and Pierre Callens will play at the tackle slots. Bobby Ernst and Chuck Antonini will hold down the terminals posts.

In the backfield Jimmy Hu" at quarter, Tonny Heffner, and Phil Hug at halves and Bob Gracey at full will form the offensive unit. Lloyd Fourroux will likewise see lots of action.

Hit hard by graduation, Ken Tarzetti still has sensation sophomore Pat Screen around. Besides Screen in the backfield the Jays have Chuck Staub and Kenny Martin, at fullback. Kenny Marr or Dennis Pilney will fill the other backfield berth.

Offensively St. Aloysius will be paced by Paul Reinhardt, a lad who starts the season off as the city's best 'T' quarterback. And in the front line the Knights have a tackle in John Federico, a 205 pounder who could be the best in the area.

The weak spot for Andy Douglass will be the guard slots. Right now Gothard Reck and Milt Peterson are running on the first unit, but it would not be surprising to see Bob Belloni moving from the end slot to a guard post.

Aloysius will be strong at ends with Bill Krummel, Claude Poirson and Belloni around. All three are lettermen. Krummell and Poirson lettered last year and Belloni in '57.

Redemptorist coach Joe Galliano always one who gets the most out of the least will have another scrapping team at the Irish Channel school. Co'captains Tubby Doyle, center, and Lenny Legendre fullback will be the key men for the Rams.

Danny Skinner, a lad who did right well last year, and Warren O'Rourke will hold down the halfback jobs and either Lou Saladino, Vincent Spizale or Edgar Monjure will start at quarterback.

Two Starters Are Back At Farmerville

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) —Only two starters from the 1958 team are back as candidates for the 1959 Farmerville High school grid eleven.

Thirty-four hopefuls reported for fall work. This included 12 seniors, eight juniors, and 14 sophomores.

The Farmers will be short on experience and weight. The largest boy on the squad weighs in at 167 pounds. The line will average 150 pounds and backfield 149.

There has been no starting line-up named as yet. Several sophomores are pushing the seniors and show a lot of promise of being on the starting eleven.

The first game of the season will be on Sept. 11 when the Farmers play host to the Mangham Dragons.

WILL HE BE BACK?

Lopez Coy About Signing For '60

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Al Lopez be the field manager of the wonderful White Sox next year?

He'd be as welcome as the flowers in May, says White Sox President Bill Veeck. And Lopez says everything is rosy between himself and the front office of the American League leaders.

But the contract which would bind Lopez and the Sox into a 1960 bundle hasn't been discussed yet. Whether it's win, lose or draw for the pennant, Lopez doesn't want to make any commitment yet.

"My attitude," he says, "is to win the pennant first, and then think about 1960."

"Bill asked me about signing a contract on my birthday, Aug. 20, which was a nice gesture," Lopez said Friday.

"I told him then, and my attitude is the same now, that it was nice of him to consider me, but I wasn't in any big hurry to sign. The big thing now is to win the pennant."

It's a logical attitude whether Lopez is horse trading or, as friends say, longing for a year's sabbatical after a dozen successive years as a baseball manager.

Veeck says, "We want him to stay on the job. We're delighted with the job he has done.

"I certainly agree that the first and main thing is to win the pennant. I want to talk to him about next year, at his convenience. I'm perfectly content to wait."

Veeck says he's confident that he can make an offer that will keep Lopez in harness. Lopez currently is working under a one-year contract that expires after the 1959 season.

The White Sox manager, whose team is well ahead of second-place Cleveland in the season's stretch run, has been helmsman in the major leagues the last nine years. He managed in the minors for three years prior to that. His teams have never finished lower than second in the standings. He's won two pennants, the last one for Cleveland in 1954.

ADD NINE GOLD MEDALS

Yankees Widen Pan-Am Margin

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States captured five more gold medals in swimming Friday in the Pan-American Games, added two in yachting, and picked up an unexpected pair in shooting to draw farther ahead of the 24 nation field.

At the end of daytime competition the United States had 67 gold medals, 43 silver, and 33 bronze. Its nearest rival was Argentina with 5 gold, 9 silver and 3 bronze.

The swimming victories were spectacular. The United States has now won all 12 of the finals contested, and in 10 of these scored one-two-three sweeps.

Fifteen-year-old Chris von Saltza of Saratoga, Calif., picked up her second gold medal on the way to what she hopes will be five when she won the 100-meter freestyle finals in 1:03.8, a Games record.

Mrs. Laura Myers Pope of Los Angeles won the platform diving crown, also for a second gold medal.

Becky Collins, 15, of Indianapolis, edged Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., in 1:09.5, which is under the listed world record time of 1:09.6, but slower than Miss Ramey's 1:09.1 made in a heat.

Dave Gillanders of Royal Oak, Mich., won the 200-meter butterfly finals in 2:18, and Alan Somers of Indianapolis took the 1,500—meter free style in 17:53.2—both Games records.

In yachting, the United States won the Flying Dutchman and 5.5 meter classes.

Unexpected medals were showered down in shooting when the committee decided to bestow gold, silver, and bronze medals for the three positions in Thursday's small bore rifle competition—as well as medals for individual and team.

As a result, James Carter of Columbus, Ga., was given firsts in the kneeling and standing positions. Gerald Ouelette of Canada received first prize for the prone position.

At the same time, the appeals committee of shooting called for a shoot-off in Wednesday's center-fire pistol event where the gold medal originally went to Aubrey E. Smith of Columbus, Ga. Oscar H. Cervo of Argentina protested, claiming his score equaled Smith's 569, and the two were directed to shoot it off.

In rowing, the United States qualified five of its shells for Sunday's finals, Argentina placed three, and Uruguay and Canada one apiece.

The defeated boats will have a second chance in what are known as repechages Saturday.

Arentina clinched at least a tie for the soccer title by beating Cuba 5-0. Since Argentina has scored 19 goals and its defense allowed only three, the championship is virtually a certainty.

The United States and Mexico played to a 5-5 tie in baseball at Wrigley Field and the game was called in the eighth because of darkness.

The game, for a playoff berth in the Pan-Am championship round, will be replayed Saturday. Wrigley Field has no lights.

DODGERS' DRYSDALE

Hurler Threatens To Sue Ump, NL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Friday's installment of "Don Drysdale faces life" might easily end with these questions:

Will Drysdale—the Dodgers' big side-armer—be fined for hitting the St. Louis Cardinals' Joe Cunningham on the arm with a pitched ball?

If he's fined, will Drysdale, as he threatens, sue t h e National h thratens, sue the National League and Umpire Stan Landes?

The imbroglio erupted in the third inning when Drysdale's inside pitch severely bruised Cunningham's right forearm. The Cards went on to blast Drysdale out of the box and win the game, 5-3, dropping Los Angeles 2½ games back of first-place San Francisco.

Hemus raced onto the Coliseum field after home plate Umpire Landes went to the box to discuss the pitch with Drysdale. Hemus was hopping mad Thursday night —and he still was Friday. In San Francisco, he said:

"Cunningham was hitting well. He hit a home run. And next time he (Drysdale) just hit him."

The only matter of some agreement in the dispute came over the brandished Hemus fist, which some observers thought was (theoretically) menacing Drysdale. (Drysdale is 6-6, 220 pounds; Hemus 5-9, 175.)

"He's too small," said Drysdale. He said he thought Hemus cocked his arm while walking toward the umpire. Hemus said, "I could see Drysdale over the rest of the players"—two of whom he said were between them.

Landes also talked to the Cards' winning pitcher, Bob Miller, after Wally Moon jumped out of the way of one of Miller's pitches when the Dodgers came to bat in the third. If his talks with the pitchers constitute "official warnings," each will be fined $50.

Landes said it was up to the National League office. In Chicago, National League President Warren Giles said he'd have to wait until Landes' report gets to him to decide about the matter.

Drysdale was fined $50 after he was warned for hitting Willie Mays at San Francisco May 8. He also got some publicity recently when he accused an unnamed party in his own dougout for "second guessing him." He's now on a losing streak (15-11), and some teammates say it hasn't improved his temper.

Friday Hemus found that Cunningham—batting .350, second best in the league—may be lost in the Cards' series with the Giants. It didn't help Hemus' temper, either.

Phillies Deal Pirate Hopes Crucial Blow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The last-place Philadelphia Phillies dealt the fading pennant hopes of Pittsburgh another crucial blow Friday night, capitalizing on shortstop Dick Groat's error for a 3-0 victory over the Pirates.

The tired-looking Pirates, still shaky from a double loss to Cincinnati Wednesday night, were checked by right - hander Jim Owens on six hits. It was Owens' first major league shout, fourth triumph in his last six starts and brought his record to 11-11.

Three of the Pirates' hits were by Don Hoak.

It was a tight pitching duel between Owens and left-hander Harvey Haddix (11-10) until the sixth when Groat bobbled leadoff batter Richie Ashburn's grounder.

The Phillies chased reliever Roy Face, who was making his 52nd appearance this year, in the eighth after he gave up a run on Bouchee's single, a walk to Post and Harry Anderson's single.

Four Frosh Move Up At Southwestern

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — Four freshmen with outstanding high school grid records were graduated with ease late this week into the Southwestern Louisiana Institute varsity squad.

They are: two-time All-State halfback, Dave Cavalier of Morgan City; Johnny Bernard, Cathedral of Lafayette's most valuable player of 1958, a guard; Howard McCann, outstanding guard on last year's LaGrange High team of Lake Charles; and Lawson King, former star halfback of Jacksonville, Florida.

Head football coach, Jim "Red" Hoggatt, said a little more time will be reqired to evaluate the other freshmen. Three or four additional freshmen are expected to be graded up to the varsity squad within the next few days, Hoggatt said.

Two-a-day workouts this week have been devoted to basic fundamentals, conditioning exercises, and separate sessions to evaluate the freshmen.

"As a whole, the boys didn't show up in quite the condition I had hoped for," Hoggatt revealed. "However, I think we'll have them in good shape shortly."

After the culling out and evaluating process is completed, the SLI Bulldogs will get down to business for their opening game on September 18 against Southeastern in Hammond.

No Looking Back Now

All-America halfback Billy Cannon (far left) and his running mates in the Louisiana State backfield glance over their shoulders, but they're not looking back to last season when they won the national championship. With Cannon are quarterback Warren Rabb (12), halfback Johnny Robinson (34) and fullback Merle Schexnaildre (43). (AP Wirephoto)

WHO'LL REPLACE DAVIS?

Bengals Have One Kick--- They Don't Have Kicker

By JACK OWENS

There aren't many shortcomings among the 31 lettermen LSU has returning from last year's squad that swept through unbeaten and capped the year with a 7-0 victory over Clemson in the Sugar Bowl.

All-America Billy Cannon is back to torment the opposition with his blinding speed and power running. All Southeastern Conference quarterback Warren Rabb—the guy who makes LSU go, says Dietzel—also returns and Max Fugler, who narrowly missed making the All - America first team—will again anchor the forward wall.

So what's the trouble? A trio like this, plus 28 seasoned lettermen who know the taste of a national championship would start any coach's season off right. But there is a dark cloud on Dietzel's horizon.

"We lost one of the finest punters in the nation in Tommy Davis," Dietzel said. Davis is now playing in the National Football League. "You don't replace a guy like Davis easily."

Cannon, LSU's jack-of-many-trades, might be the heir apparent to the kicking game. As a sophomore in 1957, Cannon averaged 37.1 yards per kick but his toe got rusty last season with Davis handling all the fourth down chores.

"Cannon could be a great kicker," Dietzel mused, "but we'll just have to see how it develops as the season wears on."

The Tigers' may have a tough schedule with Rice, Texas Christian and Baylor the first three teams on tap, then Miami and six Southeastern Conference opponents. But LSU looks like it could go all the way.

The 6-1, 190-pound Rabb completed 45 of 90 passes last year to give the Tigers a highly effective air arm to go with their powerful running game. Among his 45 completions were eight for touchdowns and his running in spots prompted Dietzel to term him "a real clutch ball player."

Max Fugler, an aggressive 210-pound center, anchors the LSU line. Fugler's play, particularly in the vital game with then unbeaten Mississippi last year, earned him a spot on the AP All-America second team and he's a top candidate for first line All-America this year.

In tackle Charles "Bo" Strange and end Mickey Mangham the Tigers have two other worthies who can make life miserable for the opposition. The natural conclusion is that Dietzel has little to worry about in the line, although he must find a replacement for the graduated guard Larry Kahlden.

Merle Schexnaidre and Donnie Daye will battle for the starting fullback post vacated by J. W. Brodnax in a situation that is Dietzel's only cause for concern in the backfield.

LSU may have a real find in halfback Wendall Harris who was only short of sensational at Baton Rouge High School. Dietzel was reluctant to call the 185-pound sophomore another Cannon and declined to compare him with the LSU All-America. But Dietzel conceded that LSU expects great things from Harris.

Dietzel isn't pessimistic, although he isn't predicting anything like last season's performance.

"We'll play them one at a time," he said. "Remember, everyone on our schedule is taking dead aim on us. But it's awful nice to be there at the top."

Goetz Shoots 65 To Lead Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Blunt-talking young Bobby Goetz of Tulsa, Okla., mixed sharp putting with a good iron game for a 7-under-par 65 and the first round lead n the $20,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament Friday.

Goetz, who graduated from Oklahoma State University last year, used 20-foot putts to put him in good shape the only times he was in trouble, on the 13th and 18th holes. A lag putt fell for a birdie on the 13th and he holed an uphill stroke on the 18th. He didn't miss a green, and was a turn of the ball short of an eagle on the par five 11th.

A stroke behind Goetz were Jerry Pittman, a 22-year-old ex-Southern Methodist University shooter from Tulsa who has not made a dime in his three tournaments since turning professional and Mason Rudolph, a promising newcomer from Clarksville, Tenn.

Fifty of the 125 starters were par or better.

There were six players with 68s and seven with 69s. The latter category included Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., Johnny Potts, Shreveport, La. and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.

Don Essig III of Indianapolis, Ind., the low qualifier here last week for the upcoming U.S. Amateur tournament was in the 70 group.

Pappas, 20, a right-hander, struck out seven and walked just one for a 14-7 record and his fourth shutout. Yogi Berra and Elston Howard each had two of the Yankee hits.

The Birds beat right-hander Ralph Terry (4-11) with two runs in the first inning on singles by Billy Klaus, Barry Shetrone, Gene Woodling and Bob Boyd, who had three of their eight hits. Two singles, an error and Joe Ginsberg's sacrifice fly got the other run home in the fourth.

Holy Cross Rated Favorite In N.O. Catholic District

By N. CHARLES WICKER
Sports Writer,
New Orleans Times-Picayune
Written for The Associated Press

Defending champion Jesuit, De La Salle, St. Aloysius and Redemptorist all figure close behind and any one of them could take it all should the Tigers stumble along the way.

John Kalbacher, starting his second year as head coach is going to have a pretty good first eleven, but his big problem is going to be replacement. The Bengals have 18 returning letter and nine returning squadmen from last year.

Passing, the Bengals will be on a par with last year's team. Speed in the backfield and the line should be better than in '58.

Backfield lettermen are headed by Harry Nunes, halfback, William Johnston, who will be at quarterback, George Cortez, halfback and Kenneth Rappold, fullback. Other backs include Floyd Hinderland, Hebert Monie, and Drew Vitter.

This year the Christian Brothers school will be guided by a new coach. William V. (Buck) Seeber. A newcomer to the head coaching rank at De La Salle, Seeber is no Stranger to Louisiana prep football. He served 10 years at Terrebonne High at Houma. Prior to moving to Houma Seeber, served as head coach at Fortier—where he gave that school its first championship, Nicholls and was assistant at Warren Easton under Johnny Brechtel and at Holy Cross.

Seeber will concentrate on an offensive and defensive unit. Not knowing who lettered or who didn't—the new Cavalier mentor started from scratch.

Heading the De La Salle line unit will be the Richard brothers, Dennis at center and Jimmy at guard. Walter Johnson, will be the other guard. John Staples, and Pierre Callens will play at the tackle slots. Bobby Ernst and Chuck Antonini will hold down the terminals posts.

In the backfield Jimmy Hu'' at quarter, Tonny Heffner, and Phil Hug at halves and Bob Gracey at full will form the offensive unit. Lloyd Fourroux will likewise see lots of action.

Hit hard by graduation, Ken Tarzetti still has sensation sophomore Pat Screen around. Besides Screen in the backfield the Jays have Chuck Staub and Kenny Martin, at fullback. Kenny Marr or Dennis Pilney will fill the other backfield berth.

Offensively St. Aloysius will be paced by Paul Reinhardt, a lad who starts the season off as the city's best 'T' quarterback. And in the front line the Knights have a tackle in John Federico, a 205 pounder who could be the best in the area.

The weak spot for Andy Douglass will be the guard slots. Right now Gothard Reck and Milt Peterson are running on the first unit, but it would not be surprising to see Bob Belloni moving from the end slot to a guard post.

Aloysius will be strong at ends with Bill Krummel, Claude Poirson and Belloni around. All three are lettermen. Krummell and Poirson lettered last year and Belloni in '57.

Redemptorist coach Joe Galliano always one who gets the most out of the least will have another scrapping team at the Irish Channel school. Co'captains Tubby Doyle, center, and Lenny Legendre fullback will be the key men for the Rams.

Danny Skinner, a lad who did right well last year, and Warren O'Rourke will hold down the halfback jobs and either Lou Saladino, Vincent Spizale or Edgar Monjure will start at quarterback.

Two Starters Are Back At Farmerville

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) —Only two starters from the 1958 team are back as candidates for the 1959 Farmerville High school grid eleven.

Thirty-four hopefuls reported for fall work. This included 12 seniors, eight juniors, and 14 sophomores.

The Farmers will be short on experience and weight. The largest boy on the squad weighs in at 167 pounds. The line will average 150 pounds and backfield 149.

There has been no starting lineup named as yet. Several sophomores are pushing the seniors and show a lot of promise of being on the starting eleven.

The first game of the season will be on Sept. 11 when the Farmers play host to the Mangham Dragons.

WILL HE BE BACK?

Lopez Coy About Signing For '60

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Al Lopez be the field manager of the wonderful White Sox next year?

He'd be as welcome as the flowers in May, says White Sox President Bill Veeck. And Lopez says everything is rosy between himself and the front office of the American League leaders.

But the contract which would bind Lopez and the Sox into a 1960 bundle hasn't been discussed yet. Whether it's win, lose or draw for the pennant, Lopez doesn't want to make any commitment yet.

"My attitude," he says, "is to win the pennant first, and then think about 1960."

"Bill asked me about signing a contract on my birthday, Aug. 20, which was a nice gesture," Lopez said Friday.

"I told him then, and my attitude is the same now, that it was nice of him to consider me, but I wasn't in any big hurry to sign. The big thing now is to win the pennant."

It's a logical attitude whether Lopez is horse trading or, as friends say, longing for a year's sabbatical after a dozen successive years as a baseball manager.

Veeck says, "We want him to stay on the job. We're delighted with the job he has done.

"I certainly agree that the first and main thing is to win the pennant. I want to talk to him about next year, at his convenience. I'm perfectly content to wait."

Veeck says he's confident that he can make an offer that will keep Lopez in harness. Lopez currently is working under a one-year contract that expires after the 1959 season.

The White Sox manager, whose team is well ahead of second-place Cleveland in the season's stretch run, has been helmsman in the major leagues the last nine years. He managed in the minors for three years prior to that. His teams have never finished lower than second in the standings. He's won two pennants, the last one for Cleveland in 1954.

Spahn Wins 18th As Reds Fall, 4-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wily Warren Spahn won his 18th game Friday night, keeping Milwaukee's pennant hopes alive with a three-hit 4-1 triumph over Cincinnati.

The victory enabled the third-place Braves, with 21 games to play to move within four games of league-leading San Francisco.

It was the eighth Milwaukee triumph over the Reds in 17 decisions this year. But for Spahn, who has a lifetime mark of 52 victories over Cincinnati in 71 decisions, it was the first victory at Crosley Field this season.

An unearned run in the first inning was the Reds' only score.

The pitching of Cincinnati's Bob Purkey was chopped up in the sixth inning and he was chased in the eighth after Ed Mathews singled and Hank Aaron doubled. It was Purkey's sixth straight defeat.

Orlando Pena came on for the Reds in the ninth and Del Crandall greeted him with a double. Pena got two out, but then Aaron doubled in Crandall and Mathews, who had walked.

The Redlegs' unearned run came with one out when Joe Adcock muffed Vada Pinson's fly to center for a two-base error, and Pinson scored on Gus Bell's single.

The Braves climbed on Purkey for their first two runs in the sixth. Bobby Avila walked, reached second on a sacrifice, and was forced to remain there when Spahn beat out an infield hit.

Avila was cut down at the plate after Bill Bruton singled, but Mathews scored Spahn and Aaron scored Bruton with singles.

SEASON BEGINS AT NOON

Dove Hunters To Open Fire Today

Northeast Louisiana dove hunters are expected to swarm onto area farms and fields in record numbers tomorrow as the 1959 Louisiana dove season officially booms to a 12 noon opening.

The season will continue for 15 consecutive days through September 20, with a bag limit of 10 and possession limit of 20 in effect.

District biologists predict a banner opening day with large concentrations of doves sighted over the entire northern portion of the state during the past weeks.

According to biologist Joe Herring, best shooting will probably be found in cut overgrain and corn fields of Morehouse and East Carroll Parishes, with Caldwell and Ouachita also holding sizeable numbers of birds.

Herring said that a brief cold snap during the past two days has driven many native birds south and west, but "there are plenty of doves left in the area for excellent shooting."

With a record turnout of hunters expected, area farm and wildlife officials made a plea for cooperation between the hunter and the farmer.

In prepared cards for distribution to local hunters, the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau, Cattlemen's Association, and Wildlife Unit listed six basic outdoor courtesies for the preservation of farmer - hunter relations:

1. When carrying firearms on cultivated farm land, fenced land, or marked land (white bands on trees), ask permission from the landowner.
2. Do not discharge firearms within 300 yards of a dwelling.
3. Beware of starting any kind of fire.
4. Keep gun unloaded until you reach the actual hunting area.
5. Know exactly what you are shooting at at all times.
6. Observe bag limits.

Group officials also stressed safety, advising all hunters to observe basic safety rules in the field for a safe and sane season.

After the 20th, doves will have a breather until November 26 when the second half of the split season begins continuing through January 5.

Ferriday Cops Grid Jamboree With 2 Wins

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Ferriday sacked up two victories and battled to a tie in a third contest to win the annual Ferriday Grid Jamboree here last night.

The hosts knocked off Block of Jonesville, 6-0, stopped Vidalia, 7-0, and played Waterproof to a 0-0 deadlock. Jonesville nudged Vidalia, 7-6, in the other game that went to a decision.

Quarterbacks Ray McCullom passed 50 yards to end Vernon Alford to set up the winning touchdown for Ferriday against Jonesville. Halfback Freddie Marks then went 15 yards and McCullom carried 15 more yards for the score.

Tad Egloss's five - yard buck and Billy Edward's point after touchdown was the winning margin as Jonesville topped Vidalia. J. S. Fairbanks set up the score with a 63 yard sprint.

Freshman back Dennis Jones scored from 11 yards and ran the extra point to give Ferriday the decision over Vidalia. The lone scoring run was set up by Paul Beeze's 21-yard dash.

NATIONAL OPENER

Olmedo Crushes Last-Minute Sub

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Top-seeded Alex (The Chief) Olmedo fidgeted through nearly an hour's delay and then breezed to an impatient 43-minute victory Friday in the opening round of the National Tennis Championships.

The University of Southern California student from Peru, seeking to add the U.S. title to his Australian and Wimbledon crowns, eliminated a last minute substitute, Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-1, to lead a dull and uninterrupted procession of international favorites, who advanced before a mere handful of spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Winners included Olmedo's chief threat in the lower half of the draw, Rod Laver of Australia: comebacker Dick Savitt of New York and such world tennis tourists as Mexico's Antonio Palafox, England's Tony Pickard, Spain's Manuel Santana and Guatemala's Adolfo Gomez.

The lone favorite in the men's division to experience trouble was Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper and seeded No. 8, who had a brief scare before subduing John Skogstad of Coral Gables, Fla., 12-10, 6-1, 6-1.

Skogstad, 19-year-old University of Miami student, had eight set points on Emerson in the opening set but couldn't put across the decider. The Floridian discouraged, saw his resistance crumble.

The top - seeded Wimbledon champion, Maria Bueno of Brazil, and second-seeded Sandra Reynolds of South Africa were idle. They play Saturday.

Olmedo was supposed to take the stadium center-court right after Miss Truman had won 6-4, 6-3 over Mrs. Dorothy Cheney, 41-year-old housewife from Santa Monica, Calif., who as Dorothy Bundy played topflight tennis before the war.

There was a long, embarrassed wait. An effort was made to move up the third match, but the players were having lunch. Finally it was discovered that Russell wasn't around at all but probably was back in Edinburgh, Texas, where he attends Pan-American College.

Rain Forces Team Inside At Northeast

Rain kept Northeast's gridders inside yesterday afternoon and head coach Jack Rowan put his charges through a skull practice and pondered a couple of position switches as the Indians concluded their fourth day of football drills.

The Tribe has six quarterbacks, including Klaric, in camp and the 190-pound Hecker, a promising hurdler in track, is considered more than swift enough to work at half.

A new halfback arrived yesterday, freshman Carl Koerner, who scored 16 touchdowns for Cumerland, Maryland, last year. He'll work out today for the first time.

Letterman end Robert Earle is still being held out of heavy contact work because of a cut hand suffered Tuesday. Transfer halfback Joe Thrialkill has a pulled muscle, letterman fullback Smokey Stover has a charley horse and transfer tackle Delmas Thorne is temporarily hobbled with a bruised knee.

Mossi Bats, Hurls Tigers To 9-2 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Don Mossi, who shut out the Kansas City Athletics on three hits in his last start, beat the A's Friday 9-2 with a nifty six-hitter and chipped in with three hits in Detroit's 14-hit attack.

Mossi belted two doubles and a single in four trips, helping himself to his 13th victory against nine setbacks.

Eddie Yost led off the game for Detroit with his 18th home run and his fifth in a lead-off roll at Briggs Stadium this season. The Tigers added two more in the first inning against starter Bud Daley.

They sent 11 men to the plate in the seventh inning and scored six times against ex-teammate John Tsitouris. Mossi started the splurge with a double, then added a single on his second trip to the plate in that inning.

MAGIC NUMBER NOW 16

White Sox Sweep To Fifth In Row Over Indians, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)— The Chicago White Sox made it five in a row over Cleveland Friday night, beating the second-place Indians 3-2 and taking a 6½-game lead in the American League race in the opener of a three-game series.

Four singles in the second inning accounted for two runs. The clincher came in the eighth on a pair of singles sandwiched around an error.

It was Chicago's 31st victory by a single run in 40 one-run games and their 14th victory in 19 contests with Cleveland.

Early Wynn, posting his 18th victory against nine defeats, needed all the help he could get from Chicago's iron defense to become the winningest pitcher in the league.

Cleveland went into the eighth trailing 2-1. After two were out, Minoso doubled to right center. Tito Francona then lined a single to left but the speedy Minoso was thrown out at the plate by Al Smith.

Another Cleveland threat was wiped out in the fifth inning when the Tribe scored its only run on Jim Baxes' 15th homer, a tremendous shot into the upper deck. Ed Fitz Gerald followed Baxes' drive by drawing a walk and pitcher Jim Perry singled to center.

The Vice President, at Griffith Stadium for the seventh time this year, saw the Senators win for the sixth time.

Clevenger singled to touch off a three-run rally in the fifth inning that clinched the ball game. Red Sox starter Frank Sullivan gave up a double to Lennie Green and single by Jim Lemon that accounted for two runs. Reliever Jerry Casale walked Bob Allison with the bases loaded to force in the third run of the inning.

The Red Sox touched Clevenger for two runs in the second inning, their biggest outburst. Frank Malzone singled home the first run and Sammy White's sacrifice fly brought in the other.

Clevenger after striking out eight and walking three, had to withdraw in the ninth inning because of blistered fingers. Hyde completed the victory retiring three Red Sox.

Spahn Wins 18th As Reds Fall, 4-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wily Warren Spahn won his 18th game Friday night, keeping Milwaukee's pennant hopes alive with a three-hit 4-1 triumph over Cincinnati.

The victory enabled the third-place Braves, with 21 games to play to move within four games of league-leading San Francisco.

It was the eighth Milwaukee triumph over the Reds in 17 decisions this year. But for Spahn, who has a lifetime mark of 52 victories over Cincinnati in 71 decisions, it was the first victory at Crosley Field this season.

An unearned run in the first inning was the Reds' only score.

The pitching of Cincinnati's Bob Purkey was chopped up in the sixth inning and he was chased in the eighth after Ed Mathews singled and Hank Aaron doubled. It was Purkey's sixth straight defeat.

Orlando Pena came on for the Reds in the ninth and Del Crandall greeted him with a double. Pena got two out, but then Aaron doubled in Crandall and Mathews, who had walked.

The Redlegs' unearned run came with one out when Joe Adcock muffed Vada Pinson's fly to center for a two-base error, and Pinson scored on Gus Bell's single.

The Braves climbed on Purkey for their first two runs in the sixth. Bobby Avila walked, reached second on a sacrifice, and was forced to remain there when Spahn beat out an infield hit.

Mossi Bats, Hurls Tigers To 9-2 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Don Mossi, who shut out the Kansas City Athletics on three hits in his last start, beat the A's Friday 9-2 with a nifty six-hitter and chipped in with three hits in Detroit's 14-hit attack.

Mossi belted two doubles and a single in four trips, helping himself to his 13th victory against nine setbacks.

Eddie Yost led off the game for Detroit with his 18th home run and his fifth in a lead-off roll at Briggs Stadium this season. The Tigers added two more in the first inning against starter Bud Daley.

They sent 11 men to the plate in the seventh inning and scored six times against ex-teammate John Tsitouris. Mossi started the splurge with a double, then added a single on his second trip to the plate in that inning.

MAGIC NUMBER NOW 16

White Sox Sweep To Fifth In Row Over Indians, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)— The Chicago White Sox made it five in a row over Cleveland Friday night, beating the second-place Indians 3-2 and taking a 6½-game lead in the American League race in the opener of a three-game series.

Four singles in the second inning accounted for two runs. The clincher came in the eighth on a pair of singles sandwiched around an error.

It was Chicago's 31st victory by a single run in 40 one-run games and their 14th victory in 19 contests with Cleveland.

Early Wynn, posting his 18th victory against nine defeats, needed all the help he could get from Chicago's iron defense to become the winningest pitcher in the league.

Cleveland went into the eighth trailing 2-1. After two were out, Minoso doubled to right center. Tito Francona then lined a single to left but the speedy Minoso was thrown out at the plate by Al Smith.

Another Cleveland threat was wiped out in the fifth inning when the Tribe scored its only run on Jim Baxes' 15th homer, a tremendous shot into the upper deck. Ed Fitz Gerald followed Baxes' drive by drawing a walk and pitcher Jim Perry singled to center.

GOOD LUCK CHARM

Nixon Sees Nats Tip Red Sox, 4-3

Tex Clevenger and Dick Hyde pitched a winning eight-hitter.

The Vice President, at Griffith Stadium for the seventh time this year, saw the Senators win for the sixth time.

Clevenger singled to touch off a three-run rally in the fifth inning that clinched the ball game. Red Sox starter Frank Sullivan gave up a double to Lennie Green and single by Jim Lemon that accounted for two runs. Reliever Jerry Casale walked Bob Allison with the bases loaded to force in the third run of the inning.

The Red Sox touched Clevenger for two runs in the second inning, their biggest outburst. Frank Malzone singled home the first run and Sammy White's sacrifice fly brought in the other.

Clevenger after striking out eight and walking three, had to withdraw in the ninth inning because of blistered fingers. Hyde completed the victory retiring three Red Sox.

Texarkana Moves Past Crossett, 13-7

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Texarkana spotted Crossett a touchdown in the second period and then rebounded for a 13 - 7 victory here last night.

The victors marched 53 yards in 10 plays for the deciding marker in the third quarter with Mike Edwards plunging over from two yards for the touchdown.

Robert Taunton, the game's leading ground gainer with 126 yards, put Crossett into an early lead with a 54-yard scoring run in the second period. Don Switzer kicked the point.

With 51 seconds left in the half quarterback David Potter pitched to Charles Jacob for a scoring play covering 60 yards to tie the game. Jacob followed with the extra point.

Crossett drove to the Texarkana 20 yard line in the last period but the defense held.

SEASON BEGINS AT NOON

Dove Hunters To Open Fire Today

Northeast Louisiana dove hunters are expected to swarm onto area farms and fields in record numbers tomorrow as the 1959 Louisiana dove season officially booms to a 12 noon opening.

The season will continue for 15 consecutive days through September 20, with a bag limit of 10 and possession limit of 20 in effect.

District biologists predict a banner opening day with large concentrations of doves sighted over the entire northern portion of the state during the past weeks.

According to biologist Joe Herring, best shooting will probably be found in cut overgrain and corn fields of Morehouse and East Carroll Parishes, with Caldwell and Ouachita also holding sizeable numbers of birds.

Herring said that a brief cold snap during the past two days has driven many native birds south and west, but "there are plenty of doves left in the area for excellent shooting."

With a record turnout of hunters expected, area farm and wildlife officials made a plea for cooperation between the hunter and the farmer.

In prepared cards for distribution to local hunters, the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau, Cattlemen's Association, and Wildlife Unit listed six basic outdoor courtesies for the preservation of farmer - hunter relations:

1. When carrying firearms on cultivated farm land, fenced land, or marked land (white bands on trees), ask permission from the landowner.
2. Do not discharge firearms within 300 yards of a dwelling.
3. Beware of starting any kind of fire.
4. Keep gun unloaded until you reach the actual hunting area.
5. Know exactly what you are shooting at at all times.
6. Observe bag limits.

Group officials also stressed safety, advising all hunters to observe basic safety rules in the field for a safe and sane season.

After the 20th, doves will have a breather until November 26 when the second half of the split season begins continuing through January 5.

Ferriday Cops Grid Jamboree With 2 Wins

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Ferriday sacked up two victories and battled to a tie in a third contest to win the annual Ferriday Grid Jamboree here last night.

The hosts knocked off Block of Jonesville, 6-0, stopped Vidalia, 7-0, and played Waterproof to a 0-0 deadlock. Jonesville nudged Vidalia, 7-6, in the other game that went to a decision.

Quarterbacks Ray McCullom passed 50 yards to end Vernon Alford to set up the winning touchdown for Ferriday against Jonesville. Halfback Freddie Marks then went 15 yards and McCullom carried 15 more yards for the score.

Tad Egloss's five - yard buck and Billy Edward's point after touchdown was the winning margin as Jonesville topped Vidalia. J. S. Fairbanks set up the score with a 63 yard sprint.

Freshman back Dennis Jones scored from 11 yards and ran the extra point to give Ferriday the decision over Vidalia. The lone scoring run was set up by Paul Beeze's 21-yard dash.

NATIONAL OPENER

Olmedo Crushes Last-Minute Sub

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Top-seeded Alex (The Chief) Olmedo fidgeted through nearly an hour's delay and then breezed to an impatient 48-minute victory Friday in the opening round of the National Tennis Championships.

The University of Southern California student from Peru, seeking to add the U.S. title to his Australian and Wimbledon crowns, eliminated a last minute substitute, Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-1, to lead a a dull and uninterrupted procession of international favorites, who advanced before a mere handful of spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Winners included Olmedo's chief threat in the lower half of the draw, Rod Laver of Australia; comebacker Dick Savitt of New York and such world tennis tourists as Mexico's Antonio Palafox, England's Tony Pickard, Spain's Manuel Santana and Guatemala's Adolfo Gomez.

The lone favorite in the men's division to experience trouble was Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper and seeded No. 8, who had a brief scare before subduing John Skogstad of Coral Gables, Fla., 12-10, 6-1, 6-1.

Skogstad, 19-year-old University of Miami student, had eight set points on Emerson in the opening set but couldn't put across the decider. The Floridian discouraged, saw his resistance crumble.

The top - seeded Wimbledon champion, Maria Bueno of Brazil, and second-seeded Sandra Reynolds of South Africa were idle. They play Saturday.

Olmedo was supposed to take the stadium center-court right after Miss Truman had won 6-4, 6-3 over Mrs. Dorothy Cheney, 41-year-old housewife from Santa Monica, Calif., who as Dorothy Bundy played topflight tennis before the war.

There was a long, embarrassed wait. An effort was made to move up the third match, but the players were having lunch. Finally it was discovered that Russell wasn't around at all but probably was back in Edinburgh, Texas, where he attends Pan-American College.

Rain Forces Team Inside At Northeast

Rain kept Northeast's gridders inside yesterday afternoon and head coach Jack Rowan put his charges through a skull practice and pondered a couple of position switches as the Indians concluded their fourth day of football drills.

The Tribe has six quarterbacks, including Klaric, in camp and the 190-pound Hecker, a promising hurdler in track, is considered more than swift enough to work at half.

A new halfback arrived yesterday, freshman Carl Koerner, who scored 16 touchdowns for Cumerland, Maryland, last year. He'll work out today for the first time.

Letterman end Robert Earle is still being held out of heavy contact work because of a cut hand suffered Tuesday. Transfer halfback Joe Thrialkill has a pulled muscle, letterman fullback Smokey Stover has a charley horse and transfer tackle Delmas Thorne is temporarily hobbled with a bruised knee.

Fall Makeup To Stress Eye Color

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The eyes have it, in the new fall makeup.

Cosmetics manufacturers say that the accent will be on our orbs, with the rest of the face pale except for a touch of clear red lipstick. None of the leading makers is plugging any one "look," like the doe and Oriental eye of recent season. Now, they talk in terms of color and a whole wardrobe of eyeshadow and mascara.

"A few years ago, nothing more than three or four colors was unheard of," said Rolf Warner, general manager of Lilly Dache beauty products. "For fall, we already have 16 shades and will add three or four more.

"I don't know why women all of a sudden are taking to color, unless it's the influence of the French and Italian women. It can't be all due to promotion, because some manufacturers have been promoting eye makeup for 25 years."

BLUE PREDOMINATES

Manufacturers say the predominant colors are in the blue, green and violet range. You can get them in pale or deep tones, depending on your taste. And many of the new shadows have an iridescent or pearly finish.

"The standard black and brown mascara are dying out," said Edward L. Finn, sales manager for Aziza. "A year ago, we were selling muted colors. This fall, they're obvious. I got an order in the other day from a store in Matoon, Ill. No black or brown. They wanted blue - greens and green.

"A woman should plan her eye makeup the same way she plans her wardrobe," said Finn. "If she has hazel eyes, for instance, and is wearing a blue dress. For daytime, she might select 'blue night' (a deep blue) shadow. For evening she would tip her lashes with 'blue royal.'

GHOSTLY LOOK OUT

"But once she has used color, she won't go back to black or brown."

In lipsticks, most manufacturers agree that the ghostly look of those white and very pale shades of summer are through. The bright clear reds take over in most cosmetics lines. But there is some disagreement on how we women should do our eyebrows.

"A heavy brow," decreed Helena Rubinstein.

"Thin brow," said Elizabeth Arden, "and follow the normal line." This latter firm is promoting the look of the Norma Shearer era, painting the lower lip a little heavier than nature made it, and the upper lip in almost a cupid's bow.

Fall Makeup To Stress Eye Color

NEW YORK (UPI)—The eyes have it, in the new fall makeup.

Cosmetics manufacturers say that the accent will be on our eyes, with the rest of the face pale except for a touch of clear red lipstick. None of the leading makers is plugging any one "look," like the doe and Oriental eye of recent season. Now, they talk in terms of color and a whole wardrobe of eyeshadow and mascara.

"A few years ago, nothing more than three or four colors was unheard of," said Rolf Warner, general manager of Lilly Dache beauty products. "For fall, we already have 16 shades and will add three or four more.

"I don't know why women all of a sudden are taking to color, unless it's the influence of the French and Italian women. It can't be all due to promotion, because some manufacturers have been promoting eye makeup for 25 years."

BLUE PREDOMINATES

Manufacturers say the predominant colors are in the blue, green and violet range. You can get them in pale or deep tones, depending on your taste. And many of the new shadows have an iridescent or pearly finish.

"The standard black and brown mascara are dying out," said Edward L. Finn, sales manager for Aziza. "A year ago, we were selling muted colors. This fall, they're obvious. I got an order in the other day from a store in Matoon, Ill. No black or brown. They wanted blue - greens and green.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Convention Accords Customs For Each Sex

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by three teenagers. We were shocked to read in your column that a boy who bleaches his hair is "a jerk."

There are several swell guys in our crowd who streak their hair with ammonia and peroxide, and a couple of fellows have complete bleach jobs. We think it looks darling and can't see what you are yelping about.

Millions of girls bleach their hair and nobody thinks a thing of it. Why is it jerky for a fellow and not a girl? Please print your answer in the paper. A lot of us kids are mad at you.—YOUR ENEMIES

Dear Enemies: If you kids have the notion that anything that's OK for girls is O.K. for boys, we'd better have a long talk. How would you like to see the fellows in earrings and high heels?

Each sex enjoys privileges accorded them by custom and convention. In MY opinion, self-administered streaks, (not to mention complete bleach jobs) on male heads get too close to earrings and high-heels.—YOUR FRIEND—ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm an only child, married just three weeks to a wonderful fellow. We rented a place a few doors down from my folks and are busy getting settled.

Mom and Dad want us to have dinner with them every night, either at our place or theirs. Dad has hung our pictures and mirrors, fixed the cupboards and tightened all the faucets and door knobs. My husband is annoyed because HE wanted to do these things.

I'm torn between loyalty for my parents and love for my husband. My folks live just for me and I'd rather die than hurt their feelings.

He tells me HIS folks leave us alone (true) and mine should too. I see my husband's side but don't you think he's being too possessive. Please tell me what to do, Ann. I'm very unhappy. —YOUNG BRIDE

Dear Bride: You'd better cut those apron strings, Little Girl, or they'll strangle your marriage.

Two evenings a week with your folks is plenty. Your husband's complaints are valid and should not be tossed aside lightly. Moving a few doors down from your folks was a misake. Correct it as soon as possible. With added distance between you and your parents you'll be able to be more independent.

Dear Ann: I'm 21 and a stenographer in a large office building. I've held this job for two years. A certain man who is old enough to be my father works in the same building. I've seen him hundreds of times and he has said a pleasant good morning and nothing more.

Last night after work I was waiting for the bus and it was raining fairly hard. I had a rain coat but no umbrella. This man drove by and asked if I lived north. I said "Yes" and he offered to drive me "before I drowned to death."

He introduced himself but I was flustered and didn't get his name. He took me right home and that was that. My Dad asked who dropped me off and when I couldn't think of the man's name he really blew his top. He says this is the same as a pick-up and I should be ashamed of myself? Is he right?—INDIGNANT

Dear Indignant: I think your dad is off base. The man was not a total stranger. You knew his face and place of employment. Your big mistake was not remembering his name.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS's booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Better To Play Second Fiddle To Baseball

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am planning a church wedding. I am afraid to have my father walk me down the aisle because he is a constant drinker and I don't think he could make it.

He lives at home but hardly anybody speaks to him. I know a bride should have her father give her away, but I don't want to take the chance of having him show up drunk and spoiling my wedding. How do I handle this problem? BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR BRIDE: Alcoholism is a sickness. Your father is sick and his family is certainly not helping him by refusing to speak to him. Perhaps if you told him that you'd be the happiest bride in the world if you could walk proudly down the aisle on his arm, he'd have an incentive to stay sober. Give him that chance — even if you have to have a favorite uncle or cousin standing in readiness as an alternate should your father disappoint you. You'll be doubly blessed for offering to honor your father in God's house.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 22 years old and my husband is 42. Last night he took a radio to bed with him to listen to the baseball game.

We have been married only ten months. I am afraid my marriage is falling apart. Can you tell me what to do? AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: Be glad your "competition" is nine men instead of one woman. Many happily married men like baseball. It doesn't mean your marriage is "falling apart". Don't whine, nag or act hurt. Just stay right in there and pitch.

Nutritious Snacks Can Substitute For Sweets

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Parents discover, for experience that it is easier to allow a child to eat what he wants, than to go to the mat about it. But when they do, the child shows a marked preference for sweet foods and thus satisfying his appetite with those, has no room left for the plainer foods.

All children seem to like candy, soft, carborated drinks, cakes, pie and cookies. These have nutrition of a certain type, but not enough to nourish the body completely. And when they are eaten between meals the appetite suffers.

A visitor brought her three children to dinner and on the way she stopped and bought a large bag of cookies. "You can have just one each," she said. But in the flurry of talk with her hostess she ignored the children who ate their way to the bottom of the sack of cookies.

WEREN'T HUNGRY

At dinner time, not one of them could eat the nice meal prepared with their needs in mind. And each one of them had that day made a visit to the dentist, even the 3-year-old having a number of cavities. As they left his office he said, "Now, remember, no sweets." This was the aftermath of that advice.

We do not need to deny a child sweets as if they were harmful but neither should we give the children their heads. They have no control when temptation is put before them. It is the mothers who have to be on guard.

Mrs. J.M. says she is regarded as a sort of crackpot in her neighborhood because she tries to protect her children's teeth. She writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: Please keep reminding mothers about the relation of sweet foods and drinks to tooth decay.

"Some of the children in our neighborhood feel sorry for my children. This is silly, as they are quite happy with the substitute foods I give them for snacks. At an early age they were told that certain foods were bad for their teeth and they have no desire for them.

"When I took a piece of candy to keep from offending a hostess, my little 3-year-old began to cry. When he could be stopped he said he didn't want his Mommy getting holes in her teeth.

"Through various organizations interested in nutrition we have met parents who have the same ideas as we have, and we have organized picnics and parties at which we enjoy nutritious snacks."

You know your children can get plenty of sweets in natural form and will be the better for them. Just keep on being sensible and knowledgeable about food.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Convention Accords Customs For Each Sex

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by three teenagers. We were shocked to read in your column that a boy who bleaches his hair is "a jerk."

There are several swell guys in our crowd who streak their hair with ammonia and peroxide, and a couple of fellows have complete bleach jobs. We think it looks darling and can't see what you are yelping about.

Millions of girls bleach their hair and nobody thinks a thing of it. Why is it jerky for a fellow and not a girl? Please print your answer in the paper. A lot of us kids are mad at you.—YOUR ENEMIES

Dear Enemies: If you kids have the notion that anything that's OK for girls is O.K. for boys, we'd better have a long talk. How would you like to see the fellows in earrings and high heels?

Each sex enjoys privileges accorded them by custom and convention. In MY opinion, self-administered streaks, (not to mention complete bleach jobs) on male heads get too close to earrings and high-heels. —YOUR FRIEND—ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm an only child, married just three weeks to a wonderful fellow. We rented a place a few doors down from my folks and are busy getting settled.

Mom and Dad want us to have dinner with them every night, either at our place or theirs. Dad has hung our pictures and mirrors, fixed the cupboards and tightened all the faucets and door knobs. My husband is annoyed because HE wanted to do these things.

I'm torn between loyalty for my parents and love for my husband. My folks live just for me and I'd rather die than hurt their feelings.

He tells me HIS folks leave us alone (true) and mine should too. I see my husband's side but don't you think he's being too possessive. Please tell me what to do, Ann. I'm very unhappy. —YOUNG BRIDE

Parade Highlight Of Holiday Here

A parade, composed of local union members, floats and school marching bands will highlight Labor Day, Monday Sept. 7, in the Twin Cities.

City offices in Monroe and West Monroe, schools, libraries, health unit, post offices and businesses will close down for the traditional salute to workers.

Sponsored by the Central Trade and Labor Council, the parade will form at the First Baptist church in West Monroe, and move down Pine Street at 9:30 a.m.

It will pass to Trenton Street, cross the old bridge and continue along DeSiard Street to Five Points.

Jerry Cowart, parade marshal, asked local high schools and marching groups from the country and area towns to participate in the cavalcade.

Several floats are due to add zip to the parade. Locals, including police local 775, fire fighters, printers, barbers, carpenters, bricklayers and paper mill workers will join with many others in the line of march.

Downtown Monroe will take on the appearance of a Sunday morning, with all businesses, public offices and banks "closed down."

All businesses which are members of the Retail Merchants Division of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce will observe the closing, according to David Silverstein, chairman of the Division.

This includes the city engineers' office, utilities commission, offices of commissioner of streets and parks and commissioner of finance and utilities, the mayor's office and the city treasurer and secretary's offices.

The Ouachita Parish Public Library and its branches will be closed from late Saturday afternoon to Tuesday morning.

Schools in the Ouachita Parish School System, Monroe City schools, and parochial schools in Monroe and West Monroe will be closed Monday. They will reopen Tuesday, as the first full-day session of classes begins.

School buses will run Tuesday, and cafeterias will be open.

Offices in the West Monroe city hall will be closed Monday, Police and firemen will be on the job.

The Monroe Postoffice, its Louisville Branch and the West Monroe Post Office will be closed. All mail deliveries will be suspended except for special delivery letters.

The Ouachita Parish Health Unit will be closed for the day.

Hanchey Will Judge Area Art Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — Orville J. Hanchey, head of the art department at Northwestern State College, assisted by Robert Welchans, a new teacher at NSC for the fall semester, will judge the Caldwell Art Festival to be held in Columbia, Saturday, October 17, Miss Willie Mae Seab, co-chairman of the exhibition, has announced.

Hanchey received his M. A. degree in art from Louisiana State University and did graduate work toward a PhD at the University of Chicago and University of Iowa. His teaching experience has been at Northwestern State College, where he is now employed; Louisiana College where he was head of the art department; and Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

ACHIEVEMENT

The Art Festival is sponsored annually by the Caldwell Parish Library. Co-chairmen directing the show are Mrs. O. N. Reynolds of Columbia and Miss Seab, parish librarian.

In addition to the art exhibit a program is held throughout the day. Two featured events this year will be a writing contest to find the best "Tale off the Ouachita," and a performance by the Youth Orchestra off the Monroe City Schools.

Area Man Held On Car Charge; Hearing Is Due

A 21-year-old Jonesboro man was placed in the Ouachita Parish jail yesterday with temporary bond set at $2,000 on charges of driving a stolen car from Amarillo, Tex. to Jonesboro on Sept. 1.

Leon Stevenson Hankins of Cooper Drive, Jonesboro, was brought to Monroe by U. S. Deputy Marshal Russell Jordan. He appeared before U. S. Commissioner Louis Smith yesterday afternoon.

Hankins refused to waive a formal hearing and Smith set temporary bond.

He was remanded to the parish jail in default of bond. Hearing date had not been set yet.

The formal hearing will be held before the U. S. Commissioner, with the U. S. Attorney from Shreveport representing the government and a local attorney appearing in Hankins' behalf.

Smith explained that both the government and Hankins will present evidence. If it appears that there is reasonable cause to believe the crime charged has been committed, Hankins will be held under permanent bond for trial.

If it appears that there is no such reasonable cause, Hankins will be released from custody, the commissioner added.

Bruce In Race For Police Jury

MANGHAM (Special) — I. L. Bruce of Mangham announced his candidacy for the office of Police Jury of Ward 5, Richland Parish.

A native of Sabine Parish, he has resided in the fifth ward of Richland Parish for the past 30 years, and is engaged in farming.

Bruce is married to the former Miss Ruby Boughton of Mangham, and is the father of twin sons, Bill and Jim, both students at Northeast State College.

The candidate is a deacon in the First Baptist Church at Mangham, is a member of the Lions Club, the Masonic Lodge, and a Royal Arch Mason.

In making his formal announcement, Bruce pledged, if elected, to devote his time to the improvements of Ward 5, to cooperate with other elected officials while working for the best interests of his home ward. He promised fair and impartial representation to each citizen of his ward.

LOUIS FELDMANN

Ex-Sergeant Elected New VFW Chief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Marine Sgt. Louis G. Feldmann was elected commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Friday. He immediately pledged the organization would:

1. Fight international communism.
2. Work for the elimination of juvenile delinquency.
3. Do something about the needs of the aging veteran.

Also chosen without opposition were T. C. Connell, Killeen, Tex., senior vice commander; Robert E. Hansen, South St. Paul, Minn., junior vice commander; Robert B. Handy Jr., Kansas City, Mo., quartermaster general; Dr. William E. Moody, Scottsville, Va., surgeon general, and the Rev. Patrick J. Nooney, Carroll, Iowa, national chaplain.

Byron B. Gentry, Pasadena, Calif., was named judge advocate general. His opponent, John F. Choffey of Cleveland, Ohio, withdrew and moved that Gentry's election be made unanimous.

Mrs. James Rhind of Wilmington, Del., stepped up from first vice president to presidency of the VFW ladies auxiliary. She succeeds Belle Myers of Great Bend, Kan.

Feldmann told the VFW's 60th annual convention he will name a special committee to work on the ever-growing problem of hospital beds for aged veterans.

Army Revolt In Argentina Ends Quietly

Secretary of War Elvio Anaya resigned and was succeeded by Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, a close friend of the rebellious army leaders.

Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, ousted army chief, said he was pleased with the results of secret negotiations he had with Frondizi. There was speculation he would take over again as commander in chief.

He said that at "no time was constitutional order affected." The problem was purely a military one, not political, he added.

Four generals and one colonel among 17 officers arrested on Anaya's orders in the wake of Toranzo Montero's ouster, were freed. The remainder are expected to be released soon.

Several commanders of interior army garrisons who were backers of Anaya moved to resign their commissions. They are to be replaced by commanders considered close to Toranzo Montero, thereby bringing about the reshuffle he demanded and which caused his dismissal.

Defense Funds Are Presented To West Monroe

Maj. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft, director of the Louisiana Civil Defense Agency, announced yesterday that a check for $785 in Civil Defense matching funds has been sent to the city of West Monroe.

Mayor J. Allan Norris of West Monroe said the funds are half the cost of the equipment to be used for Civil Defense purposes in times of disaster.

The funds were procured from the Federal Contributions Program through the Louisiana Civil Defense Agency.

Utilities Group Schedules Meet

The Monroe Utilities Commission will hold its regular monthly session at 4 p.m. Wednesday, in the office of French Smith, general manager.

Resolutions approving purchase of boiler feed pumps will be passed, if recommendations on the "best bid" have been received from the office's New York City architects.

The Commission received bids on the pumps in August. They were forwarded to New York for evaluation.

"The lowest bid isn't always the best one. Strings attached to it might raise the cost in the long run," Smith explained.

Probers Set Hearings On Quiz Shows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House influence investigating subcommittee announced Friday it will launch public hearings Oct. 6 in its investigation of charges that some famous television quiz shows were rigged.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said he hoped to complete the hearings within a week by holding all-day sessions.

The witness list was expected to include television network officials and some off the quiz show contestants, who received thousands of dollars in prizes.

Harris also announced that the subcommittee hoped to hear again sometime this fall from Boston textile manufacturer Bernard Goldfine. Harris said no definite date had been set, however.

Goldfine, who pleaded "no defense" to contempt of Congress charges here, will be given a chance to answer the questions he dodged during the subcommittee's original hearings on his tangled financial dealings.

The television quiz shows, which had wide public appeal, were the target of a nine-month investigation by a New York grand jury following charges that they were rigged to insure their popularity.

The grand jury returned a "presentment," or summary of its findings, which was sealed by the court. New York Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer agreed on Aug. 4 to release the presentment and the minutes of the inquiry to the subcommittee.

Harris said the subcommittee hoped to have a complete transcript of the grand jury testimony available at the opening of the October hearings.

Miss Louisiana Pageant-Bound

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —Pearce Bailey, state director of the "Miss Louisiana" pageant, announced yesterday that Miss Louisiana, Mary Mills Hawkins is scheduled to leave Louisiana by plane for the "Miss America" pageant in Atlantic City.

The pageant is scheduled for a September 8 opening.

Street Repairs Progress Noted Along Forsythe

"Excellent progress" on street repair on Forsythe Avenue was noted yesterday by Commissioner of Streets W. D. H. Rodriguez.

He said he regretted the inconvenience to residents of Forsythe, but revealed that "many residents have expressed satisfaction at the progress being made."

"They all seem to understand the problems involved. I very much appreciate their spirit of tolerance and understanding," he added.

Rodriguez mentioned that utilities lines (including electricity, water, telephone and gas lines) are being rearranged on DeSiard Street, to let work begin on widening the street.

"As soon as enough progress is made by the utilities companies in clearing their lines from the right-of-way, the contractor will start work," the commissioner said.

Two contracts were awarded Bentz and Elmore contractors, to widen DeSiard to 40 feet and repave it, from Sixth Street to the Powell Avenue intersection.

Tax Payments Lag In Ashley

CROSSETT (Special) — Tax payments are lagging this year to almost half what they were on September 1st of last year, according to B. A. Courson, tax collector of Ashley County.

Courson stated Wednesday that unless there is a sudden pick-up in payments, the last-minute rush to make the October 1st deadline will cause a jam at his office and long waiting line.

The tax collector suggested that people with statements mail them to his office in Hamburg, where they will be processed at night and the receipts mailed back to the individuals. All payments must be made to the sheriff's office in Hamburg by October 1st, 1959.

Hanchey Will Judge Area Art Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — Orville J. Hanchey, head of the art department at Northwestern State College, assisted by Robert Welchans, a new teacher at NSC for the fall semester, will judge the Caldwell Art Festival to be held in Columbia, Saturday, October 17, Miss Willie Mae Seab, co-chairman of the exhibition, has announced.

Hanchey received his M. A. degree in art from Louisiana State University and did graduate work toward a PhD at the University of Chicago and University of Iowa. His teaching experience has been at Northwestern State College, where he is now employed; Louisiana College where he was head of the art department; and Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

ACHIEVEMENT

The Art Festival is sponsored annually by the Caldwell Parish Library. Co-chairmen directing the show are Mrs. O. N. Reynolds of Columbia and Miss Seab, parish librarian.

LOUIS FELDMANN

Ex-Sergeant Elected New VFW Chief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Marine Sgt. Louis G. Feldmann was elected commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Friday. He immediately pledged the organization would:

1. Fight international communism.
2. Work for the elimination of juvenile delinquency.
3. Do something about the needs of the aging veteran.

Also chosen without opposition were T. C. Connell, Killeen, Tex., senior vice commander; Robert E. Hansen, South St. Paul, Minn., junior vice commander; Robert B. Handy Jr., Kansas City, Mo., quartermaster general; Dr. William E. Moody, Scottsville, Va., surgeon general, and the Rev. Patrick J. Nooney, Carroll, Iowa, national chaplain.

Byron B. Gentry, Pasadena, Calif., was named judge advocate general. His opponent, John F. Choffey of Cleveland, Ohio, withdrew and moved that Gentry's election be made unanimous.

Mrs. James Rhind of Wilmington, Del., stepped up from first vice president to presidency of the VFW ladies auxiliary. She succeeds Belle Myers of Great Bend, Kan.

Feldmann told the VFW's 60th annual convention he will name a special committee to work on the ever-growing problem of hospital beds for aged veterans.

"It's reasoning is unsound," Feldmann said. "They should not make a veteran into a pauper or a thief before he can collect under the bill."

Feldmann urged every veteran to dedicate himself to fighting community blight, and thus get at the roots of juvenile delinquency.

He suggested also that veterans should be conscious of the world's trouble spots and lead the fight against communism which "now is engulfing the world."

Area Man Held On Car Charge; Hearing Is Due

A 21-year-old Jonesboro man was placed in the Ouachita Parish jail yesterday with temporary bond set at $2,000 on charges of driving a stolen car from Amarillo, Tex. to Jonesboro on Sept. 1.

Leon Stevenson Hankins of Cooper Drive, Jonesboro, was brought to Monroe by U. S. Deputy Marshal Russell Jordan. He appeared before U. S. Commissioner Louis Smith yesterday afternoon.

Hankins refused to waive a formal hearing and Smith set temporary bond.

He was remanded to the parish jail in default of bond. Hearing date had not been set yet.

The formal hearing will be held before the U. S. Commissioner, with the U. S. Attorney from Shreveport representing the government and a local attorney appearing in Hankins' behalf.

Smith explained that both the government and Hankins will present evidence. If it appears that there is reasonable cause to believe the crime charged has been committed, Hankins will be held under permanent bond for trial.

If it appears that there is no such reasonable cause, Hankins will be released from custody, the commissioner added.

Army Revolt In Argentina Ends Quietly

Secretary of War Elvio Anaya resigned and was succeeded by Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, a close friend of the rebellious army leaders.

Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, ousted army chief, said he was pleased with the results of secret negotiations he had with Frondizi. There was speculation he would take over again as commander in chief.

Toranzo Montero precipitated the crisis Tuesday by challenging Anaya's order firing him as army boss.

Toranzo Montero refused to disclose details of the settlement, but said he had "pledged obedience to the President of the nation."

"The solution is in his hands. I am very satisfied. The solution is highly satisfactory," he added.

He said that at "no time was constitutional order affected." The problem was purely a military one, not political, he added.

Four generals and one colonel among 17 officers arrested on Anaya's orders in the wake of Toranzo Montero's ouster, were freed. The remainder are expected to be released soon.

Tension that had gripped the nation relaxed as word spread of the settlement.

Several commanders of interior army garrisons who were backers of Anaya moved to resign their commissions. They are to be replaced by commanders considered close to Toranzo Montero, thereby bringing about the reshuffle he demanded and which caused his dismissal.

House Votes Bonds Interest Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Friday passed a bill allowing the Treasury to increase the interest rate on "E" and "H" savings bonds from 3¼ to 3¾ per cent.

The vote was 378-7.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

By its action, the House went along only partly with President Eisenhower's request for legislation in this field.

Eisenhower asked also for lifting of the present 4¼ per cent ceiling in the interest rate on marketable government bonds maturing in five years or longer. He said this should be done so the Treasury can compete against other borrowers for funds in the money market.

The bill itself does not set any interest rate for savings bonds. It merely authorized the government to disregard a present 3¼ per cent ceiling. However, the Treasury has announced it intends —if the bill becomes law—to put in a 3¾ per cent rate effective as of June 1 for the 40 million holders of 50 billion dollars in outstanding bonds.

The bulk of outstanding savings bonds are of the "E" variety — bought at a discount and maturing at a stated period. Hundred-dollar bonds, for example, are bought at $75.

To pay a 3¼ per cent interest rate, these bonds are now paid off at a full value in 8 years, 11 months. By shortening the maturity period to 7 years, 9 months, as planned by the Treasury, the rate will automatically rise to 3¾ per cent because of the shorter holding time.

The series "H" bonds are bought at face value and pay interest semiannually for a stated period.

By improving the rate of return, the Treasury hopes to stem an increasing liquidation of savings bond holdings by the public.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, told the House it was only common fairness to give bond buyers a better interest rate.

"We ought not expect people, no matter how patriotic they are, to put their savings in paper on which they get only 3¼ per cent when they can walk down the street and get 4 per cent in a savings account," he said.

Before the vote on passage, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) moved that the bill be sent back to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to add to it a provision repealing the 4½ per cent interest ceiling on long-term marketable bonds.

The motion was defeated 256-133.

High Court Review Asked In Winn Case

WINNFIELD (Special) — Applications have been filed with the State Supreme Court requesting a review of a district judge's decisions which overruled all defense pleas filed in the Winn Parish voter registration probe here Thursday.

The case itself remains incomplete.

Eighth District Judge Harwell Allen was officially notified Friday that an application filed by Camille Gravel Jr., attorney for the Winn registrar, has been received by the higher court.

It is Allen's decisions delivered in a Winnfield hearing Thursday that Gravel wants the Supreme Court to consider.

DEVELOPED

Gravel's move to the higher court developed in the Thursday hearing after Allen overruled three exceptions and a plea of unconstitutionality entered by Gravell during a court hearing in which Winn's Citizens Councilmen were seeking a court order against registrar Mrs. Mary C. Flournoy.

It is up to the Supreme Court to decide whether it will actually review the application.

There is some belief that it would be in early October before the application would come before the Supreme Court for it to decide whether or not to grant a review.

Should the higher court grant a review, a hearing date will be set. If the review is denied, the case would return to the Winnfield court for further argument.

The exceptions entered by Gravell were an effort to head off a lawsuit aimed at forcing the registrar to mail out eight challenges filed by the Citizens Council Aug. 21.

Gravell had succeeded in this tactic in a duplicate case heard Aug. 21 which involved the registrar and the same eight persons whose right to vote was originally challenged Aug. 13.

But when the Councilmen sought a court order on Aug. 21 to enforce the challenges, Gravell won a dismissal of the suit on a legal technicallity. The lawsuit, which is now in the hands of the Supreme Court followed.

Bell Favors Allowing Gov. Long To Run

A Ouachita Parish representative on the State Democratic Central Committee will vote in favor of allowing Gov. Earl K. Long to run for office this year, when the Committee meets today in Baton Rouge.

C. C. Bell Jr. of West Monroe said yesterday that he will accept the governor's qualification.

But if the action turns out to be illegal, Bell noted that "the courts will throw it out."

State law says that a governor may not directly succeed himself in office, possibly ruling out Long's running for a second consecutive term.

Bell won't be on hand in Baton Rouge today...but said his proxy, Robert C. Ervin, has been instructed to vote for Long's qualification.

The parish's other representative on the Central Committee is Jamar W. Adcock.

A candidate for state senator, Adcock said he will "be guided by how the law is interpreted" in voting on Long's qualification.

Paintings, Shells On Display At Parish Library

The shells, collected from Pacific and Caribbean shores, include abalones, cones, giant clams, angle wings, murex, corals, conch, turbos and helmuts.

Mrs. True Guerriero has placed several objects on exhibition in the case.

A few steps further, in the Louis Locke room, a collection of oil paintings by Mrs. H. M. James is displayed.

Parish librarian, Miss Frances Flanders, said the eye-catching displays will be shown to the public throughout this month.

House Votes Bonds Interest Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Friday passed a bill allowing the Treasury to increase the interest rate on "E" and "H" savings bonds from 3¼ to 3¾ per cent.

The vote was 378-7.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

By its action, the House went along only partly with President Eisenhower's request for legislation in this field.

Eisenhower asked also for lifting of the present 4¼ per cent ceiling in the interest rate on marketable government bonds maturing in five years or longer. He said this should be done so the Treasury can compete against other borrowers for funds in the money market.

The bill itself does not set any interest rate for savings bonds. It merely authorized the government to disregard a present 3¼ per cent ceiling. However, the Treasury has announced it intends—if the bill becomes law—to put in a 3¾ per cent rate effective as of June 1 for the 40 million holders of 50 billion dollars in outstanding bonds.

The bulk of outstanding savings bonds are of the "E" variety — bought at a discount and maturing at a stated period. Hundred-dollar bonds, for example, are bought at $75.

To pay a 3¼ per cent interest rate, these bonds are now paid off at a full value in 8 years, 11 months. By shortening the maturity period to 7 years, 9 months, as planned by the Treasury, the rate will automatically rise to 3¾ per cent because of the shorter holding time.

The series "H" bonds are bought at face value and pay interest semiannually for a stated period.

By improving the rate of return, the Treasury hopes to stem an increasing liquidation of savings bond holdings by the public.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, told the House it was only common fairness to give bond buyers a better interest rate.

"We ought not expect people, no matter how patriotic they are, to put their savings in paper on which they get only 3¼ per cent when they can walk down the street and get 4 per cent in a savings account," he said.

Before the vote on passage, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) moved that the bill be sent back to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to add to it a provision repealing the 4½ per cent interest ceiling on long-term marketable bonds.

The motion was defeated 256-133.

High Court Review Asked In Winn Case

WINNFIELD (Special) — Applications have been filed with the State Supreme Court requesting a review of a district judge's decisions which overruled all defense pleas filed in the Winn Parish voter registration probe here Thursday.

The case itself remains incomplete.

Eighth District Judge Harwell Allen was officially notified Friday that an application filed by Camille Gravel Jr., attorney for the Winn registrar, has been received by the higher court.

It is Allen's decisions delivered in a Winnfield hearing Thursday that Gravel wants the Supreme Court to consider.

DEVELOPED

Gravel's move to the higher court developed in the Thursday hearing after Allen overruled three exceptions and a plea of unconstitutionality entered by Gravell during a court hearing in which Winn's Citizens Councilmen were seeking a court order against registrar Mrs. Mary C. Flournoy.

It is up to the Supreme Court to decide whether it will actually review the application.

There is some belief that it would be in early October before the application would come before the Supreme Court for it to decide whether or not to grant a review.

Should the higher court grant a review, a hearing date will be set. If the review is denied, the case would return to the Winnfield court for further argument.

The exceptions entered by Gravell were an effort to head off a lawsuit aimed at forcing the registrar to mail out eight challenges filed by the Citizens Council Aug. 21.

Gravell had succeeded in this tactic in a duplicate case heard Aug. 21 which involved the registrar and the same eight persons whose right to vote was originally challenged Aug. 13.

But when the Councilmen sought a court order on Aug. 21 to enforce the challenges, Gravell won a dismissal of the suit on a legal technicallity. The lawsuit, which is now in the hands of the Supreme Court followed.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

NEGOTIATIONS STYMIED

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stymied steel negotiations recessed Friday until next Tuesday making the current walkout the longest in the post-war history of the industry.

Federal Mediator Joseph Finnegan said a new strategy will be used when the talks resume in an effort to break the deadlock. He said both union and management will designate 12 separate subcommittees to tackle the problems of local work rules and other local issues which are chiefly responsible for snarling the negotiations.

VETOES HOUSING BILL

President Eisenhower vetoed a second housing bill and the Senate moved at once to try to override. In his veto message the President said the pared down measure still "goes too far." The bill would cost $1,050,000,000 and still contains grant and loan features objected to by the administration.

APPROVES WORKS BILL

The House Appropriations Committee approved a new public works money bill containing all of the 67 projects which prompted the President to veto the first bill. By a vote of 19 to 17, the committee sent to the senate floor a bill which faced the threat of another veto.

PREDICTS PRODUCTION RACE

The auto industry this week squared off for a production race which is expected to outclass the 1959 model boom according to Ward's Automotive Reports. The trade publication said auto production this week is 18 per cent lower than last week but this week's output will consist entirely of 1960 models while last week included some 1959 models.

STRIKE HITS SWIFT

The strike against Swift & Co. one of the nation's biggest meat packers, was not expected to have any deep effect on meat supplies because numerous other packing plants will continue to operate. A scheduled strike against another big packer, Wilson & Co., was postponed another 24 hours in an effort to reach a contract agreement.

PROBLEM INTENSIFIED

Republic Steel Chairman Charles White said the current steel strike has intensified the long-range problem of foreign competition and may result in permanent loss of some domestic markets to foreign producers.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 10 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower Friday.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Rye and soybean futures worked moderately higher today on the Board of Trade but the grain market otherwise drifted into the holiday weekend with prices almost stationary.

Rye led the advances with gains running to 1½ cents on the September contract. Soybeans were up major fractions on a late rally ascribed mainly to short covering.

Transactions generally were slow and limited to evening up commitments. Some export business developed overnight but there was no reaction. Pakistan bought 430,000 bushels of hard wheat and Yugoslavia 350,000.

With a new record corn yield and a bumber crop of soybeans now virtually certain, traders said price factors for those commodities, as well as other grains, will be related primarily to willingness of the growers to sell into commercial channels.

Both corn and soybeans were described as having now passed the critical stages of development and maturing well ahead of normal.

Harvesting of soybeans will be a week or more ahead of normal. However, prospects are that production will be about 35 million bushels under last year.

Wheat closed ¼ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.92⅝; corn ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.18⅝-½; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September new type contract 66¾; rye unchanged to 1½ higher, September $1.32½; soybeans ½-¾ higher, September $2.10⅛.

LIVESTOCK

Prices were steady to 25 cents lower generally but the top price of $14.25 was off 35 cents from Thursday's high as weights under 230 lbs showed the extreme declines.

A spokesman at the yards said the strike against Swift & Co. appeared to have no effect on the market and that the weakness apparently was attributed to the reluctance of local slaughterers to carry more than barest requirements over the Labor Day holiday.

The $14.25 peak, also paid on two days about six weeks ago, equals the minimum top since $14.00 was paid on March 20, 1956. It went for No. 1 and 2 and mixed 1-2 grades weighing 200 - 230 lbs and also for 230-275 lb mixed No. 2 - 3 and 3 grades. These also ranged upward from $14.00. Mixed 1 - 3 grades scaling 190 - 230 lbs moved at $13.60 and up and heavier weights upward from $13.75.

Sows were steady at $10.25-13.75.

Vealers and bulls were steady. The good to choice vealers cleared at $32.00-34.00 and utility to commercial bulls at $21.00-23.50.

The sheep supply was too small for a market test but a few good to choice spring lambs moved at $19.00-22.00, ewes $4.00-5.50.

Steel Strike Negotiations To Continue

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel strike negotiators agreed Friday to enlarge their bargaining teams next week in a new push to end the 52-day-old walkout.

The move raised speculation as to whether a possible break in the stalemate was in the offing. Neither side, however, reported any progress toward a settlement.

The new procedure will include bargaining between the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 major companies individually, in addition to top-level talks between union and industry four-man teams.

The top-level discussions will deal with over-all issues such as wages and benefits. The individual company talks will deal with local problems and situations that also must be ironed out to pave the way for new contracts between the union and the companies.

Under the plan, the union will bring to New York about 450 men who are its bargaining agents with the individual companies.

The 12 companies also will bring in negotiating teams to deal with their union opposite numbers in 12 separate meetings.

Perhaps coincidentally, the new procedure was adopted in the wake of two high-level pronouncements concerning the strike.

Charles M. White, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., said in Cleveland Friday the walkout may result in permanent loss of part of the domestic market to foreign producers — "at the expense of the American steel industry and American steelworkers."

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said Thursday night, also in Cleveland, that the negotiations had reached a critical stage.

He noted that both sides recently took a five-day recess to reassess their positions and said he believed the talks Thursday and Friday would produce "some movement or forward progress toward a settlement."

The industry wants a one-year freeze on improvements in wages and benefits. They contend an increase in labor costs could lead to an inflation-spurring increase in steel prices.

The union has asked a substantial but unspecified wage increase and other benefits. It contends they could be provided out of profits and productivity without a steel price increase. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Fire In Kitchen Fatal For Youth In New Orleans

Dead is Lawrence W. Jorns, a student at Sophie Wright Junior High School, son of Mrs. Rita B. Jorns.

Sixth District Fire Chief Joseph Caupp said young Jorns was alone in the kitchen when the fire broke out. He said firemen found the youth on the kitchen floor upon arrival at the scene. The fire was extinguished almost immediately.

TERMED BIG SUCCESS

U.S. Exhibit Ends In Soviet Capital

MOSCOW (AP)—The U.S. national exhibition in Moscow closed Friday night after a popular and some time controversial summer showing of American wares and ways of living. Among other things, it was the scene of the famous Richard M. Nixon-Nikita Khrushchev kitchen debate.

The Soviet News Agency Tass called the exhibit a success. It reported more than two million persons visited the show during its 43 days. An American official put the attendance at 2,700,000 Soviets.

Closing ceremonies included the lowering of the U.S. and Soviet flags at the exhibit's main entrance in Sokolniki Park, 15 minutes by subway from downtown Moscow.

The Soviet Press had sharply criticized the exhibition in its opening stages and Soviet officials banned some of the books put on display.

Other Soviet critics said the show put too much emphasis on consumer goods and everyday living and not enough on industrial and scientific acomplishments. A cement floor pulverized into dust storms under the trampling of thousands of feet and had to be replaced.

But the criticism died down and kind words began to appear. Tass even expressed the hope this would not be the last such exhibit.

Harold C. McClellan, a San Marino (Calif.) paint company executive who directed the exhibition, said he is happy at what has been accomplished.

"No one at this point can realize the exhibit's impact but the fact that 2,700,000 Russians crowded the area and got their first look at the American people and their accomplishments must have had an important result," he declared.

The exhibition staff expressed hope that this exhibit, the first of its kind, would be followed by others.

After the exhibition closed it was toured by a group of U.S. congressmen who had arrived in Moscow earlier in the day. The exhibit was opened July 24 by Vice President Nixon. It was on opening day that Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev had their running verbal duel—part of it caught on TV sound tape—in the kitchen of the American model home.

Khrushchev paid his fourth visit to the show Thursday. On earlier visits he had expressed praise for some parts of the show and criticized others.

On his last tour, the Soviet leader declared it would have been a better exhibit if U.S. officials had asked him what to display.

Meat Strike Negotiators Hold Talks

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal mediator called union and management negotiators into session Friday in a final effort to keep a strike in the meat industry from spreading.

The strike, against wift & Co., the nation's largest packer, halted operations at the company's plants in 34 cities. Some 17,000 union packinghouse workers struck to enforce demands dor higher wages and other benefits.

A strike against Wilson & Co., another major packer employing 6,500 union members, was set to commence at 12:01 a.m. Friday along with the strike against Swift but a short time later was called off for 24 hours to permit further talks.

Commissioner Douglas D. Brown of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service went into a meeting with representatives of Wilson and the two unions involved, the United Packinghouse Workers of America and the Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen, to try to effect an agreement.

The unions are seeking a new contract with Swift and Wilson patterned after one signed with Armour & Co. Monday that granted increased pay and benefits totaling 22 cents an hour for 14,000 workers.

Late Friday the unions announced signing of an agreement with Oscar Mayer Co. covering 4,500 workers in plants in Madison, Wis., and Davenport, Iowa. The agreement, the unions said, provides at least the same benefits as those in the Armour pact plus some other improvements.

Contract talks with the nation's packers started in July. Only Swift and Wilson, among the major packers, have not reached a settlement with the unions.

Ingrid Bergman Custody Hearing Set For Sept. 9

ROME (AP) — Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini were directed Friday to appear in court Sept. 9 for a hearing in a custody fight for their three children.

It was not known whether Miss Bergman, now the wife of Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt, would come to Rome or be represented here by attorneys.

'World's Fattest Boy' Is Victim Of Heart Attack

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Danny Hope, who billed himself as "the world's fattest boy", had just one ambition — make enough money to buy a small business and settle down.

The 702-pound, 18-year-old Danny traveled about the country in a specially built trailer showing off his 92-inch waistline for whatever donations he could get.

Two weeks ago he was in Little Rock. He talked of going home to Luling, Tex. He missed his mother, his church and the heat on the road bothered him. He had been on the road three months.

"I just want to make enough money to buy a little business and settle down," he said then. "I try to be a good Christian boy but it's awfully hard."

"They all want me back there," he said. "It's hard to decide."

He came here to help promote an auto daredevil show. Pneumonia hit him. He was moved from his trailer to a hospital. There were no beds large enough for him. They made one for him on the floor with mattresses.

But this was the end of Danny's road trip. He died of a heart attack Friday morning just before his mother arrived.

Saving Deposits

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nation's savers put $3,573,000,000 into savings accounts, savings bonds and insurance reserves in the second quarter of the year, substantially less than the $4,828,000,000 stashed away in the like 1958 period. A Federal Home Loan Bank board report listed the mid - 1959 total for these selected types of savings at $288,502,000,000, an increase of about $15 billion since mid-1958.

Stocks Score Gains In Late Trade Spurt

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks moved irregularly in typical pre-holiday fashion until late in the day when a sudden spurt sent the list up as much as 3 and 4 points in some issues.

Volume for the session totaled 2,300,000 shares compared with 2,330,000 on Thursday.

There was little in the news to influence the market and the number of issues traded fell to 1,131 compared with 1,198 on Thursday. Of the total 517 were higher, 405 lower on the day.

American Motors was the chief feature. It was the day's most active issue and one of the best gainers, running up 3 points in the late trading. Chrysler and General Motors improved fractionally while Ford finished unchanged.

Following American Motors in the active list were Standard Oil (N. J.), up ½ point; RCA, off ⅜; Thiokol, up 2¼, and Ford, unchanged.

In steels, U. S. Steel added 1⅞, Lukens 1¼. Alcoa and Reynolds each rose more than 2 in the nonferrous metals and International Nickel gained 1¼.

Chemicals had gains running around a point in Du Pont, Eastman and Union Carbide. American Home Products fell 2½ while Merck gained 1¾ in the drugs.

Rails had gains running to 1½ points in Southern Pacific and utilities were fractionally higher on balance.

Stocks on the American Exchange came back slightly from Thursday's lows in moderate trading Friday.

Some groups such as oils and metals displayed a firming tendency but the list generally was mixed.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

NEGOTIATIONS STYMIED

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stymied steel negotiations recessed Friday until next Tuesday making the current walkout the longest in the post-war history of the industry.

Federal Mediator Joseph Finnegan said a new strategy will be used when the talks resume in an effort to break the deadlock. He said both union and management will designate 12 separate subcommittees to tackle the problems of local work rules and other local issues which are chiefly responsible for snarling the negotiations.

VETOES HOUSING BILL

President Eisenhower vetoed a second housing bill and the Senate moved at once to try to override. In his veto message the President said the pared down measure still "goes too far." The bill would cost $1,050,000,000 and still contains grant and loan features objected to by the administration.

APPROVES WORKS BILL

The House Appropriations Committee approved a new public works money bill containing all of the 67 projects which prompted the President to veto the first bill. By a vote of 19 to 17, the committee sent to the senate floor a bill which faced the threat of another veto.

PREDICTS PRODUCTION RACE

The auto industry this week suared off for a production race which is expected to outclass the 1959 model boom according to Ward's Automotive Reports. The trade publication said auto production this week is 18 per cent lower than last week but this week's output will consist entirely of 1960 models while last week included some 1959 models.

STRIKE HITS SWIFT

The strike against Swift & Co. one of the nation's biggest meat packers, was not expected to have any deep effect on meat supplies because numerous other packing plants will continue to operate. A scheduled strike against another big packer, Wilson & Co., was postponed another 24 hours in an effort to reach a contract agreement.

PROBLEM INTENSIFIED

Republic Steel Chairman Charles White said the current steel strike has intensified the long-range problem of foreign competition and may result in permanent loss of some domestic markets to foreign producers.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 10 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower Friday.

Good demand for spot cotton for immediate shipment, according to reports from the cotton belt, gave nearby trading positions a steady tone.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Rye and soybean futures worked moderately higher today on the Board of Trade but the grain market otherwise drifted into the holiday weekend with prices almost stationary.

Rye led the advances with gains running to 1½ cents on the September contract. Soybeans were up major fractions on a late rally ascribed mainly to short covering.

Transactions generally were slow and limited to evening up commitments. Some export business developed overnight but there was no reaction. Pakistan bought 430,000 bushels of hard wheat and Yugoslavia 350,000.

With a new record corn yield and a bumber crop of soybeans now virtually certain, traders said price factors for those commodities, as well as other grains, will be related primarily to willingness of the growers to sell into commercial channels.

Both corn and soybeans were described as having now passed the critical stages of development and maturing well ahead of normal.

Harvesting of soybeans will be a week or more ahead of normal. However, prospects are that production will be about 35 million bushels under last year.

Wheat closed ¼ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.92⅝; corn ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.18⅜-½; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September new type contract 66¾; rye unchanged to 1½ higher, September $1.32½; soybeans ½ - ¾ higher, September $2.10⅛.

LIVESTOCK

Prices were steady to 25 cents lower generally but the top price of $14.25 was off 35 cents from Thursday's high as weights under 230 lbs showed the extreme declines.

A spokesman at the yards said the strike against Swift & Co. appeared to have no effect on the market and that the weakness apparently was attributed to the reluctance of local slaughterers to carry more than barest requirements over the Labor Day holiday.

The $14.25 peak, also paid on two days about six weeks ago, equals the minimum top since $14.00 was paid on March 20, 1956. It went for No. 1 and 2 and mixed 1-2 grades weighing 200 - 230 lbs and also for 230-275 lb mixed No. 2 - 3 and 3 grades. These also ranged upward from $14.00. Mixed 1 - 3 grades scaling 190 - 230 lbs moved at $13.60 and up and heavier weights upward from $13.75.

Sows were steady at $10.25-13.75.

Scarce choice grade slaughter steers sold at $27.50 and the good to choice at $26.00 - 27.50 with prices steady.

No heifer sales were reported.

Vealers and bulls were steady. The good to choice vealers cleared at $32.00-34.00 and utility to commercial bulls at $21.00-23.50.

The sheep supply was too small for a market test but a few good to choice spring lambs moved at $19.00-22.00, ewes $4.00-5.50.

Steel Strike Negotiations To Continue

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel strike negotiators agreed Friday to enlarge their bargaining teams next week in a new push to end the 52-day-old walkout.

The move raised speculation as to whether a possible break in the stalemate was in the offing. Neither side, however, reported any progress toward a settlement.

The new procedure will include bargaining between the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 major companies individually, in addition to top-level talks between union and industry four-man teams.

The top-level discussions will deal with over-all issues such as wages and benefits. The individual company talks will deal with local problems and situations that also must be ironed out to pave the way for new contracts between the union and the companies.

Under the plan, the union will bring to New York about 450 men who are its bargaining agents with the individual companies.

The 12 companies also will bring in negotiating teams to deal with their union opposite numbers in 12 separate meetings.

Perhaps coincidentally, the new procedure was adopted in the wake of two high-level pronouncements concerning the strike.

Charles M. White, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., said in Cleveland Friday the walkout may result in permanent loss of part of the domestic market to foreign producers — "at the expense of the American steel industry and American steelworkers."

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said Thursday night, also in Cleveland, that the negotiations had reached a critical stage.

He noted that both sides recently took a five-day recess to reassess their positions and said he believed the talks Thursday and Friday would produce "some movement or forward progress toward a settlement."

The industry wants a one-year freeze on improvements in wages and benefits. They contend an increase in labor costs could lead to an inflation-spurring increase in steel prices.

The union has asked a substantial but unspecified wage increase and other benefits. It contends they could be provided out of profits and productivity without a steel price increase. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Fire In Kitchen Fatal For Youth In New Orleans

Sixth District Fire Chief Joseph Caupp said young Jorns was alone in the kitchen when the fire broke out. He said firemen found the youth on the kitchen floor upon arrival at the scene. The fire was extinguished almost immediately.

TERMED BIG SUCCESS

U.S. Exhibit Ends In Soviet Capital

MOSCOW (AP)—The U.S. national exhibition in Moscow closed Friday night after a popular and some time controversial summer showing of American wares and ways of living. Among other things, it was the scene of the famous Richard M. Nixon-Nikita Khrushchev kitchen debate.

The Soviet News Agency Tass called the exhibit a success. It reported more than two million persons visited the show during its 43 days. An American official put the attendance at 2,700,000 Soviets.

Closing ceremonies included the lowering of the U.S. and Soviet flags at the exhibit's main entrance in Sokolniki Park, 15 minutes by subway from downtown Moscow.

The Soviet Press had sharply criticized the exhibition in its opening stages and Soviet officials banned some of the books put on display.

Other Soviet critics said the show put too much emphasis on consumer goods and everyday living and not enough on industrial and scientific acomplishments. A cement floor pulverized into dust storms under the trampling of thousands of feet and had to be replaced.

But the criticism died down and kind words began to appear. Tass even expressed the hope this would not be the last such exhibit.

Harold C. McClellan, a San Marino (Calif.) paint company ex-executive who directed the exhibition, said he is happy at what has been accomplished.

"No one at this point can realize the exhibit's impact but the fact that 2,700,000 Russians crowded the area and got their first look at the American people and their accomplishments must have had an important result," he declared.

They paid special attention to a model of an American earth satellite, cars, radios and electrical equipment.

The exhibition staff expressed hope that this exhibit, the first of its kind, would be followed by others.

After the exhibition closed it was toured by a group of U.S. congressmen who had arrived in Moscow earlier in the day. The exhibit was opened July 24 by Vice President Nixon. It was on opening day that Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev had their running verbal duel—part of it caught on TV sound tape—in the kitchen of the American model home.

Khrushchev paid his fourth visit to the show Thursday. On earlier visits he had expressed praise for some parts of the show and criticized others.

On his last tour, the Soviet leader declared it would have been a better exhibit if U.S. officials had asked him what to display.

Work crews will refurbish the golden aluminum dome, the center of the exhibition, and the glass display pavillion.

They will be turned over to Soviet officials Sept. 15 under an agreement that brought the exhibit here in exchange for the recent Soviet display in New York.

Meat Strike Negotiators Hold Talks

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal mediator called union and management negotiators into session Friday in a final effort to keep a strike in the meat industry from spreading.

The strike, against wift & Co., the nation's largest packer, halted operations at the company's plants in 34 cities. Some 17,000 union packinghouse workers struck to enforce demands dor higher wages and other benefits.

A strike against Wilson & Co., another major packer employing 6,500 union members, was set to commence at 12:01 a.m. Friday along with the strike against Swift but a short time later was called off for 24 hours to permit further talks.

Commissioner Douglas D. Brown of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service went into a meeting with representatives of Wilson and the two unions involved, the United Packinghouse Workers of America and the Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen, to try to effect an agreement.

The unions are seeking a new contract with Swift and Wilson patterned after one signed with Armour & Co. Monday that granted increased pay and benefits totaling 22 cents an hour for 14,000 workers.

Wilson has plants in seven cities.

Late Friday the unions announced signing of an agreement with Oscar Mayer Co. covering 4,500 workers in plants in Madison, Wis., and Davenport, Iowa. The agreement, the unions said, provides at least the same benefits as those in the Armour pact plus some other improvements.

Contract talks with the nation's packers started in July. Only Swift and Wilson, among the major packers, have not reached a settlement with the unions.

Ingrid Bergman Custody Hearing Set For Sept. 9

ROME (AP) — Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini were directed Friday to appear in court Sept. 9 for a hearing in a custody fight for their three children.

'World's Fattest Boy' Is Victim Of Heart Attack

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Danny Hope, who billed himself as "the world's fattest boy", had just one ambition — make enough money to buy a small business and settle down.

The 702-pound, 18-year-old Danny traveled about the country in a specially built trailer showing off his 92-inch waistline for whatever donations he could get.

Two weeks ago he was in Little Rock. He talked of going home to Luling, Tex. He missed his mother, his church and the heat on the road bothered him. He had been on the road three months.

"I just want to make enough money to buy a little business and settle down," he said then. "I try to be a good Christian boy but it's awfully hard."

"They all want me back there," he said. "It's hard to decide."

But Danny, who weighed only 9½ pounds at birth but 125 pounds by the time he was 6, stayed on the road.

He came here to help promote an auto daredevil show. Pneumonia hit him. He was moved from his trailer to a hospital. There were no beds large enough for him. They made one for him on the floor with mattresses.

But this was the end of Danny's road trip. He died of a heart attack Friday morning just before his mother arrived.

Saving Deposits

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nation's savers put $3,573,000,000 into savings accounts, savings bonds and insurance reserves in the second quarter of the year, substantially less than the $4,828,000,000 stashed away in the like 1958 period. A Federal Home Loan Bank board report listed the mid - 1959 total for these selected types of savings at $288,502,000,000, an increase of about $15 billion since mid-1958.

Stocks Score Gains In Late Trade Spurt

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks moved irregularly in typical preholiday fashion until late in the day when a sudden spurt sent the list up as much as 3 and 4 points in some issues.

Volume for the session totaled 2,300,000 shares compared with 2,330,000 on Thursday.

The exchange will be closed until Tuesday for the Labor Day holiday—traditionally the end of summer in Wall Street.

There was little in the news to influence the market and the number of issues traded fell to 1,131 compared with 1,198 on Thursday. Of the total 517 were higher, 405 lower on the day.

American Motors was the chief feature. It was the day's most active issue and one of the best gainers, running up 3 points in the late trading. Chrysler and General Motors improved fractionally while Ford finished unchanged.

Following American Motors in the active list were Standard Oil (N. J.), up ½ point; RCA, off ⅜; Thiokol, up 2¼, and Ford, unchanged.

In steels, U. S. Steel added 1⅞, Lukens 1¼. Alcoa and Reynolds each rose more than 2 in the nonferrous metals and International Nickel gained 1¼.

Chemicals had gains running around a point in Du Pont, Eastman and Union Carbide. American Home Products fell 2½ while Merck gained 1¾ in the drugs.

Rails had gains running to 1½ points in Southern Pacific and utilities were fractionally higher on balance.

Stocks on the American Exchange came back slightly from Thursday's lows in moderate trading Friday.

Some groups such as oils and metals displayed a firming tendency but the list generally was mixed.
